Adopt, Adapt, Improve.
Three Good New Year Words.
A Plan for Gandhi.
Lindbergh Has an Estate.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

ADOPT, ADAPT, IMPROVE. Those three words, recommended by the Prince of Wales to his fellow countrymen, might well be ADOPTED, ADAPTED and IMPROVED in this country.

THE young Prince, one of the most useful, hard working citizens of Great Britain, said to British industrialists:

"We British think we are very efficient, and we are at the head of the world in lots of things, but to keep in the van we must be conscious of that very valuable thing—the knowledge that we learn something new every day. To put in three words: We must learn to adopt, to adapt, and to improve."

WE AMERICANS think we are very efficient. In fact, we are absolutely sure of it. But we do not always "adopt, adapt, improve."

For instance, railroad managers of the United States stood looking, doing nothing, while automobiles, omnibuses and trucks took away some of their most profitable business.

They woke up late to that situation, and they are not thoroughly awake yet.

AND to nearby suburban points they drag gigantically heavy "local trains," stopping and starting at every station, wasting money, men, machinery, rails.

They could just as well send out in rapid succession light cars driven by gas engines, each one an express, each going without stop to its own station and no farther. A little ADOPTING, ADAPTING and IMPROVING would arrange that.

THE late President Ripley, of the Santa Fe, brilliant railroad man, chose for his motto three very important words, "ORGANIZE, DEPUTIZE, SUPERVISE."

Three good words. The Prince of Wales' three words are also needed, even in this super-efficient land.

A BIG silver pool in China has been "unloading" heavy stocks of silver metal and silver is cheaper today than it has been in 25 years.

Indo-China may adopt the gold standard, because France wants it. If that should happen and the people of India should put into the metal market, for any reason, the gigantic hoards of silver ornaments and silver metal that the Hindus possess, the price of silver would grieve the shade of W. J. Bryan.

IF GANDHI, apostle of freedom for India, should tell his millions of followers to exchange their silver for gold, he would disturb his British overlords considerably and develop in them a politeness that would amaze him. He can't do it by his plan of reviving the hand loom to compete with British machinery.

ST. LOUIS wants to erect a statue to Lindbergh. It is unnecessary, it is too soon, and who in the country could make it good enough, except MacMonnies, and he, for the time, has given up sculpture.

Lindbergh possesses now a monument sufficient—a picture in every American mind of a youth sitting in a small box, with wings, leaving New York alone, crossing the ocean from New York to Paris.

When you have that kind of monument, you don't need anything of marble or bronze.

A BRITISH judge suggests copying, for English prisons, an experiment made in Germany. Prisoners that work well, behave themselves, show "some desire to become good citizens," will have special privileges.

Their cells will remain lighted until 9:30 p. m., they will share in prison management, and have two weeks once a year to visit friends and keep in touch with the world outside.

REBELLION in American prisons proves that mere discipline is not enough. Perhaps showing a real interest in criminals, realizing how narrow a line separates respectability from crime, would help.

"But for the grace of God, there lies John Huss," said the Bohemian martyr, looking at a drunkard in the gutter.

And "but for the grace of God, there I sit," anyone of us might say, seeing a convict in his cell.

ADVERTISING means selling goods, which means making more goods necessary. And that means employing labor.

Therefore, advertising is vitally important to industry, finance and business.

YOUNG Mr. L. Ames Brown, with the snowplow jaw, says that Lord and Thomas and Logan, the firm of which he is president, has placed $40,000,000 worth of advertising this year. That's good news for business.

MR. BROWN thinks his firm has done more advertising this year than any other. This column will be glad to hear from other agencies, Ayer & Son, J. Walter Thompson, Barton, Durstine & Osborne, or any other that thinks Mr. Brown is mistaken.

BOARD URGES TOWN HALL IN OAKLAND

Planning Body Forwards Its Recommendation to County Commissoners

The Schenley Farms site has been selected for the Town Hall by the County Planning Commission, County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong announced today.

The final vote showed five of the commissioners favoring the Schenley site and three favoring the site at Anderson street and River avenue, North Side.

YET TO BE APPROVED

The Schenley site is bounded by Fifth avenue, Bigelow boulevard, Tennyson avenue, Ruskin avenue.

Armstrong made the announcement from his sick bed. He said he had received word of the recommendation in a letter from the Plannnig Commission. Armstrong did not comment on the letter.

The recommended site must be approved by the County Commissioners.

Following is the letter recommending the Oakland site:

"At a meeting of the Allegheny County Planning Commission held this afternoon, I was directed, as secretary of the commission, to advise you that the planning commission had reached a decision on the recommendation for the site of the proposed auditorium or town hall, the final vote having been five votes for the Schenley Farms site and three votes for the site at River avenue and Anderson street, North Side. The commission would be glad of an opportunity to meet with your honorable board and present its request.

"It was understood and agreed to at this meeting that no information as to the decision should be given to the public until you had been thus officially informed of the action taken and the reasons for it.

"Trusting that the commission may have discharged its duty in this matter to your satisfaction and that the members will be given the opportunity to meet with you on the subject."

The letter was signed by James B. Sansom, secretary of the planning commission.

NORRIS INSISTS MELLON QUIT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. —(AP.)—The resignation of Secretary Mellon was demanded as the first step in a "clean up" of prohibition enforcement today by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, a Republican dry, who joined with Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho, in condemning the personnel of the enforcement service.

BLAMES POLITICS

The Nebraskan blamed "politics" in the enforcement service for what he described as the "failure" of enforcement. When asked where he would start in reorganizing, he replied quickly, "With Andrew W. Mellon."

Weds Tonight

BESSIE LOVE

BESSIE LOVE TO WED TONIGHT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Wedding plans were complete for the marriage here tonight of Bessie Love, motion picture star, and William B. Hawks, 28, Beverly Hills broker. The wedding will be one of the outstanding social events of the season in the film colony, and most of its celebrities will be in St. James' Episcopal Church, scene of the ceremony, to felicitate the actress and her fiance.

Blanche Sweet, actress and longtime friend of Miss Love, whose real name is Juanita Horton, will be matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Bebe Daniels, Carmel Myers, Irene Mayer, Norma Shearer and her sister, Miss Athol Shearer, and Margaret Aster. The brothers of the bridegroom, Kenneth and Howard, will be best men.

The wedding will take place at 8:30. Following the marriage a reception will be held at the Ambassador Hotel. The couple announced no plans for a honeymoon, but it was believed that they might take a short journey, limited in extent by Miss Love's motion picture contract. She has just completed one picture and is expected to begin another shortly.

Miss Love, who gave her age as 28, is known in Hollywood as one of the few stars of the cinema who sank to oblivion on the silent screen and came back to score smashing hits in the talkies. She was born in Midland, Tex., and is one of the colony's veteran actresses.

Judge Orders Cleanup After Young Check Passer Tells Of Betting Cash on Horses

Three reputed gambling places were raided today on order of Judge Harry H. Rowand, after a young salesman, in Criminal Court, confessed spending money, which he had obtained by passing worthless checks, to bet on horse races.

Six men were arrested and several hundred dollars and bookmaking paraphernalia confiscated by county detectives in two of the places visited.

A third was found locked.

Within 20 minutes after the defendant, Robert Thomas, 23, of 570 Oakwood avenue, pleaded guilty to 29 charges of false pretense and named the places in which he had squandered money, a squad of county detectives, led by Robert McMillen, entered the purported race gambling headquarters on the third floor of 305 Diamond street.

They arrested four men and confiscated scratch pads of a type used for making bet notations.

Those arrested gave their names as William P. Lyons, 202 Carson street; George Wolf, 343 Cornell avenue, West View; Thomas

John D. and Cronies Celebrate Yuletide

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., will celebrate the Christmas holidays at his winter home, the Casements, here tonight. The annual party will be attended only by a few friends, including Gen Adelbert Ames, the capitalist's famous golfing partner.

It will be an old-fashioned Christmas party, with a large tree as a background, for the singing of old-fashioned songs by a quartet and the exchange of gifts.

The guest list for the party never is made public.

Campbell, I. C. C. Member, Resigns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Johnston B. Campbell, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission since 1921, has tendered his resignation to President Hoover, and will retire from office as soon as a successor has been selected.

Commissioner Campbell, whose residence is in Spokane, Wash., will return to the practice of law. Classified as a Republican, his official term on the commission had two years to run before expiration.

STEPSON KILLS MILL GUARD

John J. Fitzgerald, 65, an industrial policeman of 63 Edgewood avenue, Lincoln Place, lies dead today, slain in his own home with his own revolver.

Vincent Sweeney, 26, a stepson, charged with the slaying, told police he shot in self-defense after Fitzgerald had fired once at him. He was held for the coroner.

The shooting, police were told, followed an argument between the elder man and his stepson, who had been ordered from the house.

SWEENEY TELLS OF FIGHT

"When he fired," Sweeney related, "I dove at his legs and he dropped the revolver.

"We scuffled and I got hold of the weapon. The old man grabbed a pitchfork and started for me again and I fired twice."

One bullet lodged in Fitzgerald's right arm and the other in his neck. He was found lying in the basement by police from the South Side Station who had been summoned by Sweeney's brother, James, 29. His wife, Tenchie, 27; James Sweeney, another brother; William, 16, and a sister, Betty, 22, make their home with their

LINDY, WIFE ON COAST HOP

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Delayed by unfavorable weather conditions for several hours, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh finally hopped off into the fog today on the first leg of a new trans-continental air tour at 10:55 a. m.

The famous troupers of the air will stop first at Columbus, O. As technical adviser of the Transcontinental Air Transport, the colonel will inspect the line to the coast. The survey will take him approximately two weeks.

Dr. James H. Kimball, weather expert, told International News Service that Lindbergh would find the weather overcast from here to the Pennsylvania mountains. It is partly cloudy from there to the Mississippi.

The air mail was running on schedule from Hadley Field and it was expected that Lindbergh would take the regular air mail route to Columbus, which includes Bellefonte, Pa.

PAIR HALTED, OPEN FIRE IN AUTO

Blonde and Male Companion In Butler Holdup Hunted By Big Force After Slaying

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Dec. 27.—One state highway patrolman was shot dead and his comrade was wounded when they tried to halt a woman and a man believed to be bandits, on the New Castle-Butler road at noon today.

Corp. Brady C. Paul was murdered by the man and Pvt. Ernest Moore reported that the woman had opened fire on him.

The woman was described as a highly painted blonde, aged about 30. An eyewitness told police the woman had a 5-year-old child in the car with her.

SHOOTING DESCRIBED

After he had recovered consciousness in the Jamison Hospital here, Moore supplied this report of the murder:

"Paul and I were in our car in the New Castle-Butler road waiting for this machine. We had been told that the man and woman had held up a chain store in Butler an hour before.

"When we saw it coming down the road, about a mile out of New Castle, we blocked the road.

"The car halted. We walked toward it.

WOMAN GIVES ORDER

"I heard a woman's voice shout, 'Stick 'em up.'

"Just then the man, who was at the wheel, opened fire on Corp. Paul. I ran to the other side of the car and the woman shot at me. That's all I remember."

Moore, with a bullet wound in the scalp, is expected to recover.

Irwin Bank Official Arrested in Shortage

HARRISBURG, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Frank D. Peoples, 42, treasurer of the Irwin Savings and Trust Company, of Irwin, was arrested at Irwin today in connection with an alleged embezzlement of $114,437 from the bank's funds, it was announced here today by the State Banking Department.

Peoples, who has been treasurer of the institution for the last seven years, was to have been arrested yesterday, but the banking department's chief examiner, J. D. Swigart, and the district attorney were unable to complete the drafting of their information against him until this morning. Peoples, through his surety bond, personal property and other possessions has made full restitution, the department said.

Drug Store Bandits Spare $1 for Baby's Milk

Three youthful masked bandits held up and robbed the McFadden Pharmacy, 7332 Penn avenue, of $200, but spared a customer $1 to buy milk for his baby.

J. C. Stouffer, of 3530 Beechwood boulevard, manager, was behind the prescription counter at midnight when one of the robbers approached and pointed a gun at his head with the command, "Stick 'em up and face the wall."

A confederate rifled the cash register while a third stood near the doorway.

While the holdup was in progress, M. McDonough, of Ebensburg, Pa., entered the store with a $1 bill in his hand.

"Give me that," said one of the robbers, pointing a gun at McDonough.

"It's all I've got," McDonough told the bandits. "I want to buy milk for my baby out there with my wife in the car."

"Let him keep it then," one of the robbers said, as they hurried out the door with the money obtained from the register.

William Strayhorn, 16, of 7212 Tioga street, errand boy, sweeping the floor when the robbers entered, was not molested.

All the robbers wore masks over their eyes, Stouffer and McDonough told police.

Grimes, Pirate Star, Sues For Divorce in Ohio

The marital troubles of Burleigh Grimes, the Pirates' hefty pitching ace, which appeared to have been settled yesterday, revived today.

Burleigh filed suit for divorce in Canton, O.

The action surprised many, for yesterday from the Grimes home in Minerva, O., Mrs. Grimes had announced she would drop her suit for support and indicated all was well once more in the Grimes household.

In his suit the big right-hander really gave his wife credit for his transfer to the Pirates, for he charged her interference forced his withdrawal from the Brooklyn team.

Burleigh minced no words in his suit.

His wife has been unreasonable and extravagant; she has sent telegrams to other women arranging meetings with him in an effort to trap and embarrass him; she has sent unpaid bills to none other than Judge Landis, baseball czar; she spent $6,000 for jewelry and $1,000 for furs; she insisted on accompanying him to the Brooklyn training camp despite the rules—all these things Burleigh charges.

FOCH 'REVENGE' WARNING ON EVACUATION STIRS PARIS

SECRET NOTE REVEALED IN DEBATE

Exposure of Dead Marshal's Opinion on Rhine Troops Denounced by Briand

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Secret warning by the late Marshal Foch against premature evacuation of the Rhineland was revealed in the French Chamber of Deputies today and precipitated a parliamentary storm.

Aristide Briand, foreign minister, expressed amazement that he had known nothing of the document.

The marshal's warning was made in a note to President Doumergue and Premier Poincare in October, 1926.

BRIAND REPROACHFUL

M. Briand reproached M. Reibel, former under-secretary of state for the liberated regions, for reading the note. He said it created a "sorry situation."

Marshal Foch's letter said that Germany daily was becoming a more populous and stronger "vanquished nation which wishes revenge."

"Guided by a temperament different from ours, for her might is right," he wrote, "she remains a redoubtable neighbor and peace will be maintained only by the risk she runs in revenge."

The letter declared that the Rhineland occupation guaranteed France's security, but added that when the French troops return to their territory France would find herself in an exceptionally grave situation.

HASTE OPPOSED

The letter continued to explain that as the French army was being reorganized and the frontier undefended, the time of the evacuation provided for in the treaty of Versailles must not be advanced.

Foreign Minister Briand, indignant at the interjection of this secret document into the debate, said to M. Reibel:

"You wished to defend the memory of Foch. He was a great soldier. The minister of foreign affairs, who was his chief and with whom he worked four times a week, knows nothing of documents he drafted. He learns it here when you pull out of your pocket a document concerning national defense."

The foreign minister added that he did not know how Reibel obtained the paper and he didn't know what would become of it.

The Foch letter was produced during a hot skirmish between M. Franklin-Bouillon and M. Briand when the former said that Locarno pact had been signed by Briand for fear of a Russo-German alliance which, he said, nevertheless had been accomplished and had enabled Soviet Russia to crush China in the Manchurian warfare.

Foreign Minister Briand then renewed a demand that Franklin-Bouillon overthrow the cabinet if he were dissatisfied with the recent Hague negotiations.

SHIFT CONTROL OF PHILA. CO.

Control of the Philadelphia Company and its public utility operating subsidiaries in this district is to be transferred from the Standard Power and Light Corporation directly to the Standard Gas and Electric Company.

Both companies are Byllesby organizations.

At present the Standard Gas and Electric Company controls the Standard Power and Light Company.

Complete control of Standard Power and Light will be vested in the United States Electric Power Corporation, which was formed early this year for the purpose of creating an interlocking system of public utilities.

The investment banking firm of Harris, Forbes & Co. was the leader in the organization of the new holding company. While the deal brings a new interest into the management of the local utilities, H. M. Byllesby & Co. will continue to operate the properties.

FRANCE STANDS BY LEAGUE

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—In the forthcoming five-power naval disarmament conference at London, France will stand firmly upon the covenants of the League of Nations.

This fact stood out clearly today following the publication of the text of the foreign office's memorandum on naval policy which is now being studied by the other four powers to be represented at the conference.

Although Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, with Former Secretary of State Kellogg, fostered the famous anti-war pact which bears both their names, France will oppose any cut in navies based solely on the pact.

The French attitude is that the Briand-Kellogg pact in its present state does not offer a sufficient guarantee of safety to the nations adhering to it to furnish a basis for international disarmament.

While appreciating the efforts of Great Britain and the United States toward disarmament and subsequent universal peace, France wants all agreements reached at the London conference to be regarded as mere preliminaries which must be in such a form as to be acceptable at a later League of Nations general disarmament conference.

The French memorandum recognizes the value of the Briand-Kellogg anti-war pact, but points out that it is based solely on the force of public opinion and therefore cannot adequately guarantee safety to nations which disarm upon the strength of it.

Brands Wife Twice, Only Play, He Says

SAN LEANDRO, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Sentenced on a charge of having branded his wife on the chin and chest with an electric iron, John Silva, 26, today faced a 90-day term in jail. Silva was arrested when screams from the Silva home on Christmas Day brought neighbors, who in turn called the police. In court yesterday, where he faced a battery charge, Silva denied his wife's accusations and said he was "only playing." He insisted that the iron slipped in his hand, searing Mrs. Silva. She was severely burned.

enforced everywhere," said Norris, who is chairman of the Judiciary Committee, "but I do say it is not generally enforced and I think there is evidence that the politicians are meddling too much. I don't think Andrew Mellon, who is the chief enforcement officer, is in sympathy with the law.

"I don't demand prohibition cranks. In fact, I don't want any cranks in the service. But I want an administration of that law which is free from political influence."

The prohibition storm continued to rumble in the capital today, Senator Jones (Rep.), of Washington, calling upon the Law Enforcement Commission to urge an early report by it. However, the Republican dry leader failed to find Chairman Wickersham and a majority of his commission on hand and he made an appointment for a return call early next week.

Opposition to a plan announced by the treasury to reduce the number of points of entry from Canada was indicated by Representative Pittenger (Rep.), of Minnesota.

car. This was said to be a Chrysler sedan, bearing 1930 license No. 154-142.

News of the murder was flashed over the new telegraph-printer system. Scores of state and local police were searching the highways for the stolen car.

Corp. Paul, 26, lived at Hickory, Washington County. Moore, 25, is from Woodbury, Bedford County.

HOLDUP IN BUTLER

The blonde bandit and her accomplice had held up a P. H. Butler chain store in Butler, Pa., 45 minutes before they shot down the two state patrolmen.

In the store they bound and gagged the manager and a clerk, emptied the cash register and sped away.

The highway patrolmen were notified of the holdup and spread themselves over the roads in that vicinity. Capt. D. E. Miller, of the Greensburg barracks, head of the highway patrol contingent in Western Pennsylvania, said 35 highway patrolmen had joined in the hunt.

FLEE TOWARD OHIO

The blonde's accomplice was described as having a red mustache, but the authorities suspected that this was a disguise.

The motorist whose car was stolen after the murder was Ray Horton, of New Castle. He told police the couple also took his driver's license and other cards.

Horton said his last glimpse of his car was as it sped westward toward Ohio.

Reports from Butler stated that the holdup netted the bandits $220.

Police were told that two men had accompanied the woman into the store, and it was suggested that one of the men had parted with his confederates before reaching New Castle.

200 IN PANIC AS BUILDING COLLAPSES

Two Score Injured in Crush At Firemen's Benefit; Boy Scouts Aid Rescue

LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—A fireman's benefit card party and dance in an antiquated one-time carriage shed at Quarryville, near here, was transformed into a scene of panic among more than 200 men and women last night with the collapse of the flooring holding the card players.

Approximately 150 persons were playing cards on the second floor of the building, the home of the Quarryville Post of the American Legion, when, without warning, one end of the floor crashed.

DANCERS TRAPPED

There were about 50 couples on the first floor preparing to dance when the accident occurred. Making a rush for the door, the dancers were caught in the crush before they could get out. The card players slid down the flooring and fell on the dancers and on top of the whole assemblage came the furniture of the second floor and the ceiling.

Timbers from the ceiling blocked the door, the only means of exit. Panic-stricken, those not injured pushed and crowded. Several men near the front shattered plate glass windows and those able to do so crowded through the openings, many of them being cut badly by jagged edges of the glass.

TWO SCORE INJURED

Two score or more in all were injured either in the fall or attempting to escape.

After the crash, police, firemen and Boy Scouts broke into the building to rescue the injured who were caught under the debris. Husbands and wives, separated in the rush to get out, and others were taken to the firehouse in fire apparatus and there sought out and inquired for their loved ones.

The injured were for the most part taken to the offices of physicians for treatment. Among the more severely hurt was Chester Morrison, of Quarryville, who was taken to a Lancaster hospital, suffering loss of blood and shock.

BROTHER VERIFIES TALE

Vincent said he was firing the furnace at 3 a. m. today when his stepfather came down into the basement and ordered him to leave the house.

When he refused, Sweeney alleged, Fitzgerald drew the revolver from his pocket and threatened to kill him, following up the threat with a shot.

James Sweeney and his wife, who had been sleeping in a basement apartment, verified Vincent's story. James told police his mother and stepfather had quarreled almost incessantly since their marriage four years ago. Police found a gallon bottle of moonshine and a two-gallon keg partly filled with moonshine in Fitzgerald's room.

FORMER CITY POLICEMAN

Police records show that the slain man had brought suit against Patrolman Frank Digman, of the South Side station, after Digman had broken up a family quarrel in which Fitzgerald is alleged to have been beating his wife. Digman was acquitted of the charge of assault and battery when the case came up in Criminal Court last week.

Fitzgerald had been a city policeman from 1902 until 1906 when he was dismissed, police records revealed. Later, he became a coal and iron policeman at the Homestead plant of the Carnegie Steel Company.

TEACHERS HEAR SCHOOL ATTACK

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Dec. 27.—More than 2,500 teachers from all parts of Pennsylvania will hear Dr. John A. H. Keith, superintendent of public instruction, address the convention of the Pennsylvania Educational Association this afternoon as the most important feature on the second day's session of the gathering.

There was general discussion today of the criticism of the Department of Education made in yesterday's speech by Dr. James C. Bay, superintendent of the Easton, Pa., schools.

Dr. Bay spoke before the district superintendents' department. He said that the superintendency of public instruction is merely a political office and that the solution of the problem is the selection of a state board of education by a method that would place it beyond the control of any governor or political group.

Contenders for president of the association are W. Lee Gilmore, supervising superintendent of schools at Oakmont; Miss Josephine Grainger, of Allentown, and M. S. Bentz, superintendent of schools in Cambria County. Philadelphia, Easton and Allentown are said to seek the 1930 meeting.

Action will be taken Friday on the acceptance of the Lloyd Mifflin home in Columbia County as a home for aged and retired educators. Indications are that the gift will be accepted and a development program covering 50 years adopted; also a fund of $100,000 for the remodeling and placing of the property in good shape and to buy additional land.

Frederick Roderus Takes Tipstaff Oath

SNATCH PURSES OF 3 WOMEN

Three women were robbed of their purses today, two on the South Side and one in the East End.

Mrs. C. E. Gee, of 6833 McPherson boulevard, reported to police that while walking in South Dallas avenue near Forbes street, a boy grabbed her purse containing $9 and a check for $500, leaped into an automobile in which two other youths were sitting and sped away. Later other boys returned her purse containing the check found discarded in Braddock avenue.

Miss Eileen Murphy, 19, of 2926 Arlington avenue, was robbed of her purse containing $3 while standing at Arlington avenue and Cologne street, by a youth who jumped into a car and drove away with three companions, she told police.

Mrs. Paulina Zawila, 60, of 200 South Twenty-first street, was accosted in a similar manner at Jane and South Twenty-first streets and robbed of $8. Six women have been victims of purse-snatchers on the South Side in three days.

A short time later a car believed to have been used by the robbers was wrecked at Georgia and Orchard streets, Knoxville. One young man, standing on the running board, was thrown off and slightly injured when a rear wheel was broken. Three companions assisted him to his feet and then fled.

Woman Found Dead In Forest Identified

MARKED TREE, Ark., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—H. L. Fontenberry, a farmer of Blythedale, Ark., came here today and identified the body of a woman found in a thicket near this place two weeks ago as that of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Howard, 25, who had been missing about a year.

Previously the body had been identified by Horace Clutts, Memphis (Tenn.) railway employe, as that of his estranged wife, Mrs. Beatrice Clutts. Later, however, Mrs. Clutts was located in Blue Diamond, Ky.

Mexican Air Chief Dies in Plane Crash

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The Department of Communications today received reports that Gen. Juaz Azcarrate, commander of the Mexican army aviation force, and Col. Pablo Sidar, noted army flier, were killed in a plane crash near Ixtlahuaca, in the state of Mexico.

'GOAT,' SAYS N. Y. KILLING SUSPECT

Terranova Denies He Was Invovled in 'Murder Pact' With Chicago Gang Gunmen

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—"Lies—all lies! I'm being made the goat!"

That was the reply today of Ciro Terranova, "the artichoke king," to accusations that he was involved in the $20,000 "contract" murders of Frankie Yale and Frank Marlow, gangsters.

Terranova talked freely to a reporter at his palatial Pelham Manor home, where he is under strictest surveillance, although police said they have not sufficient evidence to arrest him.

INNOCENT, HE SAYS

He declared he had nothing to do with the murders of Yale and Marlow and insisted he was a "peace-loving man."

Terranova blamed "politics" for his troubles. He said two political factions were fighting for control in New York and that as a result of the maneuvers in the battle an effort was being made to make him "a black sheep."

Police Commissioner Grover Whalen hurried to Chicago today, but on his arrival there denied he was seeking evidence in the Yale and Marlow murders. He said he was concerned with traffic problems.

Whalen had left after listening to the amazing tale of underworld activities from the lips of Inspector J. J. Donovan, head of the criminal identification bureau of the New York police department, which enthralled listeners at the trial of Detective Arthur C. Johnson, who was just another detective until he attended a testimonial dinner to Magistrate Albert H. Vitale in The Bronx on December 8, which was "held up."

'AFTER MURDER CONTRACT'

Donovan testified before Whalen that the Vitale dinner "holdup" was as elaborately staged as the dinner was catered. He stated that the holdup was staged for only one reason—the recovery of the "contract" to kill Yale and Marlow from the Chicago gentleman who contracted to do the killing and was unsuspectingly, if not the guest of honor, at least the center of attraction at the dinner.

The gentleman of the "other part" mentioned in the "contract," according to Donovan's testimony, was none other than Terranova.

Terranova, who was among the 40 guests at the Vitale dinner, staged the holdup, Donovan explained as he continued his testimony, because he had paid only $5,000 of the contract price and was being pressed for payment by the gunman under threats from the latter that the police would be given an opportunity to adjudge the validity of the "contract" if the balance were not paid.

DETECTIVE PARDNER

Terranova made a "sap" out of one of the leading citizens in Chicago's underworld by one clever little maneuver, Donovan charged. He invited the gunman to attend the dinner, promising him payment of the balance there.

He seated the gunman next to Johnson. Seven worthy members of the "pistol-toters" sat in the immediate vicinity. They were there apparently to prevent any untoward motions on the part of the Chicago gentleman. Johnson, Donovan said, sat on the visitor's right, so that the "holdup" gang would make no mistake in picking out the holder of the "contract" as they knew Johnson had been cautioned to "frisk" the man next to him.

The rest was easy. The robbers "came, saw and conquered," making away with the contract, a variously estimated amount of jewelry and other valuables and, among other things, Johnson's pistol.

It was this pistol that was the smoke that caused the police to look for the fire. Johnson subsequently admitted that the pistol was returned to him. Under further questioning he declared the gun was given him by none other than Judge Vitale.

Terranova denies Johnson's whole story, saying he did not even attend the dinner.

Soldier Arrested in Murder of Comrade

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Alonzo Emery, 27-year-old private of the First Engineers, Fort du Pont, was arrested today in connection with the slaying of Private Arthur Cline, a fellow soldier, whose body was discovered late yesterday near Delaware City. Emery, who said his home was in Tennessee, was held without bail on a murder charge.

Cramton Gives Up Title Of House Dry Leader

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Representative Louis C. Cramton (Rep.), of Michigan, has "abdicated" as unofficial "dry leader" of the House—but has not deserted the cause.

"You can call anybody the 'dry leader of the House'; it is a title I never sought," said Cramton, who earned the title from news writers because of his activity in the dry cause.

Declining to enter into the controversy raised by Senator Borah's statement that prohibition cannot be enforced with the present personnel, Cramton said:

"One of my New Year's resolutions—made last fall—was not to talk about prohibition."

"Why?" he was asked.

"Well, I thought it a pretty good resolution to make. I think prohibition is coming along pretty well and it is a good thing not to talk so much about it."

Cramton is active as a member of the appropriations committee, and chairman of its sub-committee in charge of the interior department supply bill.

West End Girl, 15, Missing After Christmas Party

After packing and addressing gifts for friends, Emma Adams, 15, a pupil in the Luckey Public School, West End, joined a Christmas eve automobile party with three boys and three girls and disappeared.

W. A. Adams, of 1303 Banksville road, today reported the absence of his daughter to the Missing Persons Bureau and police announced that they would question the girl's boy companions on the automobile ride.

Emma was in a cheerful mood while preparing her gifts, Adams said, and, after leaving the packages with instructions to deliver them to her friends in the neighborhood, she played the piano for a time, then decided to call on a friend, Loretta Rodgers, of Neptune street, West End.

At the Rodgers home she joined the automobile party and rode about the city until midnight, when all left the car except Emma and a boy, according to the report to the Missing Persons Bureau.

They returned to the Rodgers home after midnight; then, failing to arouse the family, disappeared, police were told.

CABINET MEETS IN LINCOLN STUDY

Session Held in Historical Atmosphere; Hoover Goes To New Office Quarters

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The President's cabinet met today in an atmosphere replete with the early history of the American republic.

Because the executive offices of the President were destroyed by fire on Christmas eve, members of the cabinet today gathered in the study where Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation and sat around the table used by President Adams and his cabinet in the early days of the White House.

Four members of the cabinet were seated in chairs used by President Lincoln's cabinet during the days of the Civil War. At one end of the room next to the fire place was the old desk on which Lincoln signed the proclamation which ended slavery in the United States.

Over the mantle above the fireplace was a steel engraving depicting Lincoln and members of his cabinet. It is one of the famous pictures having to do with the Lincoln administration.

Today's cabinet meeting was the first held in the main building of the White House in a quarter of a century. The destroyed executive offices were built early in the administration of President Roosevelt.

The President had no callers on his list for the day and left the White House in the afternoon to begin work in the offices formerly occupied by the secretaries of the Navy in the old State, War and Navy Building. The structure is just across Executive avenue from the west entrance to the White House grounds.

PROSECUTOR CLASHES WITH U.S.

Dry Chief Defends Slaying Of Buffalo Man Despite Lack of Liquor on Boat

BUFFALO, Dec. 27.—Two coast guardsmen stood idly by while Eugene Downey, Jr., bled to death on the docks of Buffalo, Police Lieut. Stephen Crotty testified at the inquest held today into Downey's death.

Downey was shot by guardsmen in Buffalo harbor while piloting what government agents thought a rum runner.

Three guardsmen — Rudolph Thompson, Asa Ennis and Orville Lagrant—are under arrest in connection with the shooting. The inquest, however, was adjourned until tomorrow without calling them to the witness stand.

CLASH AT INQUEST

At the inquest in city court, District Attorney Guy B. Moore was at odds with federal officials as to the culpability of the coast guardsmen.

Adjournment was taken to allow Moore to bring before Judge Frank W. Standart the signed statements of the men who fired the shots.

Moore told the court and United States Attorney Richard H. Templeton, who, with District Coast Guard Commander M. W. Rasmussen, has charge of the government investigation, that he would not permit the three guardsmen to testify unless they waived immunity of trial for manslaughter.

NEGLIGENCE CHARGED

Templeton was forced to remain silent during the inquest.

"I believe the coast guardsmen were culpably negligent," Moore said, "and I believe the inquest should develop a charge of manslaughter against them."

At the inquest, Capt. Forner, second in command to Rasmussen, took a stand similar to that taken in the affair by Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury. He maintained in substance that regulations called for and his instruction to the crew members were that they should fire their revolvers and rifles if they had reasonable belief that the vessel, failing to heave to on command, was committing a crime against the government.

DRY CHIEF DEFENDS ACT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The action of a coast guard crew in opening fire on a boat on Lake Erie on which Eugene F. Downey, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., was killed, was defended today in a statement by Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of prohibition.

Lowman, in the first utterance by a government official on the killing of Downey on Christmas Day, said the coast guardsmen were proceeding under a section of the tariff act which gave them full authority to stop any boat at any time in American waters for inspection.

SUPPORTS GUARDSMEN

The fact that no liquor was found in the boat had no significance, he said, "because there was plenty of time to throw the liquor overboard into the lake." Lowman's statement termed the boat a "rum runner" and he said it failed to stop when signaled and when blank shots were fired as a warning.

"The rum runner showed no lights and failed to stop," he said. "The Coast Guard boat continued the pursuit but because of the obstruction of floating ice lost track of the rum-runner and it was fully half an hour before they discovered her tied to the pier and it was found there was a wounded man in the boat, the other man having disappeared."

Lowman said the case had been turned over to the United States district attorney at Buffalo and Senator Copeland, of New York, had urged that state authorities be given jurisdiction.

INVESTIGATION STARTS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—District Attorney Guy B. Moore has started the state's investigation into the fatal shooting of Eugene F. Downey, Jr., by questioning Asa Ennis, Rudolph Thompson and Orville LaGrant, the crew of the coast guard patrol boat which fired on Downey's boat.

The three coast guardsmen, all listed as boatswains' mates, second class, were produced at the office of the district attorney by Martin W. Rassmussen, district commander of the Coast Guard, after William D. Mitchell, attorney general of the United States, had instructed Richard H. Templeton, federal district attorney, to co-operate with District Attorney Moore in the investigation into the shooting.

ORTIZ RUBIO AT MT. VERNON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Pascual Ortiz Rubio, President-elect of Mexico, ushered in his second day as the honored guest of the capital with a pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon and Arlington. He placed wreaths on George Washington's tomb and on that of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery.

Today's program called for a luncheon in honor of the President-elect and Senora de Ortiz Rubio given by Secretary of State Stimson.

President Hoover will give a state dinner in honor of the distinguished guests tonight, when the President and President-elect will have opportunity for a longer chat than they had yesterday.

Ortiz Rubio finds no problems of moment to talk over with President Hoover, however.

"The relations between the two countries are so cordial that we can only speak of that cordiality," he told newspapermen at the Mexican embassy.

He also said the religious question was settled for good.

He denied that he would attempt to float a loan in the United States.

"It will not be necessary while Mexico has her present resources," he said.

BALM SUIT WON BY TUNNEY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—James J. Tunney, who was Gene to the boxing world when he defeated Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship, scored another victory today, but this time it was in the courts of law.

A judgment, described by his counsel as a "complete and sweeping victory," was entered in Superior Court here in his favor in the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, divorcee, of Fort Worth, Tex., and now reported to be living in Boston, and also in the cross-complaint in answer to her charges that he failed to keep his promise to marry her.

Tunney's lawyers said there had been "no negotiations for a settlement nor has any money been paid to the plaintiff."

The action today was only a formality. Counsel for both sides yesterday agreed that all the issues raised should be found in favor of the defendant.

To make his victory more complete, it was agreed at that time that an injunction restraining her from ever again bringing similar suits should be issued against her. Judge Carl Foster, however, declined to act upon this stipulation today, intimating that he wished more time to study the terms of the injunction.

Wilpen Store Burns, Loss Put at $70,000

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 27.—Fire today destroyed the Ligonier Valley Supply Company store and stock of the Baton Coal Company at Wilpen, near Ligonier, and an adjoining dwelling with a loss estimated at $70,000. Origin of the fire is unknown. Firemen were called from Derry, Ligonier and Latrobe.

Chief Wants to Parachute, But Boss Says 'No'

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Chief of Police Donald L. Marshall now has a "suppressed desire." He desires to make a parachute jump and his boss won't let him.

Chief Marshall decided yesterday that he needed relief from the monotony of running down criminals, and after going into a huddle with himself announced that today he would go aloft 9,000 feet and jump out.

C. C. Young, commissioner of public health and safety, decided, however, that Marshall was too valuable to the city to take the chance. As Young is Marshall's boss, Marshall said "Ho, hum," and went to the office as usual this morning.

ASKS $100,000 FOR LOST WIFE

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Gifford de Witt Youngblood, Attleboro, Mass., and Corydon, Ia., has filed suit for 8100,000 damages against Loutn Jacques, prominent Chicago artist, Mrs. Jacques and Dr. Vahan H. Magarian, alleging alienation of Mrs. Youngblood's affections.

Youngblood and his wife, daughter of the Jacques, eloped and were married at Rock Island, Ill., March 2, going from there to the Youngblood family home at Corydon, Ia. He alleges his wife left him through the interference of the defendants in the suit. Youngblood is a former student at the University of Iowa.

Pittsburghers Held In Altoona Robbery

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 27.—Entering the Sacks Loan Office in the business district today and asking for a display of merchandise, two men held up the proprietor, Abe Sacks.

The men were scared away. They were binding Sacks as a crowd gathered to watch the holdup.

10 PLANES JOIN EIELSON HUNT

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Preparations for one of the most extensive aerial searches of the frozen Siberian wastelands were being rushed today as 10 airplanes were being groomed to hunt for Lieut. Carl Eielson and Earl Borland, his mechanic.

The two Alaska airmen have been lost since November 9, when they disappeared somewhere between Teller, Alaska, and North Cape, Siberia. They had supplies which would sustain them for two months.

Two planes manned by Pilots Joe Crosson and C. M. Gillam are grounded at North Cape awaiting more fuel before they can continue their rescue flights.

Crosson is reported to have located the point where Eielson's plane was last sighted by native fishermen.

One Russian plane is reported to be heading across Siberia to join the hunt.

The two airmen disappeared while engaged in rescuing passengers and valuable furs from the icebound fur trading ship Nanuk, frozen in somewhere near North Cape. The missing plane was last reported 90 miles from the Nanuk.

60 Communists in Picketing Arrested

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Sixty Communists, 28 of them women, were arrested today on disorderly conduct charges when, as part of a group of 150 radicals, they gathered in front of a loft building in West Twenty-sixth street to picket a shoe company on the tenth floor, singing Communistic songs.

Ex-Gov. Stuart 76, to Celebrate

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Edwin S. Stuart, one of the four living ex-governors of Pennsylvania and former mayor of Philadelphia, will celebrate his seventy-sixth birthday tonight with a dinner party at his home here.

Mr. Stuart, who is a bachelor, lives with his sister, Mrs. Katherine Stuart Leichler.

Family Wanders 4 Days in Snow; Mother, Baby Die

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—After wandering for four days in bitter cold and deep snow seeking a lost trail, a mother and her infant boy succumbed to exhaustion on the slopes of Sharp's Mountain, 25 miles from here last Sunday, it became known here. A runner from the snow-covered mountain brought word of the tragedy.

Mrs. Frank Marcum, her two daughters, Minnie and Pearl, and an infant son started from here Tuesday, December 17, in an automobile, to spend the Christmas holidays at their home on the slope of the mountain. As related by the older girl, Minnie, the party left the automobile at the base of the mountain to walk up the trail, a distance of three miles. They soon lost the trail, which was covered with snow. They wandered about through Thursday, Friday and Saturday. On Sunday the mother fell, exhausted. Minnie placed her and the infant in a hollow log to shield them from the cold, but both soon succumbed.

Minnie said her younger sister, aged 7, became ill from the cold and she took clothing from the body of her mother to warm her. Two more days were spent in wandering before they reached home.

Both collapsed after telling of their experiences. Physicians who attended them said they were suffering from exposure, but would recover.

The bodies were recovered. The log in which they were found was three-quarters of a mile from the Marcum home.

BYRD RADIOS THANKS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Four radiograms, sent from a tiny snow-covered hut in the Antarctic, were received in Washington from Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, expressing his gratitude over his recent elevation in rank by Congress.

The two most personal and informal messages were addressed to Speaker Longworth and Chairman Britten, of the House Naval Committee, another was received by Senator Swanson, of Virginia, author of the measure to make Byrd the youngest of rear admirals, and the receipt of still another was announced by the Navy Department.

In the radiogram to Longworth, Byrd said he thought it "a mighty fine thing of Congress to rush the bill through to get here in time for Christmas."

The message to Britten was signed "Dick Byrd," and said that he was coming to Washington upon his return "to tell you how deeply grateful I am for all you have done for me.' It ended with the words, "warmest regards, old fellow."

Britten said he had messaged Byrd that "Congress so far has recognized only his own efforts and that when he returns he and his colleagues as well will be fittingly honored."

Baltimore Broker Shoots Self, Dies

BALTIMORE, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Sewell S. Watts, of the firm of Baker & Watts Co., brokers, left his office today presumably to go to his club. A half hour later William E. Baker, his partner, received a message:

"Mr. Watts has shot himself."

The broker had motored to a garage at his home and fired a bullet through his head. His motitve was not determined.

Rules Proposed to Make U. S. Ships Dry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—New regulations designed to make ships sailing under the American flag really dry were reported under preparation by the Treasury today.

The new orders, it was said, contemplate making the ship operators sign an affidavit before leaving American shores that they will use their medicinal liquor stores only for medicinal purposes on the voyage.

It has been the practice to dispense medicinal liquor for beverage purposes, replenishing the stock on the other side, so that when the ship puts into American ports again the medicinal supply is intact.

TROOPERS QUIT UNIONTOWN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Most of the squad of 30 state policemen stationed here since October 1 will be withdrawn January 1, Maj. Lynn G. Adams, head of the state constabulary, announced today. District Attorney J. S. Adams said the state officers had improved Fayette County "1,000 per cent since last summer."

The state troopers were brought here as a part of the plan for a blanket investigation of liquor conditions following the mysterious killing of John Donohoe, attributed to liquor ring warfare. The decision to withdraw the majority of the squad was reached after a conference between state and county authorities. About 10 of the police will remain here.

PANTAGES FATE WITH JUDGE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Judge Charles Fricke is expected to decide today whether the alleged break in health suffered by Alexander Pantages, millionaire theater operator, warrants his release from the county jail on bail.

The hearing held yesterday to decide on Pantages' release pending an appeal from a sentence of from one to 50 years in prison was continued until today when more medical testimony is to be heard.

Pantages was convicted and sentenced for an attack on Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old danseuse.

"Pantages has suffered a change for the worse in his physical condition," read the opinion of Dr. Charles Decker given late yesterday.

"He needs rest and better diet than he can get in jail, and needs more care than jail conditions permit," said Dr. Decker, one of five physicians, appointed by the district attorney's office to examine Pantages.

He saw Pantages in court two months ago during the trial and again saw him in jail a few days ago and the change was for the worse, Dr. Decker stated. He said Pantages' heart was giving him trouble.

Last-Minute Rush For Auto Tags On

HARRISBURG, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The annual rush to obtain automobile license plates began today with several hundred persons who had failed to arrange to get them by mail standing in line before the Motor Vehicle Bureau office in the rear of the Capitol. Nearly 1,000,000 sets of automobile license plates will have been issued by January 1.

EIGHT ARRESTED IN RAIDS

Murphy, 628 Talbot avenue, Braddock, and Thomas Page, Negro janitor, of 6 Whitney terrace. They were held at detective headquarters for questioning by District Attorney S. H. Gardner.

$200 CONFISCATED

A few minutes later another squad of sleuths raided an alleged race track gambling resort on the second floor of 6293 Frankstown avenue, arrested two youths and seized between $200 and $300, five telephones, bookmaking equipment and a checkbook.

The two arrested, Mike Pascarelli, 19, of 642 Thompson street, and Pat Kain, 20, of 121 Shetland avenue, also were taken to detective headquarters.

A third place ordered raided, described by Thomas as over Thompson's restaurant in Market street, was found bolted. The detectives did not enter.

Holding his wife's hand in his own, Thomas, a candy salesman, stood before Judge Rowand and admitted passing spurious checks on a number of Pittsburgh banks. Sometimes he forged the names of persons he knew to have deposits in the banks, he said.

GAVE FATHER MONEY

He obtained $680, he said, by this method.

"What did you do with the money?" asked Judge Rowand.

"My father was ill and I gave him some. I gave my wife some, but most of it I lost playing the races," replied Thomas.

Judge Rowand demanded to know where he had been gambling. Upon being informed, the court ordered Assistant District Attorney Roy T. Clunk to have the county detectives raid the places named.

The wife testified Thomas brought her home $25 a week. She supposed this was his salary, she said.

FASCISTI PERIL IN U. S. 'MYTH'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—An investigation by the State Department into the alleged activities of an Italian Fascist organization in the United States has not "revealed any activities on the part of any resident in this country of Italian extraction or on the part of any Italian officials which were directed against this government or against its institutions," Secretary of State Stimson declared today.

Soon after the investigation started announcement came from the Fascist headquarters in New York that it had been disbanded.

"So far as the dissolution of the Fascist League is concerned, inasmuch as the existence and purposes of that league have been the subject of adverse speculative comment and possible misunderstanding," Stimson said, "I am glad to express my appreciation that the league has dissolved itself in the interest of removing those misunderstandings and better relations between this country and Italy."

Floorwalker Seeks Share In $14,000,000 Estate

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Edward J. J. Payette, floorwalker in a Loop department store, today awaited word as to his chances to share in a reputed $14,000,000 estate left by his grandfather, Francis Payette, formerly of Montreal, Quebec.

The grandfather died in 1876 and his will provided that his estate should not be divided among his grandchildren until after the deaths of his four sons and daughter, their widows and husband. The last of these — the floorwalker's stepmother—died in 1926. An attorney was en route to Montreal today to investigate Payette's claim.

Barn in Which 'Phone Was Invented Burned

HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 27.—(INS.)—The barn in which Alexander Graham Bell carried on his first telephone experiments in this country was a mass of ruins today. Fire destroyed the structure, which stood on the estate of the late Thomas Sanders, Danvers shoe manufacturer, who backed the inventor in the face of ridicule. Sanders became wealthy as the result of his faith in Bell.

State Police Nab Seven Drinkers At Dance

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 27.—State troopers in plain clothes arrested seven young men who had displayed flasks at a dance in the State Armory at Connellsville. The armory was filled with dancers when the state troopers paid their assessment of $2, and with the assistance of a Connellsville constable, quickly got to work. As bottles were flashed, so were police badges.

Two Boys Die in Fire; Maid Saves Infant

TORONTO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Two boys, Willie Culross, aged 8, and Keay, his 3-year-old brother, were suffocated early today when fire destroyed their home in the east end of the city. A maid, who was alone in the house with the children, saved her life and that of an infant by jumping from an upper window with the child in her arms.

Playmates Haul Hurt Boy All Over Town

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 27.—Robert Yasisky, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yasisky, is in the Washington Hospital with injuries suffered in a coasting accident, the sled on which he was riding colliding with another. His playmates, not thinking him seriously injured, hauled him about the streets for several hours before taking him to the hospital.

ARIZONA FIRM OVER DAM

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Gov. John C. Phillips has announced that Secretary of the Interior Wilbur's suggestion that a conference between the Colorado River Commissions of Arizona, California and Nevada be held in Phoenix, January 6, meets with his approval "if the conference is resumed on a basis tenable to Arizona."

The Governor said Arizona would insist that negotiations be taken up "where the Washington conference left off last June." This would include discussion of the price to be charged the City of Los Angeles and other out of state consumers for Boulder Dam water, and of the allocation and sales price of power to be produced at the Boulder Canyon project.

Arizona nearly two months ago terminated its efforts to reach a tri-state agreement with California and Nevada, contending that Southern California would agree to nothing not definitely for its own benefit. A suit, not yet filed, was drafted for presentation to the Supreme Court of the United States, challenging federal allocation of Boulder Dam power and water. Filing of the suit would delay the start of construction work on Boulder Canyon Dam. Wilbur thereupon suggested a meeting to be held in Phoenix.

Just before Christmas, Gov. Phillips telegraphed Wilbur, in reply to a message from the interior secretary, urging that Arizona confer again with California and Nevada, provided the conference would be held in Arizona, and the discussion resumed where the Washington conference left them.

4-PAGE RULING SAVES 11 CENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The mighty wheels of the government's financial machinery, which grind in their daily grist figures running into the billions, may pause for a moment over an 11-cent decision just handed down by Comptroller General McCarl.

In a four-page ruling, which bore down heavily upon various points of the law, the Comptroller General asserted that a $5.42 bill submitted by a Washington company—which was corrected by a government department to $5.53—must be paid at the former figure.

"The interests of the government require," McCarl said in part, "that there be no increase by way of correction or alteration in the total amount claimed on a voucher, unless such correction or alteration be made by the claimants and then only in the form of a new voucher for the correct amount claimed."

Having spent considerably more than 11 cents in stamps and stationery in correspondence over the matter, the Lamb Seal and Stencil Company, whose original multiplication or addition was wrong, indicated that it would probably forfeit the 11 cents rather than again tackle the skein of red tape involved.

DIVORCED WIFE OF AUTHOR DIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Tennessee Mitchell Anderson, 53, divorced wife of Sherwood Anderson, the novelist, was found dead late yesterday in her apartment. She had been dead for six or seven days, coroner's physicians said.

Mrs. Anderson, an artist and sculptor, was married to the novelist August 1, 1916, in this city, but the couple was divorced, Anderson marrying Elizabeth Prall, of New York City.

In addition to his fiction work, Anderson owns and edits two small newspapers at Marion, Va.

Police said death was apparently due to a lung hemmorhage and indicated no inquest would be held. An attempt was being made to trace relatives for instructions as to disposition of the body.

A valuable collection of art objects were found in the apartment, including the dead woman's statuette, "On the Boulevards," which created considerable comment in art circles recently and which was regarded as her best work. The statuette depicts a scantily-clad young woman and was intended as a satire on the modern method of dress.

Christmas cards were piled in the mail box of the apartment and on a table in one room were two packages, ready for mailing. They were addressed to Marion Anderson, 123 Detroit street, Michigan City, Ind., and John Anderson, Dykemans, N. Y.

Japan Sends Naggai To Naval Conference

TOKIO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The cabinet today decided to name Matsuzo Naggai, Japanese ambassador to Belgium, as the fourth delegate to the London naval conference. A fifth delegate may be named from among the ambassadors to European capitals later. It was definitely decided that Ambassador Debuchi, at Washington, will not be sent to London.

Boy Examines Rifle Fatally Shoots Self

Examining a 22 caliber rifle last night, George Wylie, 13, of Sample stop, Butler pike, fatally shot himself. He was visiting at the home of Harry Bruner, Gibsonia road, when the accident occurred, according to a morgue report. The bullet struck the boy in the chest. He died en route to a hospital.

KILLER NAMES SIX, DIES

JACKSON, Ky., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Chester Fugate who was taken from the Breathitt County jail Christmas morning and shot and beaten, died here after he had accused six men of being the leaders in the latest shedding of blood by members of the Fugate and Watkins familes.

Five of the men, kinsman of Clay Watkins whom Fugate shot to death December 18, came in and surrendered and were held in $5,000 bond each shortly before the death of Fugate, whose body showed 13 bullet holes. Lee Watkins, of Hazard, the sixth man named by Fugate, sent word that he would surrender. The warrants charged malicious shooting and wounding and after Fugate's death, G. C. Allen, commonwealth's attorney, prepared to issue murder warrants.

Fugate, who lay for five hours in a snow-filled ditch before he was found, made his statement to the commonwealth's attorney in the presence of witnesses. Then at its completion, he said: "My arm's broken so I can't raise it to swear, I'll just hold up a finger."

He raised his right forefinger and swore to the affidavit. In it he declared that he recognized six of the men who surprised S. L. Combs, the jailer, bound him and took his keys, had dragged Fugate from his cell in his night clothes, beat him with a blackjack, trampled upon him, shot him and hurled his apparently lifeless body into a ditch a few miles from town where Jim Butler, a farmer, heard his groans and prayers.

HOLDS DECISION IN KILLING

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Coroner J. C. Henshaw reserved until Saturday his decision in the death of James Gill, 18, of Sharon, killed Christmas Day while he and three companions were creating a disturbance in a store across the Pennsylvania-Ohio state line from here. Non-appearance of several witnesses at the inquest today led to the postponement.

Pete Nicastro, 14-year-old Brookfield high school boy, is free on his own recognizance, charged with the shooting. The boy was said to have fired at Gill as the Sharon youth grappled with him in an effort to obtain the revolver with which the boy was driving Gill and his companions from his father's store.

Witnesses at the inquest testified that Gill and his companions had demanded that the boy's father sell them liquor, and had attacked him when he refused, saying he had none.

New Castle Man Given Promotion

PIANO COURSE INDORSED

Leaders of the Star and Crescent, are indorsing the Sun-Telegraph course in the fundamentals of music, given at the Wurlitzer Music Foundation Piano School.

A class of lodge commanders has already been organized. Each of the commanders in the class has undertaken to organize a class in her own chapter. There is every prospect, according to Mrs. Asia Negley, emminent commander of the organization, that a number of large classes will be formed, giving rise to much rivalry between the lodges.

A second class, calling itself the "Asia Negley Class" has been organized from members' children. Work has already started.

The Sun-Telegraph has offered free piano lessons to any Pittsburgher wishing to enroll. The Wurlitzer Foundation Piano School uses an entirely new way of teaching music which has won the indorsement of music teachers throughout the city. Instead of teaching the pupil the scales, simple melodies lead his fingers to a sure knowledge of the keyboard from which he soon becomes acquainted with the scales, teachers say.

The course may be taken by any man, woman, or child who secures three new 26-week orders for home delivery of the Sun-Telegraph. To make it easier to obtain desirable class appointments, the student may enroll in the school as soon as he obtains one subscription. The other two may be turned in any time before the pupil's first class.

Subscription blanks will be sent to anyone filling in the coupon appearing elsewhere on this page, and mailing it to the Sun-Telegraph.

Moravian Leader Dies in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The Rev. Dr. Harry Emilius Stocker, 63, pastor of the First Moravian Church of New York, died at the Neurological Institute yesterday following an operation. He was a former president of the Moravian Christian Endeavor Union and of the Moravian Theological Seminary at Bethlehem, Pa.

Receiver Appointed For Mortgage Firm

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Appointment of a federal receiver for the Goldman Bond and Mortgage Company, a local concern, was secured by counsel for a client who alleged losses on bogus mortgages and sought to throw the company into involuntary bankruptcy. Hyman Goldman is head of the organization which he operates with his four sons. Federal Judge Carpenter named Sam Howard receiver.

Fireman Killed In Boston Blaze

BOSTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—One fireman, William Emmel, was killed last night while fighting a blaze which did $150,000 damage to a four-story brick building in the shoe and leather district here. Edward Tracy, another fireman, was probably fatally injured.

Erskine, Antheil Hired to Write Opera by Kahn

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—John Erskine, the author, and George Antheil, composer, have been commissioned by Otto H. Kahn to write a modern opera for the Metropolitan Opera House. Kahn declined to give details regarding the project.

Deems Taylor, who with Edna St. Vincent Millay, wrote "The Kings' Henchman," is now at work on a modern opera for Kahn, writing a libretto and score based on Du Maurier's novel, "Peter Ibbetson."

The Erskine-Antheil opera will not be based on any of Erskine's works, it was learned. Antheil will arrive from Paris in a few days to start work on the commission.

SLAYING CLOSES RIO CHAMBER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—The Brazilian Chamber of Deputies canceled today's morning session to avoid possible flareups which might result from the slaying of Deputy Souza Filho on the chamber floor yesterday by one of his collegues, Deputy Simoes Lopes.

The government redoubled its efforts to keep order, fearing the smoldering resentment in Republican circles.

The city was quiet today.

In a confession to the authorities, Lopes admitted having killed Filho in argument which grew out of long-standing political differences. He is said to have defended his act by stating he fired only after Filho had threatened his son, Luiz, who was also in the argument, with a revolver.

The shooting was the first ever to occur in the Chamber.

West View Streets Roped for Coasting

With hundreds of young people taking advantage of the Christmas holidays for coasting, West View police as a safety measure have designated streets on which sledding is permitted and traffic barred. These include portions of Ridgewood, Ashford, Jamaica, Lehigh and Stanford avenues.

Chinese Girl Second In Spelling Contest

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Marie Deusch, 13, of Golconda, is the new spelling champion of Illinois. Emma Quong, 13, a Chinese girl, of Havana, Ill., took second honors. Margaret Grady, Farmer City, also 13, was third.

The contestants were compelled to spell 225 words before a winner could be selected.

Ambridge Helps Open New Road

There Is a Big Market for Fur Coats in Pittsburgh .....

According to Miss C. R., 2650 Ellis avenue, there are fifty persons who would like to buy her fur coat.

Miss R. was getting tired of her fur coat and wanted to sell it. She ran a classified ad in several other Pittsburgh newspapers and did not get even one call. She was then advised to try the Sunday SUN-TELEGRAPH. She did so, and from Saturday evening until late Sunday night was deluged with 'phone calls—even out-of-town calls, from Ambridge, Charleroi, Export and Mars. She was able to cancel her ad after one insertion as she had sold her coat.

Miss R. further states: "I was sorry I was not in the Fur Coat business as I could have sold fifty, judging from the number of replies I got from the ad."

There is a valuable suggestion for the thrifty individual in this true story of results. If you have a fur coat or dress you no longer need or want, sell them as Miss R. did. The money you get from the sale of your old clothes will go a long way towards buying new.

Call Grant 5400 and tell the ad-taker what you have to sell. The ad will not cost you much and you are quite certain of results.

Navy's 'Sea Hawk' To Marry Writer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—One hundred fifty guests, including many of the west's most famous pilots, will witness the marriage ceremony January 18 of Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, former navy "sea hawk," and Miss Virginia Sullivan, writer. Art Goebel, Pacific flier, will be best man. A honeymoon journey by air is planned by the couple.

Man Poisons Young Daughter, Then Self

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Edward Bond, 41, service station proprietor, poured a powerful poison down the throat of his 5-year-old daughter, Rita, then quaffed the same draught. Both died. Mrs. Vena Bond, the wife and mother, tasted the poison after finding her baby dying, but will recover.

Counts Countless With Boston Clerks

BOSTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Evidently counts count for less here than in Germany.

Frederick Franz Graf Grote applied for a license to wed Miss Rachel D. Smith, of Back Bay. Joseph A. Cahalan, assistant registrar, asked the prospective bridegroom the meaning of "Graf."

"It means 'count'," said the applicant.

"If President Hoover came in here and wrote his name 'Herbert President Hoover,' we'd cross out the President," said Cahalan, running his pen through the "Graf."

The applicant gave his address as the Harvard Club, of New York.

DR. ZAHM GETS AVIATION CHAIR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Dr. Alfred F. Zahm, of the aerodynamical laboratory at the Washington Navy yard, was appointed to the Daniel Guggenheim chair of aeronautics at the Library of Congress.

Dr. Zahm, as occupant of the chair, which was recently endowed by the Guggenheim fund, will not teach or do research work, but will advise in the development of the library's aeronautical collection and in its use by the public.

For some years a professor of mathematics and mechanics at Notre Dame, and later at Catholic University in Washington, Dr. Zahm also was director of research at the Curtis-Wright works.

Houses Moved From 'Broke' Town

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—House by house, Manville, Wyo., is being divested of its homes and business structures.

Property owners have been moving buildings out of town at the rate of two or three a week since bonds issued by the municipality were defaulted. The Mayor of Manville appealed to the state attorney general but was advised there was nothing in the Wyoming law to prevent a man from moving his house.

Manville once was a thriving little town. It slumped, however, and extensive municipal improvements for which the bonds were issued, went into disuse. A large hotel built recently was moved nearly a hundred miles to another town. Some buildings are being moved just outside the city limits.

WEALTHY GIVER DIES AT 92

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—David W. Mulvane, Republican national committeeman for Kansas, late yesterday received word of the death of his father, Joab Mulvane, 92, millionaire banker and philanthropist, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Speed Hughes, in Los Angeles.

Mr. Mulvane had been a resident of Topeka 54 years. He was widely known throughout Kansas for his many charitable gifts and was regarded as "Topeka's greatest philanthropist."

2 BABIES DIE IN RANCH FIRE

GREELEY, Colo., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Fire resulting from a stove explosion took the lives of two small children, probably fatally burned their mother and destroyed the Claude McKee ranchhouse, near Briggsdale, 30 miles northeast of here.

The charred body of James Russell McKee, 11 days old, was found in the burned ruins of his crib. The other child, Anita, 2, was trapped in the living room of the house where the explosion occurred. Mrs. Maggie McKee, 27, is in the Greeley Hospital where physicians said she will die from the effects of her burns.

POISON HOLIDAY RUM CURBED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Prohibition Commissioner Doran's prediction of a Christmas free from poison liquor deaths appears to have been borne out, as reports from over the country disclosed scarcity of such fatalities.

Although at least 10 deaths from drinking were noted, most of them appeared due to alcoholism or other causes, and few were connected even in preliminary reports with supposed poison.

Prohibition officials attributed the showing in large part to the shutting off of denatured alcohol from the illegal beverage market. In addition, supplies of grain alcohol were kept distinct from supplies of wood alcohol, a deathly poison, more strictly than at times in the past.

No official claim of diminished drinking was advanced. Unofficial reports from various cities told of plentiful supplies and generous consumption.

Man Believed Struck By Train Succumbs

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Dec. 27.—Deputy Coroner L. M. Frye today was investigating the fatal injury yesterday of Frederick Gallagher, 55, of Lawrenceville, near here, who died in Monongahela Memorial Hospital. He was taken to the institution by an unidentified man. Police said he had been crushed by a train, but no official report as to where he was injured was available.

F. A. Finn Sails On Cuban Vacation

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—F. A. Finn, of Pittsburgh, sailed for Havana last evening on the S. S. Caronia, inaugurating the Cunard Line's service for the season to the Cuban capital. Mr. Finn will spend New Year's in Havana, reaching there next Monday. After an 11-hour stopover at Nassau.

KONJOLA PROVED DEADLY FOE TO DREAD NEURITIS

Other Ills, Too, Yield to New and Different Medicine. All Else Tried Failed.

Here is abundant cheer and hope for all who suffer from neuritis and who may fear that there is no relief for them from the pangs of this dread disease. Konjola, the new and different medicine, is daily winning victory after victory over this ailment.

MRS. MARY SCHLEGEL

At the same time Konjola is supreme in the obstinate cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel trouble and of rheumatism and nervousness. Yet it is not surprising that Konjola is such a success, for it is really 32 medicines skillfully blended into one, and of these 32 ingredients 22 are the juices of roots and herbs of known medicinal value. You can get all the facts about this superremedy from the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh. He has a message of cheer and hope. Let him tell you of countless cases wherein Konjola brought the first and only relief. Then profit from the experiences of others. Take, as a typical example of Konjola at work, the case of Mrs. Mary Schlegel, 1305 Hillsdale Avenue, South Hills, Pittsburgh, who said to the Konjola Man a few days ago:

"If only I had taken Konjola in the first place, think of the suffering and distress I would have escaped. But I do hope that others will profit from the lesson my experience teaches. A complication of ailments made life miserable for me. Stomach trouble, neuritis and nervousness were the bane of my life. I could not eat a meal without suffering afterward. Naturally I lost all desire for food. Then the neuritis pains became so severe that they were almost unbearable. Day and night they pierced my body. Nervousness was the natural result and as medicines failed, to benefit me I was at a loss to know what to do for myself.

"One day I read how Konjola had benefited a lady with ailments the same as mine. Could it be possible that this medicine would do the same for me? I dared not hope for too much and yet I could not allow this chance for betterment to slip by. So I secured several bottles and started the treatment. That was the turning point. Konjola worked wonders that I thought impossible. Daily my condition improved. My nerves were calmed and settled, my digestion was restored and the neuritis pains were swept away. They have never returned and I can hardly realize I am the same person. Glorious, indeed, was the health Konjola gave me. No words of mine can express my praise and gratitude."

Is it not logical to believe that what Konjola did for Mrs. Schlegel, as well as for thousands of others, it will do for you—for everyone?

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine. Konjola is also sold at all Dow Stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

HOLLYWOD, Dec. 27.

HOLLYWOD is growing. For the past few months we've had an all-night drug store. The one and only in the entire village. Now, beginning Saturday eve., we can brag about an all-night restaurant. Yep, the In-Your-Hat on Vine, near Hollywood boolvard, dares to blink the clock around.

Charlie C'aplin's studio rambles in an agreeable acreage facing a thoroughfare yclept Labrea. Recently the city fathers decided to widen and pave Labrea, thereby trafiforming it into a motor path of comfort. This small job, according to data reported to this bureau, cost Mr. Chaplin around $135,000. He has a hundred or so feet facing the new boolvard. Hence, the staggering assessment. It so chanced, however, that the city fathers needed a few feet of Mr. Chaplin's property in order to perpetrate the widening scheme. They paid for it. But even so, Charlie is said to have plunked over a round $35,000 to the city for the new asphalt smoothing the street front to his celluloid workshop. Which at this season of the year, is tough on any pocketbook.

Charlie Chaplin

Yet Charlie fared better than a coupla gals who operate a restaurant on another newly paved thoroughfare. These fems hang out the feed bags near Hollywood boolvard on Gower street. At one time, their place was a favorite dietetic gathering spot for flickites. Anita Stewart, Bill Hart, Viola Dana and other former headliners dropped in regularly. When the street was paved, the girls were taxed approximately $1.100 as their share for the asphalt. It so happened, however, that instead of widening the street on their side, the city fathers widened it on the other. So the gals paid and paid and dug into the family exchequer for the dubious privilege of obliging speeding motorists.

Schildkraut Cast In German Film

RUDOLPH SCHILDKRAUT has recovered from the siege of asthma that at one time threatened his life. The siege lost him a swell job in Herbert Brenon's production of "Sergeant Grischa." But Schildkraut, peer has been engaged by M. G. M. for a role commensurate with his histronic ability. He will enact in the German version of "Anna Christie," starring Greta Garbo, the part that George Marion plays in the American talky. Production is slated to begin today.

Rudolph Schildkraut

Whoops may or may not serve as preface and fini.

At all events, Carmel Myers traipsed herself into a restaurant and being optimistic ordered spinach. She traipsed into the same restaurant the following noon and didn't know what to order.

"We have some nice spinach," suggested the waiter.

Carmel, instead of asking how his liver was, commented: "I had some yesterday and there was more sand in the saucer than spinach."

"It's very nice today," argued the waiter, earning his salary if not his tip.

"Oh, I see," straight-faced Carmel. "They're trying to put grit in me."

Corinne Griffith Ends "Back Pay"

SCREENALITIES: Alice White slipped out of town the day before Christmas to a ranch not so far away....Corinne Griffith put in many hard hours on her new outloud, "Back Pay," and managed to finish the flick the day before Christmas. That is, 'tis finished except for the snow scene locations. It's to be hoped that when it does snow for "Back Pay" the snow won't sound like hammers in the darn "mike." It did in Billie Dove's last how-de-do....Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Brown lunching at Ye Embassy....Norma Talmadge, swained by Gilbert Roland and Eugene O'Brien, taking in Mae West's show, "Diamond Lil"....When Ben Lyon opened at a local theater in "The Boomerang," he received a wire from Mr. and Mrs. George Fitzmaurice's small daughter, Sheila, reading: "My mother says I'm too young to come to your play tonight, but maybe I'll be old enough to see the opening of your picture, 'Hell's Angels.'" Sheila is 4—or is it 5—months old, but if Bebe Daniels isn't careful the little vamp will lure Ben right away....And—that's all.

Leading Man

Louis Calhern is leading man in "The Love Duel," which Ethel Barrymore will present in the Alvin next week.

DOCTOR NOW, 'DON JUAN' MONDAY

Louis Calhern, leading man for Ethel Barrymore, who plays the young doctor in "The Kingdom of God" in the Alvin this week, will play the leading role in "The Love Duel," which Miss Barrymore will present next week, beginning Monday. Calhern was born in New York and made his debut there with a stock company. He has played leading roles with such actresses as Judith Anderson in "Cobra;" Laurette Taylor in "In a Garden;" Doris Keane in "The Czarina,' and Olga Petrova in "The White Peacock." He was seen here with Grete Nissen in "The Queen of Sheba."

"Children of Darkness," a new play, will be presented in the Nixon next week. Basil Sydney and Mary Ellis will portray the leading parts. J. Kerbey Hawkes, author of the play, also will have a prominent part in the cast. Following its local engagement, the production will open in New York.

There will be a midnight performance New Year's Eve of "Getting Gertie's Garter" in the Pitt. The performance will begin at 11:30 o'clock. It has been arranged to bring the first intermission exactly at midnight, and this is particularly apropos since the leading scenes of the play take place as the New Year is ushered in.

Keithe vaudeville in the Harris, starting Saturday, will have "The Toyland Revue," featuring a group of Lilliputs. Victor Graff will carry out the idea with a novel offering, and other acts will fill the holiday bill. "Tanned Legs" will be the singing and talking screen feature.

Arrange Benefit For Building Fund

An entertainment for the benefit of the building fund will be given next Friday night in the Bellevue Christian Church, under the auspices of the Delta Alpha Bible class. Miss Susan Short, of Youngstown, O., will give a program of readings, assisted by Clarence Short, reader and Mrs. Ruth Forney Gross, of Bellevue, soloist.

Children's Play By Little Theater

The fourth of a series of children's plays by the Children's Department of the Little Theater will be staged at the Pitt Theater Jan. 11, at 10:30 a. m., the Little Theater organization has announced.

Thrills on Whaling Ship Radio Feature Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

ATTACKED by a walrus, the crew of Cap'n Jimmy Norton's whaler have to fight gallantly to protect themselves in the Harbor Lights' program over WCAE at 9 o'clock tonight. The strange discovery of a lost balloon leads to varied suppositions.

Brown Footlites, WJAS at 8, offer Jimmy Hussey, the celebrated Broadway comedian, and Helen Richards, the blues singer.

Dvorak's comforting "Humoresque"—picturesque, imaginative—is scheduled for a solo by George Bass, the famous violinist, on Armour's concert over KDKA at 10:30.

Arthur Pryor's own "Whistler and His Dog," "Wedding of the Winds" and "National Emblem March" will be aired by the Schradertown Brass Band, WCAE at 9:30 p. m.

Lois Bennett and Mary Hopple will do "L Paloma" for the 10:30 concert over KDKA.

We Now Present

Don Thompson, one of the announcers for the Army-Stanford game over WCAE tomorrow at 4:45, is six feet tall and weighs 212 pounds.

G. Underhill Macy has resigned as "Hank" Simmons of Show Boat fame. He will continue as Tony the Wop and Fred Tibbets in "Real Folks."

RADIO DEN — Announcers, operators, secretaries, writers at Pittsburgh stations are to have a "home." Two rooms in the Little Theater Lane at Boyd street will be dedicated to the local radio fraternity. Furniture will be installed in a few days and an organization will be effected.

What the fraternity wants more than anything else is a good name. These have been submitted: Radio Den, Static Street, Ether Alley. What do you suggest?

Speaking of clubs, the "Far North" boys at Kay Dee have banded together under the name "Polar Bears." The membership is exclusive — Louis Kaufman, Walter G. Meyers and "Bill" Farren. Meetings are held every Saturday night at the KDKA microphone after which the boys adjourn to a downtown "beanery" for lunch about 3 a. m. The password "Woof! Woof!" won't get you anything.

Bob Rauch's merry smile now holds forth with the Crawford-McCauley Company, local representatives for Stromberg-Carlson radio.

"Tony" Wakeman visited with the boys and girls at WCAE yesterday. "Tony" likes college, but radio just a little better.

The WJAS Christmas Tree is beautifully decorated.

And the talk of folks at the Schenley Apartments is the cute little tree decorated by Virginia Harmon, the singer, and her mother, Dr. Alice M. Harmon.

TODAY'S TID BIT:

In wealthy circumstance and having most that money can buy, the sponsor of Sacred Songs and her husband decided it was their love for each other, really, that they were thankful for on Christmas Day and therefore they would not buy gifts. But Christmas morning came and guess what was under the tree —a pair of suspenders for Mr. ——and a beautiful bouquet for the sponsor.

The unhappy love of Marie Antoinette of France will be dramatized.
When Marie left Austria to marry the Dauphin, who later became Louis the XVI of France, she was a pretty, vivacious girl of 15. She soon found that her young husband liked only to shoot game and to hammer and mend locks. For many years she was compelled to amuse herself.
There was one man whom she apparently loved, the Swedish nobleman, Count Fersen. Somewhat contrary to court precedent, the young nobleman rejected the beautiful Queen, whom he loved. He left France for her sake and came to America with Lafayette.

Stranded With Actors.
Due to uncertain weather conditions, Mary and Bob have temporarily abandoned the faithful car which has carried them on so many adventurous miles. Tonight will find them traveling by train toward Mary's sister's home in the snow-clad fastnesses of the Adirondacks.
Held over at a small junction, the tourists join a group of thespians who are waiting in the cramped quarters of the little railroad station. Mary and Bob are immediately accepted into full membership in the party and are greatly amused at the impromptu "revue" which follows. The company's leading man tells them the story of "The Two Women in My Life."

Pope Bids Farewell To Cardinal Hayes

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Pope Pius last night received Cardinal Hayes, of New York, in a private farewell audience before the latter's departure for the United States.

His Holiness expressed his thankfulness for the satisfaction he had during his jubilee year, emphasizing particularly the conciliation between the church and the state as the crowning point of his joy. He told Cardinal Hayes several times that he would be glad to see him again and wished him a pleasant journey.

Ohio Coal Operator Dies in Cleveland

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 27.—William J. Sampson, 58, coal operator, died suddenly while visiting his son, William J. Sampson, Jr., in Cleveland. Mr. Sampson was one of the leading coal operators of Ohio. He was president of the Witch Hazel Coal Company, operating mines at Cadiz, O. He was also a director of the First National and Dollar banks.

Cuts Throat, Then Hangs Self in Barn

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Harvey Campbell, 70, Cool Springs Township farmer widely known in Western Pensylvania as a grain dealer, committed suicide, cutting his throat and hanging himself from a beam in his barn. He had been in ill health for some time, and was subject to spells of melancholy.

TAX REMOVAL BRINGS GIFT

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—A recent presidential decree eliminating taxation on donations to La Beneficencia Privada, a charity organization, will bring a gift of $7,500,000 to the institution, which would otherwise have gone to the French clergy.

Landa Beriozasal, president of the charity organization, announced that Senorita Luz Bringas, a wealthy Mexican living in Paris, has made a will leaving that sum to the organization, provided the federal tax on donations was removed. Otherwise the money was to go to the French clergy.

A decree eliminating the tax was published two days ago.

ROCKEFELLERS AID SCHOOL

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The transfer of the famous Paris Medical School from its present cramped quarters on the left bank of the Seine to a vast new tract known as the "wine market," was made possible by the announcement of a gift of 300,000,000 francs (about $12,000,000) from the Rockefeller Foundation.

The Paris afternoon papers expressed their gratitude for the gift, which must be supplemented by French contributions. The old medical school buildings long ago had become inadequate. They had been arranged for a thousand students and the school wished to provide for 10,000.

Preparations are being made through generous American gifts to surround the new medical center with clinics, hospitals and laboratories.

College Drinking On Wane, Says Frat Head

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Sigmund H. Steinberg, of Philadelphia, supreme master of the Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity, said here that efforts by college and university officials had brought about a marked decline in drinking among students.

Speaking at the fraternity's thirteenth annual convention, Steinberg outlined his observations during a recent tour of 16 colleges and universities, as compared with his findings on a similar tour a year ago.

He said efforts of officials to reduce drinking were meeting with particular success at the University of Illinois. In most cases, Steinberg said, reports of drinking in fraternity houses were greatly exaggerated.

MRS. WERTHEIM GETS DIVORCE

RENO, Nev., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Alma Mongenthau Wertheim, daughter of Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, was granted a divorce here from Maurice Wertheim, New York banker. Custody of the three minor children is granted to Mrs. Wertheim. The father, by agreement, is to pay part of the cost of their maintenance.

Mrs. Wertheim charged her husband with mental cruelty. She said he showed no appreciation of her feelings but was absorbed entirely in his business. She tried to make a success of their married life, she said, but without result. He showed no interest in the home nor the things she did or said, but ridiculed and criticised her. He sought to dominate her, she said, and at times gave way to outbursts of temper. They were married in New York April 15, 1919.

CUBANS SLATE LABOR MEET

HAVANA, Dec. 27. — (AP.) — Preparations are going forward for the opening on January 15 of the first Cuban labor congress ever to be held, with large delegations from all parts of the island and with a delegation to come from the American Federation of Labor as observers.

Interior points of the island will send more than 4,000 men to attend the meetings to be held here. Havana will add at least 2,000 workmen representatives, according to pre-congress labor reviews.

Great importance is being attached to the forthcoming labor meetings as it will constitute the first attempt of all insular labor organizations to meet in mutual discussion of labor problems and in an attempt at closer co-operation.

The program being drafted will be wholly dedicated to the discussion of problems affecting working conditions throughout the island, from the ports and customs houses of the nation to every sugar mill, store or business in Cuba.

Mine Disaster Orphans Get Treat

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 27.—More than 135 children of Mather, orphaned by the mine explosion last year, were visited by Santa Claus Christmas Day and presented with presents, candy and fruit.

The treat was arranged by the Mather Colleries Company and citizens of the Mather district.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO; 4 HURT

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 27.—Four Monongahela Railway Company employes were injured, a woman probably fatally, when a southbound freight train crashed into a machine driven by a company telegraph operator near the West Virginia State line.

Miss Edith Conwell, of Morgantown, W. Va., is in the Monongalia Hospital at Morgantown. Others injured were George F. Newcomer, South Brownsville; W. H. Hockenberry, West Brownsville and H. B. Phillips, Brownsville, all trainmen.

The accident occurred when Engineer G. C. Ferguson brought the train to an emergency stop when Miss Conwell's car ran in front of the moving train at a crossing.

MAN ARRESTED IN P. O. THEFT

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 27.—Floyd Kerr, 23, former Greene County resident, who came here recently from Oklahoma, was arrested at the request of postal authorities, who stated that Kerr was wanted in connection with a postal robbery at Shawnee, Okla. Kerr is being held pending arrival of Federal officers.

No details of the robbery were contained in a telegraphic request received here by Chief of Police J. R. Davis from postoffice authorities. An earlier letter asking police to look for Kerr said that he would likely be in Greene County to visit relatives at Christmas.

Kerr, who is said to be a rig builder, came East by auto.

INSURANCE CO. LIQUIDATES

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The state superintendent of insurance, Albert Conway, has announced close of the liquidation of the North American Title Guaranty Company under a plan by which its obligations will be paid in full with interest and its contingent liability of $18,336,506 on all outstanding title policies will be satisfied.

The company which had its home offices here and did business in 18 states, was taken over by the insurance department in August.

Mr. Conway's report showed the Title Insurance Company of Richmond, Va., has agreed to assume the entire contingent liabilities.

Five Driven Out When Home Burns

ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 27.—Five members of the family fled in scanty attire when fire destroyed the home of John Hill, North of Lexington. The family was cared for by neighbors.

11 Firemen Injured In Harrisburg Blaze

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Eleven firemen were overcome or injured fighting a fire in the Dauphin Building, Market and Second streets, last night. Loss was confined to water and smoke damage.

The building endangered by the flames was formerly the old Commonwealth Hotel, famous for its political associations and now an office building.

Canales, Mexican Interior Head, Dies

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The sudden death of Felipe Canales, under-secretary in the Department of the Interior and its acting head, has removed one of the outstanding figures in the present Mexican administration from the political scene.

Senor Canales, who was only 34 years old, died of heart disease. He had had charge of the Interior Department since the Portes Gil government took office a year ago, and his career was marked by many progressive measures. Among them was the fostering of tourist travel from the United States to Mexico.

Waynesburg Man Hurt at Gas Well

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 27.—Allen T. Hill, of Waynesburg, had several fingers on his left hand broken and his arm badly cut when it was caught in a gas engine which he was repairing at a gas well here.

Tourist Injured In Crash of Cars

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 27.—When an automobile driven by an unidentified driver struck a machine driven by Clayton Robinson, 40, of Frostburg, Maryland, on the Lincoln highway west of here, Robinson was severely injured.

Bellevue Student Honored at State

Milton C. Young, of Bellevue, a senior student in Pennsylvania State College, has been elected a member of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity. The society selects its members from engineering students who stand high in scholarship and who have shown special ability in engineering.

Etna Choir Will Present Cantata

A cantata, "The Christ Child," will be presented by a choir of 16 voices Sunday morning in the First Congregational Church, Etna, under the direction of Raymond Metzger, organist.

Feast Provided, Indians Start Celebration

PONCA CITY, Okla., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—With unflagging appetite and the dancing of moccasined feet in the flicker of camp fires, the Poncas have entered on a feast which promises to continue for several days at their camp on the banks of the Red Fork River near Ponca City.

The feast is the gift of Arthur Lawrence, of Long Island, N. Y., a member of the board of directors of the Continental Oil Company, whose name a month ago was inscribed on the roll of honorary members already including that of John Philip Sousa, the "march king."

Lawrence gave for the feast two beeves with plentiful other provisions. Some 400 Braves and their women have assembled for the feast with Horse Chief Eagle, hereditary chief of the tribe.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Miss Plumer To Marry Jan. 18

BEFORE the season passes away gradually, there'll be a few weddings of exceptional interest. By late January philanthropy will be the occupation of social leaders who stay in the north for the remainder of the winter.

One of the weddings of next month will be that of Catherine Irwin Plumer, daughter of Henry Adams Plumer, of Philadelphia, formerly of Pittsburgh, whose engagement to William Winton Murray, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Donald Murray, of Scranton and New York, has been announced.

Catherine, who lived in Pittsburgh when a child, has named Saturday, January 18, as the date of her marriage.

AND today Lydia Irish, daughter of the Franklin Cadwallader Irishes, is making her debut at a tea dance in the Pittsburgh Golf Club, which her father and mother are giving.

And there'll be just one more girl to make her bow, I believe, this season, Elizabeth Curry, whose father and mother, the Henry Milo Currys, will present her at a ball in the Pittsburgh Club on New Year's night.

AND one of our buds is engaged, charming Ruth Drake, daughter of the J. Frank Drakes. At the dinner for Ruth the Drakes gave last night, followed by dancing, in the Pittsburgh Golf Club, the news of the betrothal became known. For receiving with the bud and her father and mother was her fiance, Chester Harding Lasell, son of the Josiah Manning Lasells, of Whitinsville, Mass.

Pine trees gave a Yuletide atmosphere to the clubhouse, and pink roses centered the dinner tables. The bud wore silver lame and tulle, and her mother, green and silver lame.

AND now that Christmas is over folks seem to be thinking of spring. Again I was reminded of that approaching season at the ball the William Christopher Robinsons gave last evening in the Pittsburgh Club in honor of their debutante daughter, Mary Franklin Robinson. The ballroom was decorated in yellow and pink, with multi-colored balloons hung in clusters from each corner and from the center of the ceiling. The sidelights were twined with sprays of pink wisteria and hung with balloons. The stage was outlined in smilax and the backdrop was formed of panels of pastel-tinted silk. A hedge of rose pink begonias, pandanus, ferns and ivy shaded the footlights.

The stairway leading to the ballroom, by which the guests entered, was arched with greens and wisteria vines. The tiny supper tables held baskets of colorful spring flowers, golden daffodils tulips, yellow roses and blue iris.

The bud wore a distinctive gown of white chiffon and tulle and carried yellow roses. Mrs. Robinson was gowned strikingly in green and gold moire and carried rapture roses.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD M. SEIBERT, of Lytton avenue, Schenley Farms, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betty Charles Seibert, to Raymond Lynn Patterson, of New York, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson Patterson, of Clearfield, Pa.

* * *

DR. AND MRS. ROBERT CLEVER ROY, of South Pacific avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Bucher Roy, to James L. Austraw, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Austraw, of the East End. Both Miss Roy and her fiance were graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology, class of '28.

H. G. BREGENVER and H. L. Lewis are chairmen of a dance for the junior and senior members of the South Hills Country Club to be given this evening in the clubhouse.

A SHOWER was held on Saturday in the home of Miss Ethel Faux, Eccles street, in honor of Miss Elsie Stocker, of Cedarhurst street. The decorations were in yellow and white. Miss Stocker's engagement to August Winterling, of Wilkinsburg, has been announced.

STEEL CITY CHAPTER, No. 341, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a Christmas party in the Florence Crittendon Home in South Aiken avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. A card party will be given by the same chapter on January 9.

Horse Sensation At Society Dance

MONKTON, Md., Dec. 27. — Golden Eagle has been "the sensation of a society holiday dance. Much embarrassed, he received the admiration of a throng of men and women in evening dress in the ballroom of Van Duzer Burton's country home. Golden Eagle is Burton's favorite hunter. Burton rode the horse into the ballroom.

MERCURY RISES IN MIDWEST

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27.—(Ap.)—Rushing from one extreme to another, the weather gods of the lower Middle West have replaced the blizzard conditions of last week with record high temperatures for this season.

Throughout the southern half of the central states the mercury hung well up in the fifties yesterday and in Arkansas, Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, visited only a few days ago by zero temperatures, the readings were as high as 70 degrees.

St. Joseph, Mo., with 56 degrees, saw a record of at least 19 years shattered for that date. Weather bureau records were unavailable for years preceding 1910.

Maximums in Kansas City and St. Louis were 56, Wichita and Oklahoma City 62, and Fort Worth 70.

U. S. TO AUCTION BEER PLANT

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—The United States this afternoon will sell at public auction the fully equipped and now famous brewery of Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake.

Possession of the beer plant, completely stocked with machinery to make ale, was obtained by the government for $500,000 in delinquent taxes. The attachment came only after the two beer hustlers hustled Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge, collector of internal revenue, off the premises and then apologized.

Mrs. Blacklidge will preside at the sale, and, it is rumored, prohibition agents will be on hand to make a note of the name and address of the purchaser.

$200,000 In Autos Destroyed By Fire

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed the main portion of the Southern Arizona Automobile Company building here, with loss estimated tentatively by the fire department officials at $200,000. Automobiles on display in the show room and stored in the company garage were included in the loss. Telephone cables were burned and service disrupted.

Mrs. Bowman To Speak At Club

MRS. IDA WRIGHT BOWMAN, who has been regularly on the Friday Morning Club calendar ever since the inception of the club's lecture series, will give the next talk in this year's course. The club will resume its sessions January 3 in Carnegie Music Hall with Mrs. Bowman giving one of her comprehensive, entertaining and authoritative talks on political current events. Mrs. Bowman will again appear before the club February 7 and March 7, closing the season on the latter date.

ON account of New Year's Day, the monthly meeting of the Pasavant Hospital Ladies' Aid Society has been postponed until January 8.

WHEN he appears before the Tuesday Musical Club and its guests, January 3, in Carnegie Music Hall, Jose Mojica will be assisted by Troy Sanders as accompanist and piano soloist.

AN additional committee announced for the Christmas dance to be given tonight by the junior section of the Crafton Woman's Club includes Alice Crist, Kathryn Walker and Mrs. W. F. Waddell, who will have charge of decorations. The affair is being held in the Chartiers Heights Country Club and is sponsored by the clubhouse committee. Miss Elizabeth Coulter, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Russell and Miss Rosemary Daschbach, will be in charge of tickets; Mrs. William McGhee will have charge of music, while Mrs. R. A. Tucker, assisted by Mrs. Willard Kramer, Mrs. A. A. Huck and Edith Underwood will take care of the bridge tables.

THE Congress of Clubs is planning the customary open-house for New Year's Day. A special dinner, for which reservations must be made, will be served from 1 until 8 o'clock. In the evening there will be music for dancing in the auditorium. The Congress home department will meet for luncheon and program next Friday with Mrs. J. Charles Wilson speaking on "The Educational Value of Poetry in the Home." The ways and means department is to meet Friday morning and a meeting of the board of directors will be held Monday morning.

CENTRAL Branch Young Women's Christian Association has an especially attractive Christmas tree this year. It is trimmed entively in silver and white lights, is illuminated by flood lights and reaches above the balcony railing right to the chandelier. Two smaller trimmed trees stand at either side of the big fireplace in the lobby and in addition to these, Christmas greens and wreaths have made the entire house very gay, holly being used to outline the lobby doorways. A silver-trimmed tree adorns the dining room, too, and little trees are on the tables.

ELSIE BREESE MITCHELL, chairman of music at the Congress of Clubs, and her husband, Dr. W. T. Mitchell, Jr., of North Highland avenue, have as their guests over the holidays Dr. Mitchell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mitchell, of New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell motored from New York and will drive to Muscatine, Ia., after leaving Pittsburgh. Mrs. R. A. Mitchell is a former national secretary of the alumnae of Miss Mason's School at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson.

MRS. SARAH KILLEN is general chairman for the dinner and card party which the O. E. S. Temple Association of Western Pennsylvania will hold Monday in the Food Craft Shop, Fifth avenue.

Passenger Holds Up And Robs Taxi Driver

D. C. Beck, of 3439 Parkview avenue, a taxicab driver, reported to police early today that a man who engaged his cab on Braddock avenue, near Penn avenue, robbed him of $31 at Lang avenue and Thomas boulevard.

TAFFETA WITH ROSE PRINT PROVES POPULAR FOR YOUTH

—Sketched in Paris—

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—Roses bloom again on many of the new frocks, thus proving that the rose pattern is the loveliest and most beloved of all floral designs. The rose in all colors is flung with prodigal profusion on chiffon and taffeta dance frocks designed for now and for resort wear later. There is something of an old world charm and picturesque appeal in the rose print taffeta frock that should make it most popular with the younger set, to whom the present fashions savor of "dressing-up." The girls who were youngsters before the war, have worn nothing but the simple, short skirted almost boyish clothes and this year must feel as though they were dressing for a masquerade ball. And so it is no wonder that the present fashions have secured the enthusiastic endorsement of the younger generation both here and your side.

TWO types of print tell the story of one of the newest Lelong afternoon ensembles. The coat and skirt are of black velvet with a white design, and the bodice is of white with the same design in black. The large shawl collar and the band of the skirt are of pointed fox. There are flaring butcher cuffs and a marked flaring movement on the coat and skirt. The flare continues as a marked feature of the silhouette and seems likely to remain.

THE lovely dance frock shown is also from the atelier of Lucien Lelong. It is of pompadour taffeta, a rose design on a dark blue ground. The simple straight silhouette blouses ever so slightly at the waistline, reaches to the knee and then flares in a cascade of bouffant flounces and godets, dipping quite to the heels in back. Although much taffeta was shown earlier in the season, it was not in such demand, but lately, in printed versions, is seen at ever so many smart dining and dancing places with pleasing frequency. Taffeta is a material particularly suited to the crisp bouffant mode that obtains in the newest dance frocks.

Discovery of Fire Cannot Be Traced

NEW YORK.—The first discovery of fire cannot be known definitely. The most probable theory is that it was discovered in process of making stone implements, when sparks were struck off. Fire caused by lightning may have been utilized by primitive man.

BLAST WRECKS HOME; 3 HURT

STEUBENVILLE, O., Dec. 27.—As a result of a gas explosion which wrecked one home, injuring three persons and causing property damage of $20,000, scores of homes were without gas for heat last night, authorities ordering service cut, fearing further blasts.

Entering his room at the home of Charles Spaulding, 47, Luke Wasson, 57, struck a match to light the gas stove. Accumulated gas exploded, tearing the house and contents to shreds and smashing glass in windows and stores for a radius of two blocks.

Wasson, probably fatally burned, was rushed to the Ohio Valley Hospital. Spaulding and his sister, Miss Hetty Spaulding, 55, were slightly hurt. They were rescued from the debris of the three-story brick structure by high school students before firemen arrived.

The blast rocked the business district and shattered glass in street cars and automobiles.

NOT HIS FAULT, ECKENER SAYS

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, issued a sharp denial here of charges that he was responsible for abandonment of the airship's projected flight to the North Pole.

The trip was abandoned owing to the impossibility of obtaining suitable insurance in time for the start, it was said.

According to Dr. Eckener, the Aero-Arctic Society, which sponsored the proposed flight, alleged that he was responsible for the delay in obtaining insurance for the trip.

"The society entertained an incomprehensible optimism regarding the insurance and the time necessary to prepare for the flight," Dr. Eckener declared.

Child Playing With Rifle Kills Sister

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—A grandmother's birthday party ended in tragedy late yesterday when 5-year-old Albert James killed his sister with a small rifle. The boy got his grandfather's rifle, playfully pointed it at Christine, 7, shouted "boom," then fled as the weapon was discharged. The child died a few minutes later at a hospital.

The shooting was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jamison, where the latter's sixty-second birthday anniversary was being celebrated. The youngster climbed on a chair to get the rifle from a nail on the kitchen wall.

Rum Conspiracy Trial Nears End

COUER D'ALENE, Idaho, Dec. 27.—(AP.) — The defense in the trial of 28 citizens of Mullan, Idaho, including the sheriff and city officials, on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law, neared its end today.

Attorneys for the accused persons announced that but a few more witnesses remained to be called and that they might be able to complete their case by tonight or tomorrow.

Vandergrift Man Arrested in Raid

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Dec. 27.—Amelia Saffiro, 48, of Vandergrift, is held under $1,000 bond after County Detective Sherman Hill, Arnold; Constable Joseph Levandowski, Vandergrift, and deputies, raided the basement of Saffiro's residence and confiscated a 50-gallon still, a barrel of mash, 200 pounds of corn sugar, seven gallons of moonshine, 37 quarts of beer and 340 gallons of wine.

2 Hurled to Death As Train Hits Car

CADIZ, O., Dec. 27.—Jesse Clark, 45, and Mrs. Blanche Ball, 70, both of Leesville, near here, were killed when an auto in which they were riding was struck by a Wheeling and Lake Erie passenger train on a crossing near Leesville. The impact hurled the machine into a creek.

SCAIFE LAND FIGHT AGAIN IN COURT

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

TRUE STORY: It was understood that he and the boss' daughter would soon be married. He was capable and ambitious. His money he saved for their married life. He wanted to please her with a Christmas gift, but he couldn't decide on the gift. Finally he sent a pair of expensive gloves.

Disappointment filled her. She hurled the gloves into the fire without trying them. She didn't know that into the gloves he had stuffed two new $100 bills so that she might buy just what she wanted.

When he telephoned, she refused to answer. So they haven't made up yet but undoubtedly they will. He can understand, with intelligent philosophy, that her action was simply evidence that she cares for him, that her disappointment at receiving what she thought mere gloves from him, of all men, was so great that she took refuge in feminine license.

Joe Taggart, the man who meets all the trains for the Baltimore and Ohio, was enjoying a few words with a financial power who was wise in the ways of investments. The gentleman was a good friend of Joe's.

"Do you know of anything good in the investment market?" Joe inquired after an interval.

The magnate said he didn't. So they talked of the weather and the trains and what the younger generation's coming to. As they were parting Joe couldn't resist a second query.

"You're sure," he probed, "you don't know of a good investment?"

The magnate was still sure he didn't know of anything good in investments. So they said goodby.

"Ho, Joe," the magnate called back, "I do know something good, at that."

"What is it?"

"Liberty Bonds."

YOUNG RUDY and Joe Walcott were enjoying a well-earned rest in their joint dressing room in Motor Square Garden after they had pummelled each other about the ring on Christmas afternoon.

Each had just earned a few hundred dollars and no doubt was planning on disposing of the remuneration when a Negro, full of Christmas cheer, hurried in.

"Boss, gimme two halves for a buck," the Negro addressed Jim Mason, Rudy's very courtous manager. Mason executed the favor without charge.

"Boys," the Negro spoke to Rudy and Walcott, "you fights a good fight and I shows my 'preciation. Heah's fifty cents fo' each o' you."

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 27. THE White House fire burned quite a while due to the following: When Mr. Hoover discovered that "some kind of condition existed" he sent out letters inviting all the fire departments in Washington, and when they arrived, appointed them on a commission "To investigate, and recommended remedies."

They did investigate and on account of there being no prominent businessmen on the commission they turned in their report fairly quick.

"We find a fire does exist, and in keeping with the spirit of every amendment, recommend nothing but water to extinguish it."

Of course by this time the house had burned down, but it was nevertheless gratifying to Mr. Hoover, for it was the first commission that he had ever appointed in his life that had really ever turned in a report. So he figures the loss of the building well worth it. It will renew his faith in commissions.

Yours, WILL.

COUNCILMEN PREPARE TO RETIRE

Malone and McArdle to Quit Jobs at Most Useful Period; Their Return Is Expected

At the height of their careers, and at a time when their experience might be expected to be of great value to the city, two veteran members of City Council, President James F. Malone and P. J. McArdle, are about to retire—temporarily,—from public life.

The vicissitudes of politics are to blame.

Defeated in their candidacies at the last primary election—Malone for mayor and McArdle for re-election to Council—they go out of office January 6.

Their zeal to serve the people has not abated, and friends predict they will not retire to obscurity or remain long out of office. They are born leaders, friends say, pointing to their life histories in substantiation, and the same qualities that enabled them to surmount handicaps of the most formidable sort will again bring them on top.

EYES ON CONGRESS

McArdle is expected to be a candidate for Congress. But neither he nor Malone has anything to say in regard to their plans except that they have nothing definite in mind, but hope to continue to be of service.

The stories of the careers of these two men are in some respects strikingly similar. Each was doing a man's work at a tender age, when most boys are still clinging to their mother's apron strings. Neither had much schooling.

Malone was a newsie, selling papers at the corner of Diamond and Grant streets, where the City-County Building now stands, before he was 10. At 10 he was an errand boy for C. & W. Ziegler, Penn avenue meat dealers.

McArdle, orphaned at 5, was working in a rolling mill a few years later. Even at that early age he stood out from his fellows in one respect or another. A mill boy, who didn't either chew or smoke tobacco was regarded as unusual. McArdle did neither and never has used tobacco; but he will tell you with a smile that his sons more than make up for his deficiency in the consumption of the "weed."

HEADED STEEL WORKERS

I 1905, when he was 30, McArdle, then a heater in a rolling mill at Fort Wayne, Ind., was elected president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and came to Pittsburgh, headquarters of the organization, to live.

Malone in the meanwhile had entered the employ of the Singer Sewing Machine Company as a collector—a position from which he rose to be supervisor, in charge of all the company's Western Pennsylvania business.

McArdle was elected to Council for the first time on September 5, 1911, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of D. P. Black, one of the original appointees. Robert Garland went to Council at the same time to take A. J. Kelly's place. McArdle was re-elected for a full term in November of that year.

He was defeated in the Armstrong-Porter campaign of 1913 and was out of office for two years. He was returned to Council in 1915 and served until 1919, when he was again defeated. Council appointed him as an investigator and he served in that

Find No Clue in Stabbing of Boy

Mystery today shrouded the stabbing last night of Edward Blongsky, 14, of 535 Amity street, Homestead, who was reported in a serious condition in Homestead Hospital.

Police said the boy was found near his home with a deep wound in his left shoulder. At the hospital he told police, they reported, that "somebody" stabbed him.

Club Arranges Hike for Sunday

The Pittsburgh Hiking Club will walk from Hays to Carson street next Sunday. The hikers, with their leader, Miss Margaret Krepp, will board a Carson street car leaving Wood street and Fifth avenue at 1:30 p. m., and ride to Hays, where the hike will begin.

Boy Hurt Seriously By Hit-Run Driver

Struck by a hit-and-run motorist in Monongahela avenue, Glassport, last night, James Shirley, 11, of 14 Cherry way, Glassport, was in a serious condition in the McKeesport Hospital today. He suffered a probable fracture of the skull.

GIRL ANNOYED IN PARK

An unidentified man who, late last night, attempted to drag a girl into the shrubbery in Schenley Park, near Panther Hollow, was being sought by police today. He was frightened away by the screams of two of his victim's companions.

Sabille Wessell, 17, of 3924 Lydia street, reported to police that she and Henrietta McCarthy, of 4104 Haldane street, and Jeannette Walsh, of 4024 Haldane street, were returning to their homes from a skating party when the man leaped from the bushes and grabbed her.

The screams of her companions attracted several men. They gave chase, but the man disappeared down a narrow pathway.

Overbrook Council Member Resigns

Overbrook council last night received the resignation of Councilman L. B. Rohm, who leaves today for Youngstown, O., where he will make his home. Ordinances for grading, paving and widening a number of streets in the borough were passed. Councilman Harry Zoller, who asked action in removal of a pole from his sidewalk, was informed that Council would act at once on the request.

BIG TAX REFUND SURPRISE TO FIRM HEADS

Officials of Carnegie Steel State $25,847,259 Rebate Covers All Departments

Officials of the Carnegie Steel Company expressed surprise when they learned that the concern was a beneficiary in an amount exceeding $25,000,000 in the refund of federal taxes, as announced yesterday from Washington.

It was explained, however, that tax disbursements are handled through the office of the treasurer of the United States Steel Corporation in New York and the amounts aggregating $25,847,259 cover all the government levies on the Carnegie company's property and profits on which refunds have been awarded.

The corporate name of the local company is the Carnegie Steel Company of New Jersey since its reorganization under a New Jersey charter. While listed among Pennsylvania firms on which tax refunds were given, the Carnegie has large properties in Ohio and other states as well as in Pennsylvania, and the United States Steel Corporation pays the taxes of all its subsidiaries.

INJURY VERDICT SET ASIDE

Judge Nelson McVicar granted the motion of the Western Union Telegraph Company for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Mary Carroll, 60, who on November 21 was awarded a verdict of $1,200 against the company by a jury in Federal Court.

Mrs. Carroll testified at the trial of being severely injured while passing through a revolving door at the Carnegie Building, Fifth avenue, when a messenger of the company violently pushed the door. In on opinion granting the new trial Judge McVicar said there was no evidence in support of the plaintiff's allegations that she had been thrown to the floor or knocked down.

WED 42 YEARS, DIVORCED

A marriage of 42 years' existence was dissolved in Common Pleas Court with the granting of a decree in divorce to Mrs. Ella M. O'Hara, of 313 South Dithridge street, from William O'Hara, on the grounds of desertion. They were married December 20, 1887, in Madeira, Clearfield County, and have eight adult children.

Mrs. O'Hara testified that her husband never kept his promises to quit drinking after she remonstrated with him and that he left her in April, 1924, after she chided him for spending money on drink. On three other occasions he left, but returned, she said.

LIGHTING CANDLE A DAY IN FEAST

RABBI MOSES ROSENBLAUT — Lighting the first candle in the Feast of Lights, Hanukkah in the Hebrew, at Hebrew

HERMAN FOREMAN — Institute. For eight days, Pittsburgh Jewish people will observe the occasion.

LIGHT FEAST CELEBRATED

Jewish homes and Synagogues are celebrating the Feast of Lights, known in Hebrew as Hanukkah.

The feast, which began yesterday, is celebrated for eight days and is commemorated in the homes and Synagogues by lighting candles at the end of each of the eight days—one candle being lighted each day. The valor and heroism of Israel in its fight against tyranny and oppression is recounted to the children during the feast. It is a symbol of the victory of the forces of light over the forces of darkness.

Hanukkah had its beginning in the period during which Syrian and Egyptian rulers fought for Palestine. Atniochus Epishanes, king of Syria, conquered Jerusalem, killed many Jews and plundered their homes. He also desecrated the Temple of Jerusalem. Mattathias, an aged priest, and a small group of Jews, defeated the Syrian king and entered Jerusalem and rededicated the Temple.

Speaker's Illness Delays Banquet

The anniversary dinner which was to be held in the Fort Pitt Hotel Saturday night, commemorating the birthday of Woodrow Wilson, has been postponed, the committee in charge announced today. The postponement is due to the sudden illness of Dr. Stockton Axson, who was to be the principal speaker. A telegram was received by David L. Lawrence, chairman of the committee, from the Axson family last night announcing the doctor's illness.

Hose 1½ Miles Long Seized With Still

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Dry weather hereabouts is threatening the liquor supply. Federal prohibition agents who went out on a Christmas raid found a still that had obtained its water through a garden hose a mile and a half long. The spring that had been the original source of supply had dried up and a connection was made with a pipe line.

To prove it the agents brought in the hose along with the still. The operators had abandoned it.

BOGUS CHECKS LAID TO MAN

City detectives today were holding W. F. Glass, alias Brown, 29, of 403 Whitney street, Wilkinsburg, accused of having given several girls worthless checks.

When detectives complete their investigation, it was said, he will be turned over to Alderman A. W. Headley, of 1334 Federal street, who said he has two checks written by Glass.

Glass must also face a hearing on a charge of reckless driving in Emsworth, where it was said he was injured when his car plunged over an embankment.

FIRE IN STORE ROUTS MANY

Fire in the basement of a three-story brick building at 6268-70 Frankstown avenue, routed patrons and employes in the stores on the first floor of the building and adjoining business establishments, late yesterday. The blaze originated in the basement of Hart's furniture store, at 6268-70 Frankstown avenue, and was confined to that part by firemen who battled it for more than an hour. Battalion Chief Fred S. Beckett estimated the loss at $8,500.

Deer Creek Church Installs New Pastor

The Rev. John P. Aiken, formerly of Columbus Junction, Ia., has been installed as pastor of the Deer Creek United Presbyterian Church, near the Allegheny-Butler county line. He is a graduate of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and before taking a pastorate in Iowa had been minister at the Union Church near Crafton and of churches in Wilmerding and at Rochester, Pa.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS OPEN HOUSE

A varied program of entertainment is provided for the New Year's open house program at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. on New Year's Day. A feature will be the father and son swim from 10 a. m. until noon. Fathers who are members will invite their sons and the young members of the Y will invite their fathers.

During the afternoon there will be games and swimming for the boys and entertainment and movies for the children. For the adults there will be tournaments in handball, basketball, volley ball, billiards and checkers, a concert and swimming exhibition. Ladies will be welcomed during the afternoon and evening.

At 5:30 p. m. will be the annual open house dinner for families and friends of members. The glee club and orchestra will furnish the entertainment. There will be a family party at night.

Borough Leaders Plan Organization

Burgesses, police chiefs and other members of police departments of boroughs of Chartiers Valley and vicinity will meet in Carnegie Library, Beechwood avenue, Carnegie, tonight, to form an organization. Improved protection for municipalities involved will be its objective, according to chief Christ H. Keistling, of Carnegie, and Motorcycle Patrolman Gregg Manning, of Crafton, who comprise the committee on arrangements.

Fifth Ward Club Gives 200 Baskets

The Fifth Ward Progressive Club reported today that it had distributed 200 Christmas baskets to needy families in the Hill district. The distribution was in charge of W. E. Tucker, president of the club.

School to Repeat Christmas Pageant

The second performance of "The Miracle of the Chimes," a Christmas pageant by the School and Dramatic Society of St. Anne's Catholic Church, Millvale, will be given tonight in St. Anne's hall. It will be repeated tomorrow night.

Etna Elks to Be Host to Children

A Christmas party for children of members of the Etna lodge of Elks will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the club auditorium. A program of entertainment will be provided in addition to the usual treat.

WOMEN, MAN ASK APPEAL ON SALE

Right of Divorced Wife to Convey Holdings Without Ex-Mate's Name Attacked

A petition for leave to appeal to the United States Supreme Court was filed with Prothonotary Pier Dannals of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court by James Verner Scaife, Mary G. McKee, Isabelle C. McKee, Isabelle C. Chalfant and Eleanor M. Chalfant, seeking a review of the state court's decision that Scaife's former wife, Mrs. Mary Magee Scaife, may convey valuable property without the signature of her husband in the deed. Mrs. Scaife obtained a divorce in January, 1926.

The Common Pleas and Supreme Courts, through a declaratory judgment action, determined that Mrs. Scaife may convey a good title without Scaife's signature under the Act of September 12, 1927. The appeal sought rests on the ground that this act offends the United States Constitution, Scaife asserting a vested property right as tenant by the courtesy.

The Scaifes were married November 18, 1896, and Mrs. Scaife acquired the property in controversy in 1917 and 1918. The three women respondents, with an option granted them in 1926 to buy the property for $135,000, refused Mrs. Scaife's tender of a deed without the signature of Scaife.

CITY TO AWARD REFUSE WORK

Dr. C. B. Maits, director of the city health department, was expected to award contracts today for the disposal of garbage and rubbish, for which he has requested $1,700,000 in the 1930 budget.

Dr. Maits yesterday received a bid from the American Reduction Company of $6.58 a ton for collecting garbage from all sections of the city excepting the North Side.

The Allegheny Garbage Company submitted a bid of $6.95 a ton for collecting garbage on the North Side.

Both of those companies bids $7.82 a ton for the disposal of rubbish.

They were the only bidders and have had the city contracts for years.

ARRESTED IN CHECK FRAUD

Accused of passing worthless checks on a number of Wilkinsburg business men, Robert B. Good, 25, was arrested today at 433 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, where he rooms, by Chief of Police Wallace R. Bishop.

George Bennett, proprietor of a music store at 1009 Wood street, made an information against Good, before Justice of the Peace George C. Blair.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's question: A reader proposes a municipal match-making bureau. What do you think of it?

PEARL SILVERMAN, Squirrel Hill, pianist: "I'm really no authority on match-making. I do believe, however, that the only match-making establishment is in the firmament, where God is above and pairs them below. We don't need a match-making bureau."

Pearl Silverman

MARCELLA DEVERSON, South Hills, secretary: "I don't believe in it. It's not romantic. It might bring happiness, but more likely it would lead to discontentment. Put a question mark after that."

Marcella Deverson

H. J. BRENNEN, Crafton, general manager: "Very good! It would help out some of these poor girls who are so busy in the daytime. It would also help out some of these bashful old bachelors who are afraid to pop the question. Lead them to it."

H. J. Brennen

ANTOINETTE VENCE, Houston, Pa., stenographer: "I think you should meet your husband accidentally. That would be much more interesting. Supposing you were introduced to someone who was your ideal in the files, but in person wasn't so hot, after all. Wouldn't it be embarrassing to turn him down?"

Antoinette Vence

FRANCIS C. OWEN, East End, radio announcer: "It's good! Fine! Pittsburgh, being an industrial town, has many people from foreign cities and countries who find it hard to make friends, although churches and institutions help. These, however, surround themselves with an atmosphere of friendliness that would not be found in anything municipal in Pittsburgh. Municipal match-making bureau is a very good thing, but what has that to do with the traffic problem?"

Francis C. Owen

ANNE GOLDSTEIN, East Liberty, financial secretary: I don't think I approve of anything like that. I don't think it would be very successful, either. I want to meet Him accidentally and have some real romance, rather than with purpose, matrimony written all over my face."

Claims Husband Beat Her, Granted Divorce

Sent to a hospital for two months due to a beating by her husband a few weeks after their marriage, Mrs. Vaughn E. Sands, of 5425 Howe street, was granted a divorce from Elton J. Sands by Judge James B. Drew in Common Pleas Court on the grounds of cruelty.

Mrs. Sands testified that the attack occurred in their home in Cypress street less than two months after their marriage August 4, 1928. She said that when she asked Sands for funds to conduct the household he struck her a blow with his fist, knocking her over a bed, and threatened her with a revolver.

He struck her later after they had become reconciled because she refused to sign a letter, and this led to their final parting, Mrs. Sands testified.

Eddie Cantor Rises to Say:

BALTIMORE, Dec. 27.

IN the controversy between Senator Borah and Attorney General Mitchell, I hate to take sides—but Mitchell is right. The personnel of the "dry forces" are honest men, doing their best to uphold the law.

However, the attorney general must admit that the liquor we are getting now is inferior to what we got several years ago and the prices are a bit higher.

You cannot fool the American people on liquor.

They've had both—good and bad, mostly bad.

Arthur Brisbane, wise man of the East, suggests bringing a stomach pump to drinking parties.

May I take the liberty of amending this, Mr. Brisbane?

Why not have government stomach pumping stations scattered throughout the big cities?

The small towns won't need 'em because they are a hundred per cent dry.

MELLON INSTITUTE TESTS MAY REVOLUTIONIZE FARMING

CHEMICAL USE RIPENS FRUIT, VEGETABLES

Iodine Treatment Adds Color and Flavor; Find Panacea for Disease

Chemicals derived from natural gas through processes evolved at the Mellon Institute are being used experimentally, it was learned today, to ripen fruit in advance of the normal time and shorten the period between sowing and harvesting.

Potatoes have been made to sprout two months earlier than they would without application of the chemicals, and lilacs and flowering almonds have been brought into blossom in December.

An iodine treatment to improve the quality of growing lettuce is also being tried.

DISEASE COMBATTED

Not only is plant growth stimulated by the use of the compounds. Chemicals are being employed to combat plant disease and improve the quality of the product.

If a way can be found to produce the compounds cheaply enough for commercial use on a large scale agricultural methods may be revolutionized, it was said.

In a recent talk before officers of the Chemical Warfare Service, Dr. E. R. Weidlein, director of Mellon Institute, alluded to this matter. Asked to explain the results of the research at greater length, he said:

"In recent years the use of certain organic chemicals as plant stimulants has attracted much attention.. It has been found, for example, that the gaseous hydrocarbon ethylene, produced from natural gas, will change the color of citrus fruit from green to yellow. As a result of this work of the United States Bureau of Chemistry, carload lots of oranges, lemons and grapefruit can be easily treated to give the color desired for table use. One cubic foot of ethylene per 1,000 cubic feet of space is used commercially. It is said that the treatment does not have a deleterious effect on edible portions of the fruit and that it apparently acts by stimulating plant activity.

POTATOES SPROUTED

"As is well known, potatoes require a rest period after harvesting before they are able to start sprouting. It has been demonstrated at the Boyce Thompson Institute that the rest period of some varieties of potatoes can be reduced by as much as two months by the use of certain chemicals. Lilacs and flowering almonds were forced into blossoming by Christmas. After extensive experimentation with several hundred chemicals, ethylene chlorhydrin was found to be one of the most effective agents, although many others stimulate growth.

Supplementing Dr. Weidlein's remarks, Dr. W. A. Hamor, assistant director of Mellon Institute, said:

"One of the industrial fellowships of Mellon Institute is investigating the action of iodine on plant growth. If a soil is deficient in iodine content, it must be enriched by the addition of an iodine salt such as sodium iodide to insure plant growth. Certain vegetables such as lettuce, which are normally high in iodine content—a fact which suggests that more than an ordinary amount of iodine is necessary for producing good lettuce—are now being studied for the purpose of learning whether or not better grades of lettuce can be produced by suitable iodine treatment."

Veteran City Councilmen, Voted Out, Retiring At Heights of Power

STREET CLOSING PARLEY CALLED

East End residents who oppose the proposed closing of Hays street to make way for an athletic field for Peabody High School, and those who favor it, have been invited by the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce to attend the luncheon of the chamber, Tuesday, January 7, in Walker-Moore Inn, Collins avenue and Broad street.

At this meeting Marcus Aaron, president of the Board of Public Education, will speak on the proposed closing of the street, which he and the board he heads favors.

The weekly luncheon meeting of the chamber, set for New Year's Eve, has been postponed because of the holiday week.

REV. SLONAKER DIES AT 61

The Rev. Dr. Paul J. Slonaker, 61, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, North Side, died early today at Presbyterian Hospital after an illness of three weeks. He resided at 1211 Boyle street, North Side. He had filled several charges in the Pennsylvania Presbyterian Synod and was a prominent member of the Pittsburgh Presbytery.

He was educated at Grove City College and after his ordination was called to the Presbyterian Church at Zelienople, married Miss Frances Ida McKinney, of Franklin, Pa., who with these children, Mrs. Frances Sutton, Dorothy, Louise, Miriam, Rachel, Charlotte, Paul L. and Samuel McK. Slonaker, survives. He also leaves one sister and three brothers.

2 COUNCILMEN TO RETIRE

capacity until 1921, when he was re-elected. He has been in Council continuously since then. During his first term as chairman of the public works committee, he has been, during the past eight years, chairman of the welfare committee.

MALONE ON PUBLIC JOB

Malone's first public office was the directorship of the Department of Supplies, to which he was appointed by Mayor E. V. Babcock in January, 1918. The war was on and supplies were hard to get. Malone says he got a bigger thrill from this work than from anything he has since done in the public service. Hoover appointed him at that time secretary of the Fair Price Committee for Pittsburgh. One of the notable things Malone did was to supply hospitals and other institutions with sugar at cost during the acute period of the sugar shortage.

Malone entered Council in January, 1922, and was re-elected in 1925. For six years he was chairman of the public works committee; during the last two years he has been president.

Malone and McArdle have been alike in having no special legislative hobbies. They have been interested in everything pertaining to the public welfare.

McArdle is credited with being chiefly responsible, among the councilmen, for the creation of Morals Court. The Mt. Washington roadway is the outstanding public improvement with which his name is linked, but he also played an important part in the construction of the Boulevard of the Allies, the widening of Second avenue, and the building of the Sawmill Run boulevard. McArdle was one of the original members of the City Planning Commission.

SPONSORS PLAYGROUNDS

Malone has always been as much interested in the minor public improvements as the major ones. Probably no councilman in recent years has had more residential streets graded and paved than he. He has the distinction of being the only councilman who ever made a motion to reduce city taxes and got it passed. Public playgrounds have always been dear to his heart. In 1926, he succeeded in having 30 established.

McArdle and Malone are both members of many social and fraternal organizations, but they are, first of all, home and family men. McArdle has eight children, all living; Malone, two. Malone's home is at 3215 Iowa street, in the Schenley Farms district; McArdle's, at 211 Bigham street, Mt. Washington. McArdle is a member of St. Mary's of the Mount Church, and Malone of St. Richard's.

Both men are enthusiastic followers of the more robust athletic sports. McArdle is a baseball "fan", while Malone's favorite game is football. Malone was once president of the Western Pennsylvania Basketball League, and for years sponsored baseball, basketball and football teams which bore his name.

Today Malone is westward bound with the Pitt football team to attend their game with the University of Southern California.

Body of Dead Son Taken to Pair In Store

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The Christmas toys of 2-year-old Cecil Collins, Jr., were put away today.

Yesterday his parents were visiting a kinsman's small grocery, a man entered, holding in his arms the body of a child.

"He was struck by an auto," said the man. "Get help."

Mr. and Mrs. Collins looked at the child. It was their son. He was dead.

A woman was said to have driven the death car and is sought by police.

Chamber Plays Host to Sons, Father

The annual Father and Son dinner and celebration of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Chamber this evening. A committee headed by Dan T. Felix has prepared a program of stunts for the boys, and nearly two dozen prominent business concerns have contributed a great variety of souvenirs. Each boy present will be given a box full of these.

The entertainers inclue two magicians, Cy Hungerford, the cartoonist, Art James, the monologist, and Rose Marie, the girl accordian player. In addition there will be music throughout the evening by the Pennsylvania Railroad Red Arrow Quartet and a well known orchestra.

SLEUTHS SEEK LOST PORKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The mythical bloodhounds of Washington's Bureau of Missing Persons may yet be called upon to help unravel the capital's current unsolved mystery.

The meager facts of the case, as set forth in a letter to Detective John F. Baxwell, are these:

"Lost: One small pig in a sack.

"Said pig is white and black spotted, contained in a gunny sack, dropped from the rear compartment of my Ford coupe."

An added thrill has been lent the mysterious swine hunt through information furnished by the loser. Dr. C. Jabel Robinson, a veterinary surgeon, that "the pig was helpless in the sack but 'wild' at large."

The police, completely baffled, have advanced the theory that the alleged victim met his or her demise immediately before the Christmas dinner of some Washington resident.

Chilean Embassy Aid, Wife Injured

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Commander Juan Polich, naval attache of the Chilean embassy, and Senora Polich were slightly injured late last night in an automobile accident.

Their machine skidded into an electric pole and shattered glass from the windshield caused Senora Polich to suffer slight lacerations of the face. Both were badly shaken up.

22 Drown as Ships Crash Near Egypt

LONDON, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—Twenty-two persons, including five passengers, were drowned when the Bulgarian steamer Varna sank in the Mediterranean Sea off Alexandria, Egypt, after a collision with the Greek steamer Chrysoi, according to dispatches from Stamboul, Turkey, published here today. Only five of the Varna's crew were rescued, the dispatches stated.

JAPAN-CHINA FACE CRISIS

TOKIO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Diplomatic relations of Nationalist China and the Japanese government became increasingly strained today as the Nanking government persisted in its refusal to accept Torikichi Obata as minister from Japan.

Obata is former ambassador to Turkey. Nanking's objection to him is that he was Japanese charge d'affaires in Peiping at the time of the famous 21 demands on the Peiping government in 1915.

The Tokio government, it was learned officially, has determined not to withdraw his nomination, considering it a vital test of Sino-Japanese relations. Nanking has been asked to reconsider its decision, with consideration to possible serious consequences arising from further rejection of Obata.

To the Nanking objections the Tokio government has replied that the Chinese public accepted him as minister in 1918-1922. During the last year he negotiated the Shantung settlement, restoring the Shantung Railway at Kiachow, Shensi province, to China. Obata was decorated by the Chinese government for his services.

It was admitted at the foreign office that persistent refusal by the Chinese to accept Obata might lead to Tokio's asking Nanking to recall Wang Yung Pao, its minister to Tokio.

POLICE CHIEF ENDS LIFE

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The body of Police Chief Michael O'Neill was found in a clump of woods today after a search of several hours, started at the request of his wife when he failed to return home. Police said he had shot himself through the head because of worry over ill health.

A member of the police department for a quarter of a century and head of the force for the last six years, he had been off active duty since September because of illness. He had undergone abdominal operations and had suffered a nervous breakdown. He was 53 years old.

Father Slays Big Black Bear With Ax

ENGLEHART, Ont., Dev. 27.—(AP.)—While playing in the woods near here, the young son of M. Manness disturbed a large black bear. Frightened, the youngster ran toward his father with bruin in close pursuit. Manness took aim with his rifle, but it jammed.

He reached for his ax and killed the animal with several blows on the skull.

Man Arrested In Sale of Poison Liquor

BELLAIRE, O., Dec. 27.—Joseph McMahon, of Shadyside, was placed under arrest charged with causing the death of Samuel David Fleming, 21, who is alleged to have died as the result of drinking poison liquor.

The warrant was sworn out on complaint of Coroner Jack Neal, of Belmont County.

ANZAC FINDS BIG SALT LAKE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—A dispatch from Adelaide, Australia, today said that Cecil Madigan, Australian explorer, had verified existence of a vast salt lake which may be one of the wonders of the world.

The lake is known as Lake Eyre, and is located in the middle of the sun-baked desert of Central Australia. Madigan believes the lake to contain limitless salt, with at least 3,000,000 tons in the northern part alone.

Should chemical analysis show potash in the salt, the dispatch said, the lake would be found to be enormously valuable, the explorer said there probably was no other lake in the world with a surface like that of Eyre, which is covered with encrusted patches of crystal salt, like ice floes on an Arctic Sea.

For years cattlemen returning from the Central Australia desert brought back stories that Lake Eyre was a bottomless morass and that to set foot on it spelled death. Thousands of cattle have been reported swallowed up in it, and the black bushmen living nearby have feared to touch it.

Seals Not Returned, Work Is Hampered

"About 50,000 people in Allegheny County no doubt would be surprised if told that they are adding to the difficulties of the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh," was the statement made today by Grant Curry.

These persons have not acknowledged the Christmas seals mailed to them at Thanksgiving. If they do not at once pay for the seals sent them, or for as many as they can, or acknowledge the letter containing the seals, they not only increase the work of the Tuberculosis League, but also the expense.

10 Hurt in $20,000 Harrisburg Fire

HARRISBURG, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Ten firemen suffered minor injuries in combating fire which caused damage estimated by the owners at $20,000 in the Dauphin Building in Market Square here last night. Six firemen were cut by broken glass and four were overcome by smoke. The blaze started in the ceiling and partitions of the Commonwealth Silk Shop.

ARREST FATHER ON LADDER

Clifford Washburn, 30, of 111 South Nineteenth street, wanted to see his daughter, Jane, 2. Jane was with her mother, Mrs. May Washburn, who was separated from her husband.

At 3:45 a. m. today Washburn placed a ladder against a wall of Mrs. Washburn's parents' home at 2020 Termon avenue, where Jane was living, and started to climb to a window leading to her bedroom.

Washburn was halfway to his destination when his wife heard and saw. She called police, who arrested the husband. He didn't see his daughter. In North Side Police Court today he admitted he had been slightly intoxicated. He was discharged after he announced that he would seek a court order to see his child.

NEW FEATURES IN DIRECTORY

Many new features are to be found in the 1929 city directory which R. L. Polk & Co. is distributing today. The directory contains all of its old departments and many new ones. The most important of the new features is a layout made of each street in the city, with numerical progression of house numbers, names of residents at each number.

For the first time home women are listed. Heretofore, unless a wife were employed away from home she was not to be found in the directory. This year her given name appears in parentheses immediately after the name of her husband.

The directory, for the first time, covers the boroughs of Brentwood and Mt. Oliver, and the new city ward formerly known as Hays Borough. The directory is the largest ever published for this city.

The publishers estimate the population of the districts included in the directory as 777,492, which includes all persons employed in the district but living beyond it.

WILL DEDICATE BAYNE ROAD TOMORROW

Warrendale Link Completes 'Outer Belt' System of County; Parade Arranged

The recently finished section of the Warrendale-Bayne road completing Allegheny County's "outer belt" road system will be opened to traffic Saturday at 2:30 o'clock.

County and township officials with civic organizations from the various municipalities along the road will take part in the road-opening ceremony.

A parade from the intersection of the new road and the Big Sewickley Creek road to the Warrendale Consolidated school will precede the ceremonies.

The new road is the last link in the route from the Freeport road, Tarentum to Leetsdale. By using the route motorists travelling east and west can drive around the city, avoiding about 20 miles of congested traffic.

The section to be dedicated is 3.68 miles long. It was built by F. W. Scott, contractor, and cost the county $253,936. Miss Bessie McCauley will cut the ribbon opening it to traffic.

JAWORSKI PALS HELD IN THEFT

DETROIT, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—A young man and an 18-year-old girl whom police found it necessary to arrest in order to obtain their testimony against two alleged holdup men were taken from the county jail to the receiving hospital.

At first it was reported that they had become ill in their separate cells after appearing in court against Joseph Hanicke and Frank Hallas, the latter said by police to have been connected with the old Paul Jaworski gang. Later it was announced that they were removed "for their comfort."

The pair, Cecile Stachura and Frank Hajman, had identified Janicke and Hallas as the two men who held them up as they were motoring on the night of November 16. They made the identification in court, the girl trembling. Both previously had told of threats made against them and had made efforts to avoid appearing.

Janicke and Hallas were held for trial under bonds of $30,000 each on charges of robbery armed.

NEGRO DENIES KILLING TRIO

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Jim Harris, 23, a Negro servant, was arrested today on a warrant charging him with killing his employer, Dr. Barclay J. Jones, the physician's wife and her young nephew, George Lang.

A reward of $600 was offered for the arrest of Harris after the finding of the three beaten to death at their home on Christmas Day. The Negro was located by police at the residence of his father-in-law and denied any knowledge of the slaying. Officers said he had been married yesterday.

Various motives were advanced by investigators. The coroner's jury suggested robbery. Valuables in the house were undisturbed, although the pockets of the elderly doctor and the boy had been rifled. Sheriff W. C. Anderson offered the theory that the killing was the outgrowth of an attack upon Mrs. Jones. The bodies of the woman and the boy were discovered in the basement, where the Negro slept and where police reported finding a pair of bloodstained overalls. Fingerprints were found on an ax. A pair of hedge clippers lay beside the body of the physician in the garage.

Pair True for 50 Years Now on Honeymoon

PARIS, Mo., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Miss Willie Hayden and Robert Sprinkle were quietly married in Moberly, Mo., and are on their way to honeymoon in Florida.

The prosaic announcement ended a courtship of more than 50 years for the couple who promised faithfulness in grammar school and lived up to their pledges, though each has celebrated more than 70 birthdays.

Sprinkle, who carried his wife's books home from school in Granville, a little community 12 miles away, left as a youth after promising undying affection for her while he made his fortune. She also agreed to wait. The bridegroom and his brother, dreaming of the wealth and adventure promised by the golden West, went to work on a Montana ranch and together homesteaded a tract from their joint savings and prospered.

Now Sprinkle is regarded as a millionaire sheep and cattle rancher in Chinook, Mont., while Mrs. Sprinkle is a retired business woman, after having owned and operated her own millinery store for more than 30 years.

During the half-century of courtship they have been regular correspondents and for the last 40 years Sprinkle has been a regular winter visitor here. Each time friends forecast an immediate marriage, but Sprinkle returned without a bride to his Montana holdings.

Mr. and Mrs. Sprinkle have, as their own secret, the reason for their extended courtship.

JOHN C. FLYNN ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Flynn, Pathe Film executive, as he was arraigned in New York court charged with having stored films against fire regulations in the studio which burned and took many lives recently.

BRADDOCK FIRE LOSS $13,000

Damage estimated at $13,000 was caused early today by fire in a Braddock business block.

Originating in the Leader Store, a men's clothing establishment, at 872 Braddock avenue, the fire communicated to the Excelsior store adjoining, and for a time threatened to spread further.

The Leader Store, operated by Max Fireman, was damaged $9,000, it was estimated. The damage to the Excelsior store, owned by Sigmund Meyers and Sigmund Shoemaker, was estimated at $4,000.

Both stores occupy the first floors of two-story brick structures. Apartments above both were vacant.

BREAKS PAROLE, WOMAN JAILED

Mrs. Rose Bosio, 21, of Frederickstown, Pa., convicted in the Greene County rum conspiracy cases, was committed to jail today in Federal Court to await sentence for violating her parole.

Mrs. Bosio was arrested December 17 at Fairmont after having fled with Ed Hines from Cokeburg, Pa., when the latter is alleged to have stabbed a patrolman. The woman and Hines were traced there by federal authorities after Mrs. Bosio's husband, August, complained his wife had fled their home, taking all the furniture, while he was serving a liquor sentence in the Washington County jail. She will be sentenced January 6.

The young people of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church of Dormont will hold their annual Christmas holiday party tonight. The affair will be held in the church auditorium, Alabama avenue, Dormont.

BANDIT KILLERS SOUGHT IN CAVE

SMITH'S GROVE, Ky., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The most extensive manhunt this Southern Kentucky section has ever known was in progress as posses estimated at from 800 to 1,000 men patroled highways and guarded a cave in the search for three bandits who yesterday shot and killed J. Robert Kirby, 45, president of the Farmer's Bank, after robbing another bank of $1,000.

Acting on information that two of the men had been seen to enter the cave, which is at Hays, a mile and a half from the scene of the shooting, one posse was guarding the entrance and ready to use tear gas bombs.

Other groups of grim armed men patroled all highways and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad a few miles to the west to prevent the escape of the desperadoes.

Kirby, one of the leading citizens of this community, was shot down as he and several others tried to halt the bandits' car after the three men had robbed the bank at Oakland, near here, of approximately $1,000.

The scene of the robbery and the manhunt is only a few miles from the cave Floyd Collins made famous a few years ago when he was trapped for days.

SLED CRASHES INTO AUTO; 2 GIRLS HURT

One Victim Brought to Mercy Hospital, Condition Serious; Driver Held Under Bond

Two girls were injured, one seriously, when a sled on which they were coasting crashed into an automobile driven by Rudolph Kopach, 22, of Bridgeville, at Mill street and McLaughlin Run road, Bridgeville, last night.

The injured were Dorothy Meyers, 15, of McLaughlin Run road, and Mary Sam, 14, of Essen street. Dorothy suffered a probable fracture of the skull and was taken to Mercy Hospital. The Sam girl sustained lacerations of the head and was treated by Dr. H. H. Rittenhouse, of Bridgeville.

Kopach was arrested and released on a $1,000 bond, which he posted before Justice of the Peace Chester A. Wyke, of Bridgeville.

GERMANY GETS FRENCH TRADE

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(Universal.)—Germany threatens to replace the United States as the principal source of French imports.

This is gleaned in the French trade figures for the first 10 months of the year, and is notable from the American standpoint in comparison with the same figures for 1928.

French exports to the United States increased this year in the face of a declining export trade, while those to Germany and Great Britain showed marked decreases.

In total trade, Great Britain continues to cling to first place by reason of its enormous imports from France, but here, too, Germany threatens to outstrip its Anglo-Saxon competitor.

Oddly enough, thanks to the fact that the United States has continued to take French products in increasing value while the other two powers have failed to maintain the pace, the greatest increase in total trade is shown in the American column.

Nevertheless, by its spurt in exports, Germany managed to take second place away from the Belgo-Luxembourg Economic Union, which operates in closest co-operation with the French.

From the French standpoint, the unpleasant feature of the new figures is the decline in exports and the marked increase in imports, until the adverse trade balance for the 10-month period aggregates nearly $350,000,000.

NEW TEST FOR NEGRO CADET

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—There is a report here that Alonso Souleigh Parham, of Chicago, the only Negro cadet at West Point, had been obliged to take a second examination in mathematics as a result of his failure to pass on the subject in the December examinations.

Cadet Parham was one of more than 50 members of the first year class who failed to pass all subjects. Whether he passed the second examination yesterday will not be made known until the return of Maj. Gen. W. R. Smith, superintendent at the academy, from the Pacific Coast where he accompanied the Army football team. If he failed to pass, his case will be referred to the academic board, which has the power to suspend him for 60 days, at the end of which time he has the right to apply for still another test. If a first year man fails in the third test he is automatically dropped.

Officials at West Point in denying recently that Parham was being discriminated against by other cadets, said he was having difficulty with mathematics. Parham also denied any unfair treatment.

Weather Conditions.

The low, yesterday central over North Dakota and Manitoba, is now central over the St. Lawrence valley, with a trough extending southwestward to Texas, where another center is developing. Pressure continues low along the Canadian border to the Canadian Northwest, where another low is appearing. Pressure is high over the southeastern states and over the plateau region and rising in the Southern Rocky Mountains and central plains. Light scattered rains have fallen in the lake region, in Arkansas, Northern Louisiana, Texas and light snows in Minnesota, South Dakota, Wyoming and light rains have continued in Washington. Temperatures are higher in the eastern states, while it is colder in the central and northern Plains states and in the Rocky Mountain districts.

River Conditions.

Melting and settling of the snow cover proceeded during the past 24 hours, serving to check the fall in the Allegheny and Youghiogheny, and to start a slight rise in the lower Monogahela. Stage at Franklin is 3.4 feet; Lock No. 7, 12.4; Pittsburgh, 12.3; Dam No. 4, 9.8; Dam No. 6, 9.2; Dam No. 9, 8.0, and Dam No. 12, 4.2. The Ohio dams are up. The rivers will change but little.

KLINE TO NAME BURGOYNE

Arthur G. Burgoyne, former newspaperman, is slated for appointment by Mayor Kline as chief clerk of the Civil Service Commission at $4,800 a year, according to reports from reliable sources.

Burgoyne would replace James C. Smith, Republican chairman of the Fifth Ward, home of President of Council James F. Malone, who ran against Mayor Kline in the recent primary election.

While it was generally accepted in some quarters that Mayor Kline would get rid of Smith, there were some observers who believed he might be held over as he maintained a passive attitude in the mayoralty campaign.

Burgoyne was in the very inner circle that conceived and executed the strategy responsible for Mayor Kline's victory.

STREET RAILING AND STEPS STOLEN

Borough Council Aroused by Work of Daring Thieves; Honor for Stotz Slated

Operating apparently without fear of police, audacious thieves have amazed and worried Crafton Borough officials by stealing public utilities erected with a view to permanency.

A report of the matter was made by Councilman Tim Dunn, chairman of the street committee, at a meeting of council last night.

A wooden railing built at borough expense in Marion street is missing, while steps laid in Sterrett street were pried from their supports and removed he said. Both improvements were made recently. The thefts occurred in widely-separated sections of the borough.

The meeting was the last one for W. H. Stotz as a councilman. T. J. Fitzpatrick, president of the body, called attention to the fact that Stotz was the father of the zoning ordinance, Crafton having been the first borough in the state to adopt an act of that nature. The retiring councilman, who has served eight years, also was father of the borough building code. President Fitzpatrick was instructed to draw a testimonial to Stotz. This will be presented him at a later date and a copy spread on the councilmanic minutes.

Only 20 arrests for intoxication, and 247 cases in all have been recorded by the police during 1929, Burgess John W. Spalter said in making his annual report. Fines totaled $878.

SEIZE 2 STILLS IN DRY RAIDS

Constables and prohibition agents late yesterday raided two homes and confiscated two stills, an automobile and small quantities of moonshine and home brew, according to their reports today.

A 120-gallon still was reported seized in the home of Jacob Vidivich, Joseph street, Baldwin township, together with 20 gallons of mash and a small quantity of moonshine.

In the residence of Paul Danko, 302 West Fifteenth street, Homestead, an eight-gallon still was reported found. The raiders said they destroyed 50 gallons of mash and confiscated a half gallon of moonshine.

Charles Frier, 951 West Sixteenth street, Erie, was arrested and his auto confiscated when agents found him transporting a quantity of "home brew," according to their reports.

PLANE BURNING AFTER PILOT ROBERT BLACK LANDED IN SIX-MILE GLIDE TO ROOSEVELT FIELD AFTER FIRE IN AIR

Scotland's Whisky Center Has No Drunkenness

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—(Universal.)—In the whisky manufacturing district of Glenlivet in Scotland the police reported there was not one case of intoxication during 1929 to the day the Very Rev. Provest A. Fleming Thomson's recent departure for this country.

In citing the report, the clergyman declared it showed temperance is secured through education and character and not by laws. Father Thomson, visiting relatives here, has been chaplain for 39 years in Scotland's largest penitentiary.

The first drunken man Father Thomson had seen in several years was in Glasgow. This was on the docks and the inebriate was staggering up a gangway to a ship bound for America.

The temperance in Scotland has been achieved through education, he said. Temperance proceeds from the inside of a man—a part of his character. It is not something that can be put on him from the outside, Father Thomson added.

Discipline in Scottish prisons is stern and strict. This prevents mutinies within the prisons and also acts as a deterrent on crime, the visiting clergyman concluded.

Figs Should Be More Popular Than They Are

In dried, fresh or preserved form, figs are one of the most valuable fruits, says Dr. Copeland. Their roughage as well as nutritive content is beneficial.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

EVERY fig tree is a reminder of antiquity. The Bible often refers to it. The fig, the olive and the grape are the fruits most often spoken of in the Good Book.

We hear of the Oriental sitting under his own vine and fig tree. He knows the value of the food that comes from these plants. It supplies a large part of his meal. Ripe olives, the rough bread of the country and dried figs are almost all he has to eat.

Figs grow wild in the vicinity of the Mediterranean, eastward to Asia and westward to the Canary Islands. In semi-tropical countries the trees grow well. In Spain a fig tree in good condition will produce as many as 150 to 200 pounds of figs yearly.

It used to be that all of our figs were imported from the Far East—from Asia Minor and many from Smyrna, and from Greece and Spain. The Smyrna figs were introduced into the United States and large quantities are now produced in California. Arizona, Georgia, Florda, Texas and other states grow them also.

Many a door-yard in Southern California has its fig tree, its orange and grapefruit trees. The fresh figs are delicious morsels. They melt in your mouth. It is a pity that more of us cannot enjoy the fresh fruit. Perhaps a way will be found to bring them overland to us in the East and other parts of the country in refrigerator cars.

The dried varieties, the preserved, canned and bottled ones have much the value in a nutritive way of the fresh fig. With improved methods of drying they are kept clean and wholesome. More than 15,000,000 pounds of figs are annually imported into the United States.

Figs may be served in many ways. Most delicious is a rich pudding. Fig syrups and marmalades and cake fillings are full of nutritive value. Dates may be stuffed with chopped figs. Stewed figs are very wholesome.

Much is said these days about roughage in the diet. It is not enough to have simply the nourishing properties of food. There must be more or less cellulose or fiber to give substance to the intestinal content. The tough skin of the fig, the seeds and fiber make it desirable for this particular food purpose.

A dessert which satisfies our longing for sweets and at the same time possesses distinct nutritive value may well be included in the diet. Preserved, this fruit makes a splendid dessert. It is good for young and old. We ought to make figs more popular than they are.

Lamb Cutlets Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Beets
Egg and Peanut Salad
Custard Souffle, Coffee

WITH Christmas off the calendar, it's difficult to concentrate on anything as prosaic as Sunday dinner, isn't it? So let's just have a simple dinner this Sunday.

You probably know just how to proceed until you reach the egg and peanut salad. And then it's time to follow this recipe:

Six hard-boiled eggs, ¼ to ½ cup chopped peanuts or peanut butter, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, ¾ to 1 cup of celery and a garnish of peanut halves.

Cut the eggs in half lengthwise, remove the yolks and combine with peanuts or peanut butter to taste, and a little mayonnaise to moisten. Fill the yolks with the mixture.

PUT 2 halves of eggs on a plate, surround with celery, cut in short lengths and cut in curls.

Put 2 tablespoons of mayonnaise dressing over each egg and garnish with peanut halves.

The souffle is especially good if baked over a layer of peaches or apricots. Use 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons butter or butter substitute, and 4 eggs.

MAKE a white sauce of the milk, flour and fat. Stir in the sugar, allow the mixture to cool slightly, then add the beaten egg yolks, mix thoroughly and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into a greased baking dish (with or without a layer of fruit in the bottom) and bake in a slow oven, about 350 degrees Fahrenheit, for about 30 minutes.

Be sure to serve the souffle hot.

POINSETTA SALAD—On a bed of lettuce place a washed and dried tomato slit five times from top to stem end, but the base left intact. Fold back the petals and place a short stalk of asparagus in the center of each petal. Pipe a little rosette of whipped cream or cream cheese at each opening between the petals and sprinkle center with chopped green peppers and yolks of hard cooked eggs. Serve with French dressing.

HOLIDAY RECIPE—GINGER CRYSTALS—Soak 2 level tablespoons of gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Make a syrup of 1 cup boiling water and 2 cups sugar, and when the sugar is dissolved add the gelatine. Bring to the boiling point and let boil 15 minutes. Remove from the fire and add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon lemon extract and ½ cup crystallized ginger cut in small pieces. Turn into pans, dipped in cold water, having mixture about ¾ inch thick. Let stand over night, cut in squares and roll in granulated sugar. Let stand to crystallize.

MINCEMEAT—Cover 4 pounds of lean beef and 2 pounds of beef suet with boiling water and cook until tender, cool in water in which they are cooked; the suet will rise to the top, forming a cake of fat which may easily be removed. Finely chop the meat, add it to twice the amount of finely chopped apples. The apples should be quartered, cored and pared, previous to chopping or the skins may be left on, which is not an objection if apples are finely chopped. Add 3 pounds of sugar, 2 cups molasses, 2 quarts of cider, 4 pounds of raisins, seeded and cut in pieces, 3 pounds of currants and ½ pound finely cut citron; also suet and stock in which the meat and suet were cooked, reduced to 1½ cups. Heat gradually, stir occasionally and cook slowly two hours, then add 1 quart fruit juices and 1 tablespoon powdered cloves, 2 grated nutmegs, 1 teaspoon pepper and salt to taste. Cook for one-half hour.

RICE FLAKE MACAROONS—Whip 2 egg whites very stiff, adding a pinch of salt. Whisk in 1 cup of sugar. Then fold in 2 cups rice flakes, 1 teaspoon flavoring, and 1 cup grated cocoanut. A half cup of broken nut meats may be added. The mixture should be stiff enough to hold its shape well. Drop by the spoonful onto a greased baking sheet, and bake in a moderate oven for 10 to 12 minutes.

PINWHEEL COOKIES—Use a sugar cookie recipe. Divide the dough in half and to one-half add 2 squares of melted chocolate. Roll in thin sheets and place the chocolate sheet on the top of the plain sheet, after moistening the under sheet with milk. Moisten the top with milk, and then roll into a firm roll about 1½ inches in diameter. Wrap the roll in oiled paper, place in refrigerator under 45 degrees. Slice in thin slices and bake in hot oven on a floured cookie sheet.

* * *

SPRINGERLES—Beat 4 egg yolks until light and lemon-colored, add 1 teaspoon soft butter and continue beating, using a rotary egg beater. Add 2 cups of sifted powdered sugar, 2 tablespoons sweet milk and 1 teaspoon anise extract and 1 cup flour and beat well. Add 1 more cup flour sifted twice with pinch salt and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Place in the refrigerator. Toss on well floured board and roll out. Cut in fancy shapes. These may be baked at once or the cooky pans placed in the refrigerator until next day. Bake in moderate oven.

BUTTERSCOTCH COOKIES—Cream 1½ cups butter with 2 cups brown sugar, add 2 well-beaten eggs. Beat thoroughly. Add 3 cups flour mixed and sifted with 2 teaspoons baking powder and a pinch of salt. Mix to a dough. Shape into a roll, wrap in waxed paper and put in refrigerator 24 hours. Slice thin and bake on a floured cookie sheet.

* * *

FANCY SUGAR COOKIES—Cream 2-3 cup of butter with 1 1-3 cups sugar. Add 2 well-beaten eggs. Sift together 2½ cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with 1-3 cup milk. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. This dough may be kept covered in the refrigerator before rolling and shaping with fancy cutters or it may be formed into a roll, wrapped in waxed paper, placed in the refrigerator and sliced before baking. Decorate with small pieces of candied fruit pressed into the cookie before baking.

FIG SANDWICHES are the plutocrats of the sandwich world! If you've never tried them, you have passed by a rare treat—and that will never do.

Here's a recipe for these famous sandwiches, and there's no time like the present for trying it out.

Cream 2 small cream cheese until perfectly smooth; add gradually 2 tablespoons of butter and a quarter of a cup of orange juice; when well blended add ¾ cup of chopped canned figs, a cup of broken pecan or walnut meats, and ¼ teaspoon of salt.

Mix well, and spread between thin slices of buttered bread from which the crust has been trimmed. Cut the slices diagonally to form dainty triangular sandwiches.

BAKED BEAN ROLLED SANDWICH—One cup canned baked beans mashed to a paste. Then add ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup. Cut white bread very thin, remove the crusts, spread with mixture, roll and fasten with a toothpick. Cover the sandwiches with a cloth dipped first into hot water and then wrung as dry as possible. Or they may be rolled and toasted under the broiler. Remove the toothpicks before serving.

* * *

STUFFED BREAST OF VEAL—Cut 2½ pounds breast of veal into individual servings. For the stuffing mix together 1½ cups bread crumbs, 1-3 cup melted butter and the juice of 1 onion. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cover each serving of veal with the stuffing. Place in a covered roaster and cook in a slow oven for an hour and a quarter. Baste frequently with stock. If the bread crumbs are not browned, remove the cover and allow to brown for about 5 minutes before serving.

FRENCH ONION SOUP—Cook 4 sliced onions in 3 tablespoons butter or fat until the onions are soft and slightly browned. Add 1½ quarts of beef stock and boil for 10 minutes. Skim; then add salt and pepper to taste, ½ teaspoon minced garlic and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Toast bread in thin slices, sprinkle with grated cheese, set in the oven until the cheese browns. Serve the slices of toast with the soup.

PRUNE PUDDING—Half pound prunes, 2 cups cold water, 1-3 cup cornstarch, ¾ cup sugar, 2 cups boiling water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, stick of cinnamon. Wash prunes and soak in cold water. Cook until soft. Remove stones and cut in pieces.

Cook cornstarch, sugar, boiling water and stick of cinnamon together for 10 minutes. Remove cinnamon. Add prunes and cook 5 minutes. Add lemon juice and remove from fire at once. Chill and serve with top milk.

QUICK SPONGE CAKE—Three eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, salt, ¼ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Break the eggs into a bowl, add the sugar and beat together 10 minutes. Add the dry ingredients, which have been sifted, together and the cold water. Bake in a moderate oven 40 to 50 minutes. This is especially good served with ice cream or whipped cream.

ROLLED STEAK ITALIAN—Cover 1½ pounds of round steak, ½ inch thick, seasoned with salt and pepper with a slice of boiled ham, cover the ham with ¼ pound of chopped pork and beef, seasoned well with salt and pepper. Place 6 hard cooked eggs in a row down the center of the meat. Form into a large roll and tie with a string or fasten with skewers. Brown the roll in a hot skillet then place it in a saucepan and cover with Italian sauce and cook until tender. Remove the string and serve garnished with parsley. One quart of strained tomatoes, seasoned with salt and pepper to which add 1 chopped onion and 1 chopped clove of garlic cooked in oil until brown. Cook together 15 minutes, add more salt and pepper as needed. The green tips of celery finely chopped may be substituted for parsley as a garnish.

STUFFED CABBAGE LEAVES—Season 1 pound lean raw beef with salt and pepper and the juice of 1 small onion. Add ½ cup cooked rice. Soak 8 large cabbage leaves in hot water for a few minutes to soften them. Roll a portion of the meat mixture in each leaf. Place them in a kettle with 2 large tomatoes, a chopped onion, 2 tablespoons vinegar and 2 tablespoons sugar. Add enough water to cover the bottom of the kettle and let simmer and stew until the cabbage is tender and well browned.

VEAL BIRDS—Two pounds veal steak sliced about ½ inch thick.

Cut steak into 6 or 8 squares, depending on the size of bird desired. Marinate with salt and pepper. Place a tablespoonful of stuffing on each veal square and skewer securely, using at least 4 skewers for each bird. Brown in deep fat first and then place in roasting pan in which frying fat has been poured. Add one cup water, cover roaster and let bake in slow oven for an hour. (Enough for 6 or 8 veal birds.)

HAMBURG CASSEROLE—One pound hamburger steak, 4 medium sized potatoes, 2 onions, 1 cupful of tomato soup and salt and pepper.

Cut the potatoes in ½-inch cubes and arrange in a baking dish. Cover with ½ the hamburg steak. Add ½-cup of tomato soup and a sliced onion. Season with salt and pepper. Repeat, using the remaining ingredients. Bake for 1½ hours in a moderate oven. More tomato soup may be added during the baking if needed.

And, of course, being homemakers, you will be interested in a new way to make cranberry pie. Here's a fine recipe for you:

cup flour. Chill this pastry and divide in 3 equal portions, roll out into neat rounds and bake in a moderate oven.

Cool and set aside for 24 hours.

Mix 1½ cup cranberries with 1 cup sugar, ⅔ cup water and 2 tablespoons sifted stale cake crumbs and cook for 10 minutes, stirring frequently to break the berries. Cool and spread between the layers.

Cover with sweet white sauce or whipped cream or meringue and serve in wedge-shaped pieces.

WALNUT BARS—Beat 1 egg until creamy, then add 1 cup light brown sugar, beat again and mix and sift together 5 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt and about ⅛ teaspoon of soda. Mix these dry ingredients with 1 cup of chopped nuts and combine with the egg and sugar mixture. Spread this batter ½ inch thick in a baking pan that has been well buttered. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Cut in bars or squares and roll in powdered sugar while still warm. These are delicious.

HOT HORSERADISH SAUCE—Melt in a saucepan 2 tablespoons butter and add 3 tablespoons flour and stir until well blended. Add 2 cups of beef broth, 1 level teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Add 3 tablespoons evaporated horseradish soaked in ¼ cup cold water for 10 minutes and serve over slices of boiled beef.

PLANKED HALIBUT STEAK—Grease the fish plank with cooking oil, season the halibut steak with salt, pepper, cayenne and lemon juice, put on plank skin side down. Surround the exposed part of the plank with table salt. Bake in moderate oven until done, basting with lemon juice and butter. It will take about 25 minutes for a 2½ pound halibut steak. Remove the plank from the oven, scrape off the salt and pipe mounds of mashed potatoes to which 1 egg yolk has been added, seasoneed with salt, pepper, paprika and butter, around the edge of the plank. Slip in the oven to brown the potatoes and garnish with slices of pan fried tomatoes, hot, boiled beets, flowerettes of cauliflower, slices of grilled onion, Julienne carrots and string beans and mounds of spinach with garnish of hard cooked egg. Serve at once with watercress or parsley for green color. Serve with tartar sauce.

BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE—One and one-half cups light brown sugar, ⅜ cup white corn syrup, 4 tablespoons butter, 2-3 cup heavy cream, few grains salt.

Cook sugar, syrup and butter together slowly, stirring until it begins to boil.

Continue to cook without stirring until it forms a ball in cold water.

Take from fire and allow to cool slightly. Add cream and salt and beat well before serving.

CRANBERRY PIE—Wash 2 cups cranberries and cut them in halves. Add 1 cup sugar, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 cup water, a pinch of salt and 1 tablespoon flour. Place in a saucepan and cook for 20 minutes. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring and stir well. Line a pie dish with pie paste and fill with the mixture. Put strips of crust, lattice fashion, across the top. Bake in a hot oven. Or bake in an open crust and serve with whipped cream.

* * *

BEEFSTEAK AND TOMATOES—Put 3 pounds porterhouse steak in a baking pan. Cover it with 3 sliced tomatoes, and then with 3 sliced onions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with 1 tablespoon butter or fat. Bake in a hot oven for half an hour, basting every few minutes. Serve very hot.

* * *

ROAST, CHOPPED STEAK—Mix 1 pound ground round steak with ⅛ pound of chopped suet, add 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Form into a long roll and place in a buttered pan with 1 tablespoon fat. Bake covered for 15 minutes then add 2 tablespoons cream or melted butter. Cook 1½ hours. Serve if possible from a glass casserole dish. Surround with well seasoned rice.

* * *

ASPARAGUS CREOLE — Four tablespoons salad oil or shortening, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons green pepper, 1 tablespoon minced pimento, 2 tablespoons sliced mushrooms, ½ cup water, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 bunch cooked fresh asparagus. Heat oil in frying pan and add vegetables and saute until slightly brown. Stir in salt and pepper and add water. Add drained asparagus and reheat, serve hot.

BAKED ORANGES—If you are planning to serve a roast duck dinner in the near future, remember that baked oranges, served with that noble bird, are decidedly epicurean fare!

Cut the oranges in two and remove the seeds and the core. Fill the centers with a mixture of white and brown sugar and dot with butter. Arrange the oranges in a flat baking dish and cover the bottom of the pan with water.

Cover tightly and bake for 2 hours in a moderate oven. Remove the cover for the last 15 minutes of baking to let the oranges brown slightly.

APPLES WITH HONEY—Prepare apples just as for sugaring; for 6 to 8 apples use 4 tablespoons of honey and mix with 1 cup of fine breadcrumbs and ½ tablespoon each of cinnamon and lemon extract.

Fill apples, after peeling and coring, with the mixture and bake in a well-greased porcelain-lined baking dish

Other delicious changes from sugar-filled apples are: Fill the cavities with honey and broken walnut meats; chopped raisins and nuts, or dates.

PAN BROILING—We are often loath to use our broilers when we are in a hurry on account of the time it takes to clean up afterward.

A pan broil is really very delicious and much more digestible than fried meat. Heat the frying pan very hot, using no fat. Place the meat in the pan and brown well on one side.

Turn and cook more slowly on the second side until it is brown and the meat done to the degree you like it. Season after removing from the pan.

Miss Pat by Eleanor Meherin

CHAPTER XLIII.

SLIM went up to his partner, accosting him with cold, withering fury. He reached into Ace's pocket and, with a shocking oath, hurled the bottle over the cliff.

"Aw, where do you get it?" Ace demanded, drawing himself hotly upright and speaking with a sharp, unwonted challenge. "I gotta right to a drink. Look at thish!"

He pulled a horseshoe from his pocket and held it before Slim's astounded gaze.

"Found thish on the trail. Gesh the trail leads out all right, all right. Think I'm drunk, do you? Take you there, right now. Followed it along—came to a wagon road."

"Wagon-road!" An explosive pause with Slim's whole body tightening up.

He flung about suddenly, his cold eyes flaming with triumph:

"Take the kid and yourself off, girl. And remember, walk in that direction."

Pointing to the rim; to the great red sandstone shaft at whose base Pat's flying suit, crammed with provisions, and the parachute pack lay hidden. Lay ready.

Yank it on! Strap Billy to her! Jump!

Pat took the little boy's hand, wondering why it felt so hot, not knowing it was but the ice of her own that made his seem to burn; the cold of her palm folded like death on the living warmth of his.

She said in a strained, scarcely audible mutter:

"Hurry—let's run!"

But her knees would not.

"It's not nighttime yet, is it? Are we gonna play that new game?"

"Yes — that new game of blindman's buff."

Now she was crouched behind these rocky turrets. She heard herself repeating in vague, foggy whispers:

"Shshsh! Quiet—not a word—you hold me tight—both your arms tight about my neck—and grip your knees here . . ."

"And then do you run? Will you have a bandage over your eyes, too? Why do you need to put on a flying suit?"

"That's the way we play it—play the game!"

Her hands were limp; they were nerveless. Twice they let the suit drop.

"This won't do—won't do," she mumbled, and opened her mouth like a drowning person struggling for air.

As last she had it on. Now she was making sure of the parachute pack. She put her finger in the ring of the rip-card, took it out, tried it again. It was all right—she mustn't forget where it was—mustn't get panicky or frightened. Just cold—utterly cold and clear—but make sure of everything . . .

"See—these are the straps, Billy. I strap you to me with these — remember — like a baby kangaroo—"

"No—like a pussy. I'm a little pussy."

"But you mustn't say 'Meow' or anything. See, first I put these straps around my neck and across my waist—I clasp them tight to me first—then I strap you to them. Now you know . . . but first I have to cover your eyes. You're the blind man in this new game of blind man's buff. Stand quiet."

"Why do you talk so funny, Pat — why do you open your mouth so wide and say funny words?"

"Because it's a game. It's all part of the game. Now I cover your eyes. Remember — don't even laugh—not yet—"

The child stood tense, except for a happy, expectant smile. Through a blinding mist, Pat saw his rippling mouth and white baby teeth. She prayed softly—wildly. Tie the handkerchief tight—Slim's handkerchief. Bandage musn't slip down. Kill them both if Billy realized what was happening. A hundred straps wouldn't hold him. He'd turn mad with terror. He'd fight—leap from her arms.

She suddenly saw this jump with all its frightful possibility to end both their lives—her life and the life of this little golden-haired boy; this adored baby of Barbara Bryce's. Perhaps she was but plunging him to swifter, more certain death—

Then she recalled Ace's finger going in that shuddering gesture from ear to ear across the throat.

She got down on her knees and began strapping the boy to her. Up about her neck; now back under the arms; now forward to the waist; criss-crossing up again like suspenders to her shoulders. . . .

"See if you can bounce a little—not too much—wonderful—I've got you tight—ever so tight—now, remember, your arms about my neck—hold fast. . . ."

His lithe, soft little body clung against hers; the slender, satiny hands clasped and tickling at her neck. He called with low, suppressed eagerness. . . .

"Are we ready? One—two—three—"

Terror held her with a ton's weight to her knees. She clawed fingers into the sandstone, dragged herself up. She thought with weak, trembling collapse: "I can't move—can't make it—can't run—"

And her fainting thought had a flash of Slim's face peering into hers. He would come gliding like an Indian, find her leaning here in this limp collapse, the boy strapped to her chest. With cold, murderous triumph, he would snatch the child free.

"Why don't we run, Pat? Take the bandage off; if you're not going to play."

"NO! Don't speak. Keep your knees up. Quiet now—wait—I'll count to ten—"

She stood for stark moments with her arms folded about the little, yielding form. Should she start from here and run for it? Or should she walk to the edge, glance down the shadowy, terrifying chasms, measure their distance and jump as far as she could?

"I'll never do it—never make it — one — two — three" She stepped back for the run, for the mad, running plunge.

And as she did this her eyes swept the plateau. She stumbled. She gave a cry—a lost, fainting cry.

They saw her—they knew! They were dashing like crazed men upon her.

Her heart struck with lightning and her brain. She felt that hands reached down and picked her up—that voice shouted:

"Run—you can—my Pat, make it!"

"Now—Billy—four, five, six—Mother—Mother of God—"

At the edge—a last, wild imploring prayer sent upwards; a last frenzied sound of steps gaining—steps on the rock—

She closed her eyes, jammed her arms hard about that trusting, murmuring little boy, and dived—went plunging in a blind, unmeasured dive.

Household Hints

To prevent rugs from slipping over the polished floor sew a strip of rubber on the under side at each end.

To pick up pieces of broken glass spread a wet flannel over the fragments and pat lightly, or use a grease-covered cloth.

Glass tumblers, jars and lamp chimneys may be toughened by putting them into a kettle of cold water, bringing it gradually to the boil and after boiling a few minutes allowing it to cool.

To clean steel of rust, rub the rusted part with sweet oil and allow to stand for 24 hours. Then rub with a piece of soft leather and sprinkle with finely powdered unslaked lime until the rust disappears.

Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

The woman who is no longer slender will enjoy this frock for wear about the home, as it is extremely simple and most becoming. The rolled collar points to a slender line, the points repeated in the pockets.

Design 1808 may be made of gingham, percale, pique or rayon in gayly colored, printed designs. The collar, vestee, cuffs and pocket trimming are made of white pique. A sash holds the frock neatly to the figure.

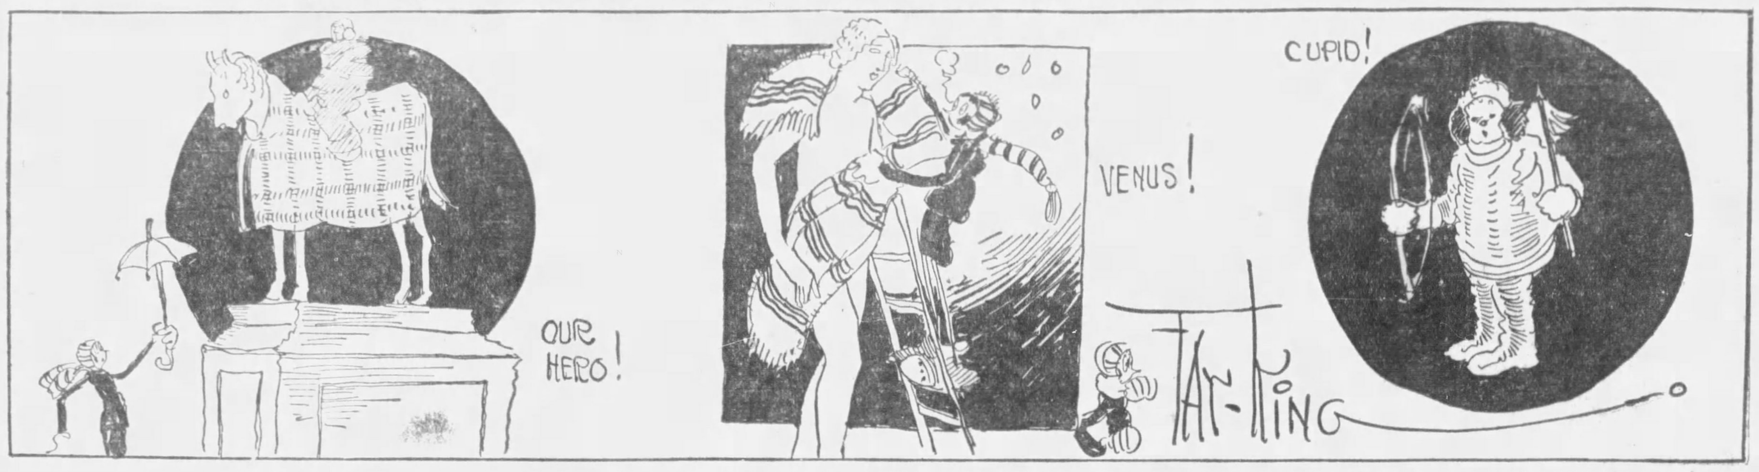
May be obtained only in sizes 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 38 requires 3⅞ yards of 36-inch material and ¾ yard trimming.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model. The pattern has ample and exact instructions. Yardage is given for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

The FASHION BOOK is FIFTEEN CENTS, but only TEN CENTS when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Sun-Telegraph Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Fay King Would Put Sweaters and Ear Muffs on Our Park Statues



By FAY KING

ON a real hot Summer's day, when the cement sidewalks are sizzling and the air is full of heat waves, it's nice to glance up at the nude nymphs topping a fountain so cool and unconcerned.

But a blizzardy, bleak night, when the wind is syncopating the kind of blues that turn you blue, it would make me feel a lot better to put a knit underskirt, a plaid shawl and a pair of ear muffs on the statues that dot the parks.

I can't help wishing we had a Winter wardrobe for some whose stone images look so darn uncomfortable with toupees of snow and their whiskers elongated with icicles!

Madge Scores Over Edith Before Dicky

IF I suddenly had dashed the fragments of the broken rose bowl into Edith Fairfax's face she could not have been more astounded than she was when I announced my intentions of enlightening Dick forthwith concerning the incidents which accompanied the breaking of the bowl and Philip Veritzen's wish to replace it.

For the fraction of an instant she betrayed the astonishment and the chagrin, amounting to panic, which was hers at my unexpected declaration. The smile left her face and she stared at me with eyes wide-opened and terrified. Then her innate cleverness and resourcefulness came to her rescue, and she leaned toward me with her face unbelievably softened and appealing.

"Don't be idiotic, Madge," she said with a chiding tenderness in her voice only heard between the best of friends. "Of course, if you want me to, I'll drop the subject of executing Mr. Veritzen's commission to replace the broken bowl with one of the value he supposes it to have. That is your affair entirely and you can settle it with him. But please take my advice and don't tell Dicky what really happened. He didn't see it as I did, and he need never know. After all, it was nothing. You were the perfect lady"—through her apparent friendliness there broke a sneering note—"you didn't let him hold hands—even broke your ten-cent rose bowl in repulsing him, and the gesture was mild and innocent — for Phil Veritzen. But you know how tempery Dick is. He's likely to make a balloon ascension over it, and it won't be pleasant for you. Keep your mouth shut, my dear. That's good advice from little Edith."

She was very plausible, and if she had been the Edith of old days I should have taken her advice, for, as she said, the incident was not of enough importance for confession and the recrimination which inevitably would follow. I knew better than she how Dicky would magnify it out of all proportion. But I knew that her ethical standards, especially regarding her dealing with other women, had distinctly retrograded since I first had known her, and I was sure that her reluctance to have me tell Dicky of the incident did not arise from friendliness, but from a desire to relate the tale to him herself, colored with her own malice concealed by pretended amusement.

"Thank you for your interest, Edith," I said in as friendly a fashion as I could manage, "but I really think I would better attend to this myself."

Her face was suddenly dark.

"That can only mean," she said slowly, "that you think I am capable of telling Dicky about it if you do not."

"I am sorry you interpret my decision that way," I returned courteously, but firmly. "Might it not mean that I believe in perfect confidence between my husband and me?"

I had moved toward the door as I spoke, and I was proud of the casual little laugh which I achieved as I turned the knob.

"When you come over will you please snap the lock?" I asked, still striving for matter-of-factness. She nodded, then turned toward the table where the roses lay, bending over them as if she were inhaling their odor. But I guessed that neither their beauty nor their fragrance reached her and that she was using them only to conceal her thwarted rage.

I was none to calm myself when I stepped into the hall and saw Dicky coming toward me.

"What's keeping Ede?" he demanded. "Their game's over now and they are howling for her?"

"Are you dummy now?" I asked irrelevantly.

"Yes, or somebody else would be the messenger. But what has that got to with——"

"Nothing, except that I want to see you for a minute or two in here."

His eyebrows twitched, but he managed a sardonic grin.

"You seem to run to tete-a-tetes tonight," he said. "'Lo, Ede," as she opened the door. "You'd better come or go—a runnin'. They're sending out searching parties."

"I'll fly," she said, but for an instant she stood where she was, looking at Dicky with curious intentness.

"I hope you make a good father confessor," she said. "Madge has the obsession that I'm going to tell tales out of school, and she intends to beat me to it. Good luck, Madge—but I honestly wouldn't have snitched."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, December 28

A DAY of conflicting planetary operations point to a lively degree of pleasure with some peril to profit and serious interests. There is a sign of a sudden change, of probable employment and environment, coming as a reward of diligent and faithful service; nevertheless there are some angles to renewed contracts and agreements which call for much circumspection and precaution, since there may be loopholes for misunderstanding and fraud. Personal matters are under the greatest assurance of pleasure and profitable associations.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of exceeding good fortune and happiness, with probably radical change in residence or employment. This in recognition for faithful service; but they should watch every loophole for misunderstanding and subtlety in new agreements. Personal affairs thrive and point to unusually felicitous conditions.

A child born on this day will have many talents, graces and accomplishments assuring it a more than mediocre career. Its personal relations may be happy and prosperous, but in business subtlety is foreseen.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

These Modern Lovers

LOVE and marriage, like the gods of the ancients, are always demanding "sacrifices"—and reneging on their promised rewards.

* * *

There is a "becoming length" in love affairs just as there is in bobs and skirts; and a woman's intuition should tell her just where to "cut them off," before they make her look ridiculous.

When a girl has finished getting in and out of this season's dresses, she hasn't much time left for the higher culture, and her religion is all gone, anyway.

It's a wise husband who understand's his wife's "signals," and knows enough to "stop" at the green light of jealousy in her eye, or to "go" at the red light of anger.

Violent love-making used to consist in falling down on your knees and begging a girl to have pity on you; but, nowadays, a man considers himself positively impetuous, if he just sits still and permits her to pet him.

All the world's a stage; but it takes a philosopher to enjoy the tears as well as the laughter, and to know the hero from the villain.

A thin alibi, like thin hair, never hid the bald truth from any woman, no matter how much she may pretend not to see through it.

Before marriage, a man looks at a woman through a prism, and sees her in glowing colors; after marriage, he looks at her through a microscope, under the cold north-light of domesticity.

Love is like the law—the further a man looks into it, the more anxious he is to keep out of it.

The girl who stakes her happiness on a man's promise to divorce another woman and marry her, is a good gambler, but an awfully poor psychologist.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

The Most Important Wedding Invitation

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When a man about to get married is living at home with his parents, is it proper for him to send his mother, with whom he is living, an invitation, also to his brother, who is to be best man? A says it is proper and B says it isn't proper.

MRS. R. D.

THE first invitation that the bride and her family should mail is the one to the groom's mother and father. This is the most important invitation. For the groom's mother and father are the guests of honor at the wedding. That is why they sit in the first pew at the right of the aisle up which the bridal party is to come.

It isn't the groom who sends this invitation to the family. It is the bride's parents, the ones in whose names the invitation is worded, the hosts of the occasion. He gives the names of his relatives and friends to the mother of the bride and she sends his invitations with hers.

Table Arrangement

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. Will you please tell me which is the correct way to seat a gentleman at a table, also a lady?

2. Recently I was invited to a dinner party and noticed the goblets with coasters were at the left, just above the fork. I always thought it correct to place them at the right, just above the knife, and if wine were served with the meal, the wine-glasses were placed before the goblets. Am I correct or not? E. I. S.

I AM not quite sure what you mean by this question. Do you mean when they are the guests of honor? The woman guest of honor is given the seat at the right of the host. The man guest of honor is given the seat on the right of the hostess. The next honor places are the seats at the left. That is, the woman who is to be given second place of honor is seated at the left of the hostess.

2. You are right. When a place is set, the goblet is placed on the right of the plate, just above the tip of the dinner knife. The wine glass, when there is one, is placed at the right of the water glass, on a straight line with it, as the French do, or just below it, as we most often see in this country. Coasters should not be used with goblets.

The Correctness of Shower Parties

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

To settle a dispute between two friends of mine, will you kindly tell me whether it is a breach of etiquette for a member of the bride-to-be's family to hold a shower in her honor? A claims that it is entirely out of order, while B maintains it is perfectly all right for a relative to give a shower. H. C.

I CAN'T tell you what is correct or what isn't in this respect, for there aren't any definite rules in etiquette about the giving of showers. Mrs. Grundy expects us to figure out as politely as possible what is the gracious thing to do, and most especially what is the common sensible thing to do concerning these problematic parties. And when we think of them in this way, we cannot help—at least, I cannot help—agreeing with A. As a friend to friend now, seriously, don't you think that for a member of the bride's family to give her a shower emphasizes the "gimme" quality of a shower?

Says the bride's mother, or her sister, "Evelyn needs some kitchen utensils. What ho—we'll give her a kitchen shower!" Lady, if that isn't begging, I don't know what is!

Protection for Engraved Cards

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Is it correct to use the tissue paper squares to protect the face of a wedding announcement? IRMA.

IT'S much better to take the tissue from the engraved invitation or announcement before you mail it. To my taste, it gives to the engraved-ensemble a "ragged," unfinished appearance. Like a woman who is beautifully dressed, but whose hair is not well-groomed.

These tissues are necessary to keep in the engraved cards for a week, that is, until the engraving is dry. Then there is no further use for them. Therefore, we should order our invitations or announcements early so that the drying process may be finished, and the extraneous tissues removed. Then the appearance of the card and envelope takes on a complete and finished look. This is also true of Christmas cards and any other kind of engraved card or letter.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

'Baby' Teeth—The Key to Future Health

YOU must not forget that the nutrition of a child does not begin at birth. It starts long before birth. What the constitution of the child is to be depends largely on what the mother eats before the child is born, as well as on the nourishment given after it comes into the world.

DR COPELAND

The effect of the mother's diet is clearly seen in the child's teeth. If her diet, before the child's birth, has consisted of fresh, natural foods, then the child will probably be normal and healthy. But if her diet has not contained enough of the valuable mineral salts, the needs of her body, as well as that of her baby, will not be supplied with sufficient lime to make strong bones and teeth.

She would eat plenty of raw and stewed fresh fruits daily, as well as plenty of raw and cooked green vegetables. Whole wheat bread should be substituted for white breads, and milk products for much meat. Such a diet is essential for the welfare of the expected child.

Although the teeth of an infant are not visible at birth, and the first tooth does not develop until the child is six to eight months old, they really begin to form and harden five months before birth. These young teeth at birth are embedded in the jaw.

Even the first permanent back teeth or molars are developing at this time. Lime salts have to be supplied to the unborn child by the mother's blood. Later, too, when she is nursing the infant, they must be given through her milk. It is easy to see that much care should be given to the mother's diet, both before the child is born as well as imdiately after.

A well-known physician has said that if every child could be fed on its own mother's milk for the first eight months, there would be a tremendous decrease in the death-rate of infants in their first year. There would be a large decrease in rickets and tuberculosis in children. We would have healthier boys and girls, and the whole coming generation would be benefited.

Well, even if this practice cannot be universal, it is most important that every mother who can, should nurse her baby. It is a well-known fact that babies fed on mothers' milk have shown greater immunity to the infectious or "catching" diseases than those who have been bottle-fed.

Good teeth are not only needful for the sake of appearance and for chewing purposes, but because bad or diseased teeth, through their decay, very often lead to serious disease. We must not forget this.

Just because the first, or "baby" teeth are a temporary set is no excuse for their neglect. The growing child needs even more than the usual care of his teeth, for without good teeth he cannot chew his food properly, and if decayed teeth are not attended to promptly he is liable to disease.

He must build up his bodily resistance to disease with good, nourishing food, plenty of out-of-door play in the fresh air and the proper amount of rest. And it is important, too, that he visit the dentist regularly to keep his teeth in proper order.

Answers to Health Queries

MARGARET. Q.—What will straighten a slight curvature of the spine?

A.—Consult an orthopedist for treatment.

MRS. W. L. C. Q.—What is the cause of sciatica?

A.—In females this condition is often due to the pressure of a tumor, and sometimes the cause cannot be found, although it may come from an infection. Since the focus of infection may also be in the gall bladder, intestinal and urinary tracts, the teeth, tonsils or sinuses, it is well to have all of these sources examined for the cause of the trouble.

PIRATE ICEMEN DEFEAT DETROIT, 3 TO 1

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Pirate Outfield Signed.
Comorosky Enters Fold.
Old Official Lauds Pitt.
Best He Ever Saw.
More Shires Fiction.
Two Bouts Hold Fans.

CONTRAST TO SITUATION OF LAST SPRING

THE Pirates are already assured of having a complete outfield, at least, for the beginning of the baseball season of 1930. That much was assured yesterday, when Adam Comorosky announced in Wilkes-Barre that he had signed his Pittsburgh contract for next year. The Pirate officials themselves made it known in October that both Paul and Lloyd Waner had affixed their signatures to new agreements for the next diamond campaign, so that with Comorosky now in the fold the Bucs are all ready to go, as far as the regular picket line is concerned.

Adam Comorosky

The situation in the fly-chasing department is in striking contrast to that which preceded the pennant race of 1929. The Picaroons faced that season with the outfield all shot. For both Waners developed into holdouts, and neither was on hand to answer roll call when spring training was put under way. Lloyd swung into line soon after practice began, but it was not until opening day that Paul came to terms with his employers.

SO that's one branch of the team that the management and fans will not have to worry about the coming spring. And the chances are that it won't be long until similar gratifying reports can be made relative to the other departments. As usual, President Barney Dreyfuss has gone about the work of lining up his athletes without a brass-band accompaniment, but it is safe to say that about three-quarters of the Corsairs are already under contract.

The left-field job has not been actually awarded to Comorosky at this early date, of course. Adam may have competition on his hands for the place. True, Ira Flagstead is no longer at his peak and is not being considered as a candidate for a regular outpost assignment, but Fred Brickell, Jim Mosolf, Mel Ingram and John Stoneham will have to be reckoned with in the spring. At the rate of improvement he showed last season, however, Commy will not be easily dislodged.

HIGH praise for the Pitt football team and a most favorable estimate of its chances in the Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena next Wednesday afternoon come from Charley McCarthy, veteran gridiron official, who declares that if the Trojans win they will have to beat the best eleven he has ever watched.

Ray Montgomery

"That Pitt team is the greatest that I've seen in all my life," McCarthy told Gordon Mackay. "I'd have to go back 25 years to find an eleven with which to compare those fellows. That would be the Penn team of 1904 or 1905, when the Red and Blue had Andy Smith, the great Stevenson, Eddie Greene, Otie Lamson, Frank Piekarski and the rest.

"JOHN CANNON, of Notre Dame, was a great guard this year, but I've seen another just as good. Boy, but that Montgomery, of Pitt, is a wonder. He comes out of the line for interference. Big fellow, 10-second man on the hoof, as fast as, if not faster, than any of the backs. When you mention guards of the past or present, don't forget Montgomery. And he is only one. You never know how much concealed power that Pitt team owns until you see it put to the test.

"CONSIDER the Penn State game, for instance. Bezdek's boys did something that no other team had been able to do all season. They stopped Toby Uansa. But what difference did that make. Tom Parkinson came along and rammed and battered that line for three touchdowns. And Uansa was just as tickled that Tom made the touchdowns as if he had made them himself. Great spirit among those fellows, no mistaking that, either.

"You could talk about the Pitt team all day and not tell the half of it. Look at the talent. Take Joe Donchess at end, for instance. Best in the country; can do more things at end than any other man I've seen working there. Just a natural Hinkey, and that goes. No trouble to pick all-America players when they come like Donchess. Same way with Montgomery, and with Cannon and Carideo, of Notre Dame.

"TOO bad Pitt and Notre Dame did not come together this year. I wouldn't want to make a comparison. You never can tell about games where such teams are concerned. Carideo is the best quarterback I've seen since Stevenson. He hasn't a weakness. He's so good all the time that an observer doesn't hand him what he really rates. You can't find anything for comparison—always perfect.

"I'll say another thing for Notre Dame, too. Rockne's boys always get a touchdown when they need it. If it takes one to lick you, they'll get that one. If it takes three, they'll get 'em. Smart—that's the answer to all questions about Notre Dame."

Art Shires

IF you haven't surmised that many of the stories that have been built around the alleged loquacity and egotism of Art Shires are gross exaggerations or mere fiction, you can find an indication of the fact in the latest yarn about the White Sox first sacher. A report from Martinsburg, W. Va., says that Hack Wilson received a Christmas card which bore, under the season's greetings, the inscription, "The Great, Great Shires." Somebody is romancing about the receipt of such a card, or somebody else is kidding Wilson, for, as a matter of fact, the personal Christmas greeting cards sent out by Shires are neat, expensive and handsomely engraved, bearing the modest conventional inscription, "Charles Arthur Shires." The space-fillers and wise-crackers are making Shires say and do a lot of things that he never dreamed of saying or doing. And he's smart enough to let them write their heads off about him and to take advantage of the publicity as long as boxing commissions and ring fans are foolish enough to turn it into dollars for him at the fight clubs.

A PAIR of 10-round boxing numbers of more than ordinary interest and importance will hold the attention of fistic followers tonight. Earl Mastro and Bud Taylor are booked for 10 rounds in Chicago, while Tuffy Griffiths and Johnny Risko are billed for the same distance in New York. A near-title match may hinge on the outcome of each contest, as the Chicago winner is to meet Kid Chocolate, and the New York victor may be selected to face Jack Sharkey at Miami's February show.

This will be the second meeting of Mastro and Taylor. Their bout in October saw the three officials voting three different ways, though the majority of the spectators figured that Mastro deserved the verdict. It will not be surprising if Earl wins by a clear margin tonight. He is a real fighter who will bear watching. Not only does he appear

Baker Stops O'Day; Augie Zabish Wins

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Oscar (Moon) Baker, Los Angeles heavyweight, knocked out Eddie O'Day, of Scranton, Pa., in the first round here last night.

The opening six round bout resulted in a decision victory for Augie Zabish, of Pittsburgh, over Spec Friend, Tulsa, Okla., welterweight.

Bellefonte Gives Up Basketball as Sport

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 27. — For the first time in a score of years the Bellefonte Academy will not have a cage team this season. Headmaster James R. MILKS ON SICK LIST; MILLER NEW PILOT

By CARL W. SHATTO.

Hib Milks missed his first game of hockey in 15 years, Bert McCaffrey made his farewell appearance as a Pirate, and Johnny MacKinnon made his return to the lineup a gala occasion by scoring a goal in the first minute that he was on the ice as the local puckmen scored a 3-1 victory over the Detroit Cougars at Duquesne Garden last night.

Milks, star forward, who took over the duties of pilot when Player-Manager Frank Frederickson was admitted to a Toronto hospital last Saturday, was in bed fighting off an attack of pneumonia while his mates were turning back the Cougars. Joe Miller acted as manager, captain and goalie in the torrid fight, and he gave an exceptionally brilliant exhibition in the nets in addition to discharging his new duties in an efficient manner.

MILKS ORDERED TO BED

Because the Pirates were without the services of Herb Drury, MacKinnon and Frederickson at the time, Milks played through the Toronto and Detroit games last Saturday and Sunday under the handicap of a severe cold. When he visited Frederickson Wednesday in Toronto, physicians there advised that he join Freddie as a hospital patient, but he came on to Pittsburgh to resume his duties. He developed symptoms of pneumonia yesterday, and a physician ordered him to bed. In the event that his illness is not checked immediately, he probably will be lost to the team for the greater part of the season.

Until last night, Milks never had failed to participate in a game in which he was scheduled to appear since he broke into the ice sport, 15 years ago.

LOWREY IN FIGHT

Milks, Drury and Frederickson, who make up the hospital squad, all are capable centers. Moreover, they are the only men on the team with any great experience at the position. Jerry Lowrey took up the duties of pivot on the starting front line last night and gave a fighting exhibition, and his fighting was with his fists as well as with his hockey stick. He exchanged blows with Goodfellow, Detroit forward, early in the third period in a wild mixup in front of the Pirate cage. The fight was an extraordinary bout in that several blows were landed. The officials noticed the expert fistic aim and meted out major penalties.

As soon as the belligerents had returned to the ice, Goodfellow, showing anything but goodfellowship, crowded Lowrey into the boards when the latter was speeding the rink. The Cougar was handed another penalty for his pains.

Lowrey showing as much skill as he did fight, was on the assisting end of two of the Bucs' three goals.

PIRATES GAIN LEAD

The Pirates scored their first goal, and gained the upper hand in the scrap, after eight minutes of play in the first period, when McCaffrey fed Ren Manners a pass as the latter crossed the last blue line. Ren lifted a high, hot shot to an upper corner of the cage.

MacKinnon, husky defense ace out for more than two weeks with a sprained ankle, appeared on the ice when the stanza was 10 minutes old, he had been in position only 30 seconds when he accompanied Lowrey up the ice, took a pass as they broke through the defense and beat Beveridge, Detroit goalie, with a hard smash that the Cougar gardian never saw. The handling of the puck on this play was perfect, as was the timing.

Eager to protect that two-goal lead, the Bucs concentrated on defense, and it was not until the second period was three minutes old that the Cougar goaler had to turn around and lift the disc out of his own net. Lowrey and Bud Jarvis engineered the scoring play, the former carrying it down the ice and Bud coming in fast to tally on the rebound.

The visitors allied their only goal of the fray five minutes later when Goodfellow took a pass from Cooper and slammed the rubber home in a wild mixup in YESTERDAY'S ANSWERS: CHRISTMAS IS UNLAWFUL IN SCOTLAND—Parliament passed a law in 1644 forbidding any merriment or religious services on Christmas Day, on the ground that it was a heathen festival. After the Restoration, King Charles II revived the feast, repudiating the Act of Parliament as far as it was effective in England. Scotland, with its separatist religious tendencies stimulated by the treaty of Berwick in 1639, continued to adhere to the Puritan view and was successful in keeping the revival restricted to England only. Hence, while Christmas is considered a holiday in England and the United States, as well as other countries, in Scotland, it is technically illegal. TOMORROW—THE MAN WHO CAN SPEAK WITHOUT VOCAL CORDS.

TRIPPE BEATS MADGE IN TUBE CITY

Joe Trippe, Rochester, N. Y., slugger, and Larry Madge, of Cleveland, furnished 10 rounds of genuine fireworks last night in their main bout at the Palisades, McKeesport, Trippe winning the unanimous decision of the judges and referee at the conclusion of the fight.

Seldom have two out-of-towners fought with such ferocity and determination as did this pair of sluggers last night. Giving away a two-pound weight advantage, Trippe danced and jabbed his way to a triumph, crossing occasionally with a hard right that stopped Madge in his tracks. The Cleveland lad also put up a dandy exhibition, taking at least four of the rounds and holding Trippe even in another. A sensational tenth round stand by the Rochester fighter, however, gave him the decision beyond question.

MADGE FLOORED

Trippe floored Madge for the only knockdown late in the sixth round, but the bell rang as Referee Red Robinson reached a count of seven with Madge resting on one knee. In the final session, the fighters stood toe to toe and punched away with Trippe having the edge. Trippe weighed 143 and Madge 145.

Young Chester, a newcomer from Monessen, put all he had in the first round of his semi-final bout with Cowboy Joe Cannell, of Youngstown, but it was not enough and the Cowboy proceeded to slow his opponent down. The fight ended after one minute and 15 seconds in the second round, when Chester walked away from the battle scene and Referee Robinson called a halt, awarding the bout to Cannell via the technical kayo route. Cannell landed hard with his right and left to Chester's stomach in the second and the Monessen slugger curled up without landing a blow. Chester weighed 151¾ and Cannell 145¼.

CERTO STOPPED

A pair of inexperienced slugging middleweights were pitted against each other in the second bout, which also ended in the second round with Bill Flanagan, of Clearfield, winning on a technical knockout decision over Stanley Certo, of Donora. A hard right to the side of the head slowed Certo up and rather than continue mixing it with Flanagan, he dropped to one knee for a rest. Referee Robinson helped him to his feet and called a halt to the battle. Certo weighed 157 and his opponent 160.

Vito Mazzeo, 118, of Cleveland, outboxed Georgie Tomkaskey, 118, of Wilmerding, in the six-round opener.

Local Ice Tilt Transferred To Boston

Pittsburgh Hockey Club officials today announced that they had decided to stage another home game in somebody else's home.

The National League game carded for January 9, in which the Boston Bruins were to have appeared here, has been transferred to Boston.

On January 25 and March 1 the Bucs are to play "home" games in Atlantic City, against Chicago and Montreal Les Canadiens, respectively.

POWELL, PHILLIPS WIN

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Dick Powell, former Davis and Elkins football player, knocked out Young Paulino of Akron, O., in the fifth round here last night. Tug Phillips, Pittsburgh, decisively outpointed Joe Colombo, Clarksburg, in 10 rounds.

SPORTS WORLD LOSES GOOD SCRIBES

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor.

The sports world and newspaper profession lost two good men when Lou Wollen, local baseball reporter, and Ray Campbell, Cleveland News boxing expert, died on Christmas Day.

Lou was of the quiet type, efficient but unassuming. He had many friends among his fellow craftsmen and the baseball players about whom he wrote. Campbell was one of the outstanding boxing writers of the country, despite his youth.

Campbell broke into the boxing field as a youngster, when, after a brief connection with a Philadelphia newspaper, he went to New York as publicity manager for Billy Gibson at the time the latter managed Benny Leonard, then the world lightweight champion. Through Gibson he became closely allied with Gene Tunney and wrote much of the signed stuff that appeared under Tunney's name in the newspapers and also was in charge of press arrangements at Tunney's training camps before and after the latter became heavyweight champion. Meanwhile, he had become boxing writer for the Cleveland newspaper and he maintained this connection until his death.

HELPED BY TUNNEY

Campbell was an excellent writer and possessed a keen knowledge of the background of boxing from its earliest days. He was among the few writers who picked Tunney to defeat Jack Dempsey in their first bout.

Campbell and Tunney disagreed and "fell out" with each other more than a year ago, but when Gene returned recently from abroad and learned that Campbell was hovering on the abyss of death, he ordered the best of medical care for the young writer at his expense. It is said Campbell never rallied sufficiently to learn that Tunney was doing all within his power to save his life.

Funeral services for Wollen will be held from his home in Beechview Sunday afternoon. The local sports scribes will attend in groups to pay their respects to his memory.

Arthur the Great Scores Second Knockout

BUFFALO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—C. Arthur Shires, Chicago Whitesox baseball player and aspiring prize ring star, scored the second knockout of his career when he floored Bad Billy Bailey after one minute and 20 seconds of slugging in the first round here last night.

The battle was just one flurry of action and punches until Bailey went down. In the first exchange, Bailey landed flush on Shires' mouth and brought the blood. Then the ball player-fighter raked Bailey with a succession of rights and lefts, staggered him and wrestled him along the ropes. Two powerful rights to the chin finally crumpled Bailey.

Shires made a speech, saying he would fight any man in the world of not too great ring experience. He weighed 179½, and Bailey 184½.

Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, witnessed the battle.

ADRIAN MEETS BLUFFITES IN LOCAL TILT

The Duquesne University and Carnegie Tech basketball teams will swing into action tonight, the Dukes opening their home campaign by opposing the Adrian College quintet on the Bluff floor, while the Skibos pry the lid off their season by engaging the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. passers in Youngstown. The Skibos face another foe ere they return home meeting St. John's College in Toledo tomorrow night.

The Adrian quintet is no stranger here, having opposed the Bluffites several times on the local floor. Adrian has a large alumni body in Western Pennsylvania and many of them will be on hand tonight to see them in action against Chick Davies' Bluffites. Sam Watters, secretary of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is a graduate of Adrian.

HOGAN TO WATCH TECH

The two battles in Ohio gives Coach Ralph Hogan an opportunity to see how his charges work under fire. Hogan is making his bow as Carnegie coach this winter.

Boasting two of the greatest guards in the Bay State, the Adrian quintet will present classy opposition for the Dukes with little doubt. Henry Geisler, of Tarentum, Pa., and Paul Reed, of Canton, O., will conduct the defense in the combination which Coach D. R. Sprangle will start against the Dukes. The forwards will be taken care of by Adrian's "hot-shot" duo, Capt. Harold Patchett, of Flint, Mich., and Donald Schoonover, of Morenci, Mich. It is expected that Delbert Nims, six feet tall center man will do the jumping against either Joe Vernon or Bunk McGeever, of the Dukes. Coach Chick Davies has declined to make a selection between the two tip-off experts.

ABELE REPLACES GANZY

Davies will start Ben Lubic and Paul (Smoke) Abele at the forwards, the latter taking over the usual berth of the injured Capt. Benedict. Snabs Parry, who is seeing his first real varsity experience, and Brud Stephens, acting-captain will be at the guards. The game starts in the Bluff gymnasium at 8:15 p. m. and a preliminary contest between the Duke Preps and Boys' Catholic High School will start at 6:30. The probable lineup:

DUQUESNE.		ADRIAN.
Abele	F	Patchett
Lubic	F	Schoonover
Vernon, McGeever	C	Nims
Parry	G	Geisler
Stephens	G	Reed

Officials—Al Slack and Dan Prickley. Time—8:15 p. m.

PITT HEADS FOR KANSAS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 26.—(AP.)—The University of Pittsburgh football team, bound for Pasadena, Cal., to meet the University of Southern California New Year's Day, resumed its westward journey last night after a five-hour layover in St. Louis, during which the entire squad of 33 players went through light signal practice and otherwise limbered up.

The practice session was held on Francis Field, at Washington

M.-A. LOOP SEES EXPENSE CUTS AS BOON

NEW PROGRAM IS 'HEALTH' HOPE

The economic program adopted by the Middle Atlantic Baseball League for 1930 should go a long way toward making the coming campaign a successful one from a financial standpoint.

Perhaps the outstanding economic feature was the reduction made in the salaries and expense accounts of the league president and secretary. President Elmer Daily's salary was cut from $1,750 to $1,200 per year, while his expense account was reduced from $1,000 to $750. Secretary Hockenbury was obliged to take a cut of $200 in salary. His was $800 before the reduction was made. His expense account also was cut from $250 to $200.

The lowering of the salaries and expense accounts of these two officers reveals that the league will be obliged to part with $1,050 less than in years gone by.

BOND CUT TO $1,500

For the purpose of relieving the financial burden of each club at the start of the season the league officials voted to reduce the bond from $2,000 to $1,500 for 1930. This bond must be posted at the league session at Uniontown, Pa., in February.

Another means of saving money in the matter of traveling expenses was adopted in the new umpiring system which will be introduced next year. Heretofore the league had eight umpires doing active duty, two in each city where games were being staged. Traveling expenses for these men ran into a great deal of money. The new plan calls for one league umpire, who will officiate behind the plate, and a base umpire, who will be chosen by the management of the home club. The latter arbiter may be a native of the same city as the team playing at home, but his name must be submitted to President Daily and approved by him. The "home" umpire's salary shall not exceed $5 per game. It is hoped with the introduction of this plan that the traveling expenses of umpires will be cut in half.

NEW ROOKIE RULE

A new "rookie" rule was adopted whereby each club must carry five so-called "rookies." It is necessary that each team carry two men who have never participated in organized baseball before. The other three men under the "rookie" classification are those who have not played more than one season in the league. The idea of the "rookie" rule is to encourage the use of young players so that they may be developed for advancement.

The schedule for 1930, which will not be released until early in February, will have Friday, May 9, as the opening date and Monday, September 1 (Labor Day), as the closing date. The schedule was reduced to 120 games, six less than in 1929.

OREGON AFTER BIFF JONES

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Rumors were current here yesterday that Capt. Biff Jones, West Point football coach, may be approached in connection with the vacant coaching position at the University of Oregon to succeed Capt. John J. McEwan, resigned.

Jack W. Benefil, graduate manager; Virgil Earl, director of athletics, and Del Stanard, representing the alumni of the athletic council, have gone to Palo Alto to see the Army-Stanford game tomorrow.

Oregon is reported willing to pay Coach Jones $8,000 annually, which is understood to be considerably more than his present salary.

BIFF NONCOMMITTAL

STANFORD, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Reports that Capt. Lawrence (Biff) Jones, West Point coach, was being considered as a possible successor to Capt. John McEwan, resigned, as coach of the University of Oregon football team were received noncommittally by the Army mentor here.

Coach Jones declared he had not been approached and added that he expected to be ordered to Oklahoma next year as instructor in the Artillery School.

to have an edge in class in this match, but he also seems to be in the better condition.

THERE ought to be plenty of hard fighting in the Griffith-Risko affair unless an early knockout cuts the going short. Griffiths looks like the probable winner from this distance, but you never can tell about Risko.

More than once Johnny has appeared to be all washed up, only to step right back in and re-establish himself among the heavies by beating a man who appeared to have all the better of the dope.

Tuffy Griffiths

POSSIBLY, Risko may do the same to Griffiths, but the chances are all against any such development. Griffiths has been underrated in many quarters. He has been speeding right along to a point that will make him a prominent figure among the heavyweight title contenders. Tuffy is perhaps the most improved battler among the heavyweights. He is not without cleverness, and is a rough, tough, two-fisted fighter who is always ready to punch and who can sock with either hand. Griffiths is 22 and Risko is 27 and going. A win for Griffiths tonight looks to be the probable answer.

ARMY ON EDGE FOR BATTLE WITH STANFORD

CADETS SHOW FIGHT ON EVE OF CONTEST

By JESS CARVER,
Staff Correspondent.

ARMY SONG

"Sons of slum and gravy,
Will you let these Indians
Take from us a victory?
Hear our warriors' chorus
Sweep their lines before us,
Carry on to victory!

"Onward, Onward,
Charge against the foe!
Forward, Forward,
The Army's banners go!
Sons of Mars and Thunder,
Rip that line asunder,
Carry on to victory!"

PALO ALTO, Dec. 27. — Until practice time yesterday, after the banner luncheon staged by the Stanford Club, of San Francisco, at which the Cadets and Stanford footballers were guests, Pop Warner's football team looked plenty good as far as a bet went for the game here tomorrow afternoon.

Then the boys drilled, and how they drilled. Not since I saw the Pitt team keyed up and on edge one hour before the game with Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh have I seen a football team so on edge and so ready for battle as the Army team is at this moment.

Leaving the luncheon, Biff Jones took his Cadets back here to Palo Alto and got them into their football togs. Then he gave 'em a talking to and then he went with them out on the field. How they went. It was the final scrimmage session prior to the game for the Cadets and, after about five plays, they started carrying off the Plebes by the armloads.

CADETS SORE

If nothing else favors the Soldiers, and a few things do so, the psychological situation does. Since the Cadets arrived here late Sunday night, the Coast papers have been "on 'em" for being so secretive in their doings. As a result, the boys are more or less burnt up about the writeups they have received—and those have been plenty.

In the second place, Walt Heinecke, star center of the Cards is out, as far as a starting pivot man is concerned. With Walt out, the center of the Card line is far from a thing of wonder and a joy for ever. It is a good center of the line, but not the center of a line calculated to stop a line-plunger like Murrel or to keep young Mr. Chris Keener Cagle from slipping through and then making a monkey of the Cardinal secondary defense.

The Cadets are up in the air, and in the right way. The boys are determined to beat Pop and his Redshirts, not only because the red-shirted horde walloped 'em last year in New York, but because they feel that the season to date has been a distinct loss. They are anxious to make reparation, and at the expense of Pappy.

As the Cadets go about their daily tasks, they sing their famous "Slum and Gravy" song, carried about. And how they can sing it. They sang it yesterday in the final hard scrimmage of the season, the final of their careers for Cagle, Carlmark and Murrel. Today they'll have a long signal drill and then will rest until game time tomorrow.

PROBABLE LINEUP

By the special dispensation of Pop Warner and Biff Jones, who admit friendship for this correspondent, the most probable, and, in fact, almost certain starting lineups of the two elevens follow, lineups which are almost certain to be carried out in tomorrow's game.

Here they are:

Stanford — Capt. Muller and Preston, ends; Tandy and Thompson, tackles; Bardin and Driscoll, guards; Taylor, center; Fliesshacker, quarter, Rothert and Frentrup, halves and Smalling, fullback.

Army—Carlmark and Messinger, ends; Price and Perry, tackles; Humber and Hillsinger, guards; Miller, center; Carver, quarterback; Cagle and Hutchison, halves and Murrel, fullback.

Sunbeams

Among the recent, or more recent, arrivals to swell the local football colony was his grace, Dr. Clarence (Tubby) Spears, former head football coach at West Virginia and at present the big boss at Minnesota.

While we are at it, put this down in the book. Clarence Spears will be the next coach at California, succeeding Nibs Price when Nibs' contract is through.

Yesterday's luncheon was a pip. Next to the hand tendered Pop Warner, Amos Alonzo Stagg, head coach at the University of Chicago, drew the greatest round of applause. Stagg is here for the Army-Stanford game and then will go to Los Angeles to see Pitt take U. S. C.

Maj. Reginald Sasse, coach-elect at West Point, is here with the Cadet eleven, and is getting all the pointers possible from Biff Jones, present incumbent.

Betting odds continue to favor Stanford, but the impression among football coaches and critics present is that the Army will win. Some of the Cards are a bit put out that their Christmas leave was canceled, and the Cadets have rounded into form a lot better than was expected.

TROJANS POLISH OFF

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The Trojans settled into the final grind of preparation today on Bovard Field, University of Southern California campus, for the football game with the University of Pittsburgh in the Pasadena Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

Coach Howard Jones yesterday said, after scrimmage between the first string and the Spartans, he would have a well-balanced attack prepared for the Panthers.

Race Horse Russell Saunders, playing his last game for the Trojans, Jones said, probably will start at quarterback, with Gaius Shaver, good punter, at fullback and Harry Edelson and Ernie Pinckert at the halves.

"If Saunders turns in one of his best games, I will be satisfied," Jones said. "We will have our big guns ready and they will be turned loose at the first opportunity against the unbeaten Pitt eleven."

In addition to Shaver, Jones has Jim Musick, sophomore line plunger; Jess Hill, one of the fleetest ball carriers on the Coast, and Don Moses, a veteran, who has been afflicted with injuries at various times during his career, ready for relief duty at fullback. Marshall Duffield, Saunders' alternate, also is in good condition, as is Margar Apsit, Edelson's relief.

ALL-STARS HURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Four gridders and a coach were on the disabled list of the East and West All-star elevens who meet here New Year's Day in the annual Shrine benefit contest as both teams prepared for light workouts today.

Dick Hanley, Northwestern mentor and assistant coach with Andy Kerr, of Colgate, of the Eastern squad, lay ill in bed here with a heavy cold, while two of his players, Tommy Dowler, of Colgate, and Bill Calderwood, of Northwestern, are hobbling around with leg injuries.

The Western camp numbered Benny Lom, California halfback, and Tom Churchill, Oklahoma end, on its cripple list, both suffering from strained tendons.

GARDEN CARD COMPLETE

The card was completed today for the New Year's boxing matinee at Motor Square Garden New Year's afternoon.

Pete Zivic, of Lawrenceville, will meet Jackie Rodgers, of the North Side, in the 10-round main bout.

Freddie Edwards, of Chester, W. Va., and Hans Roberts, of Germany, are in the eight-round semi-final.

Ken Hargraves, of New Kensington, and Romeo Pacelli, of New Castle, are paired for the second bout, of six rounds, and Young Nanci, of Swissvale, will meet Sammy Paris, of the Hill, in the six-round opening bout.

Bezdek Arranges For Coaches' Parley

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 26.—Hugo Bezdek, head football coach and director of athletics at Pennsylvania State College, will leave here today for New York City to make arrangements for the opening of the annual meeting of the American Football Coaches' Association on Monday.

Ohio State Floor Stars Ineligible

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 27.—Four members of the Ohio State basketball squad have been declared ineligible because of scholastic difficulties. Tittle and Westervelt, forwards; Fontaine, guard, and Weaver, center, are the men barred.

Fight Results

At McKeesport—Joe Trippe defeated Larry Madge, 10 rounds; Joe Cantell knocked out (technical) Young Chester, 2 rounds; Billy Flannagan knocked out (technical) Stanley Certo, 3 rounds; Vito Mazzeo defeated Georgie Tomosky, 6 rounds.

At Clarksburg, W. Va.—Dick Powell knocked out Young Paulino, 5 rounds; Tug Phillips defeated Joe Colombo, 10 rounds.

At Buffalo—Arthur (The Great) Shires knocked out Bad Bill Bailey, 1 round.

At Chicago—Oscar (Moon) Baker knocked out Eddie O'Day, 1 round; King Levinsky defeated Tom Jones, 8 rounds; Roy Dunn defeated Wildcat O'Brien, 6 rounds; Augie Zabish defeated Spec Friend, 6 rounds.

At New York—Charley Nelson defeated Young Jack Sharkey, 8 rounds; Sammy Britt defeated Freddie Raymond, 8 rounds.

LED LOANED

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Led Grosvenor, substitute left wing of the Ottawa National Hockey League team, has been loaned to the London Panthers in the International League.

FAMOUS BELTZHOOVER CLUB OF 1902

MANY STARS OF OLD TEAM SURVIVE

SPORTS WORLD LOSES SCRIBES

gers, Negro knockout star, of the North Side, in the 10-round main bout, it will be the first time he has boxed in his home town in exactly three years. His last appearance here also was in the Garden ring, on New Year's Day, 1927. He lost a 10-round decision to Tommy Crawley on that occasion. The bout was one of a series to determine the local featherweight champion and resulted in a meeting in the final round between Crawley and Phil Goldstein, now full-fledged lightweights, while Zivic still boxes around 120-122 pounds. Pete, now under the management of Ray Alvis, of Chicago, has been boxing about the country the last few months and is confident he will be able to check the winning streak of the hard-hitting Rodgers.

A "HUMPTY-DUMPTY"

One of the best new labels in the boxing racket is "humpty-dumpty," meaning a pushover, setup, or palooka. Credit it to David J. Walsh, gifted sports editor of the International News Service, a Hearst organization, who writes of a heavyweight who is being gradually built up with a view to having him meet Jack Sharkey at Miami in February that it may be relied upon that if he meets anyone in the interim it will be some "very good, reliable humpty-dumpty." If you remember your nursery rhymes, you will recall that the famous Humpty, an egg if there ever was one, wasn't even pushed, but fell off the wall.

THESE NEW "KETCHELS"

It is remarkable how many young boxers these days trade on the reputation of the great Stanley Ketchel, yet do not even know how to properly spell the name of that ring immortal. There are "Young Ketchels," Battling Ketchels," "Walter Ketchels" and innumerable others, yet they almost invariably wind up spelling their fighting monikers with two l's. Stanley Ketchel's real name was Kiecal and he made it Ketchel for ring purposes. If we must have Ketchels in the ring these days, let us at least spell the ring-glorious name properly.

RISKO A "RISK"

The tip is out that the winner of tonight's Tuffy Griffiths-Johnny Risko bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, will have to fight Victorio Campolo, the Argentine Willard, before getting that widely-ballyhooeyed match with Jack Sharkey. Griff ought to win, but Risko has a nasty habit of upsetting the dope when least expected, so anything may happen.

DAVIES MEETS ROCCO

Willie Davies boxes Steve Rocco, of Canada, in the next to last bout in the Canadian flyweight tournament at Toronto tonight. The winner gets the winner of the New York tournament, if the latter event ever is completed. Bud Taylor boxes Earl Mastro in a return bout in Chicago and Harry Ebbets is paired with Rene DeVos in Detroit. Harold Mays boxes Paul Cavalier in the semi-final to the Risko-Griffiths bout and Joe Sekyra and Larry Johnson are in another 10-rounder on the same card.

CONCERNING FOULS

Should the fans get a refund when a boxing bout ends in a foul? A Chicago newspaper has asked this question of five readers, picked at random, and the answer is in the negative. Three said a foul was one of the breaks of the game and must be accepted as such, another declared it all depended on whether or not the foul was deliberate, while only one said a refund was in order.

Army - Stanford Game to Be Broadcast

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Football fans will have their last chance to tune in this year on a major game when Army tackles Stanford at Palo Alto tomorrow.

Description of the contest will be broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company chain, starting at 1:45, Pacific Coast time, and 4:45 Eastern Standard time.

DUKES, TECH PLAY TONIGHT

University, where the players were taken after being greeted yesterday afternoon at Union Station by a delegation of Pittsburgh alumni and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce.

They went from here to Kansas City and planned to make stops at Dallas, Tex.; El Paso, Tex., and Tucson, Ariz., for practice work.

"My boys are in good shape, but have had very little chance to practice against Southern California plays," said Coach Jock Sutherland. "The weather conditions at Pittsburgh have made it practically impossible for us to do outdoor work. Keeping fit has been our main task."

The players appeared to be confident.

Julian to Propose New Fumble Rule

READING, Pa., Dec. 27.—Permit the defending side to advance the ball after recovering a fumble only when the recovery is made in the defending team's territory—this is the fumble rule which Alvin Julian, former Albright coach, would have adopted. He plans to propose the new law to the annual meeting of football coaches to be held in New York next week.

Hoppe Takes Lead Over Welker Cochran

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Willie Hoppe, once the billiard master, won the first pair of 50-point blocks yesterday in his 400-point three-cushion oilliard match here with Welker Cochran, also a former champion.

Hoppe won the afternoon block, 50 to 49, and the evening block, 50 to 38, giving him a first day lead of 100 to 87.

EAST PGH. BEATEN

The Alumni defeated the East Pittsburgh High boys in a fast game last evening. The final score was 31 to 24. Mihalco starred for the Alumni, while Kelly, McQuiggan and Zackrowsky did well for the high school. In the preliminary game the East Pittsburgh High girls defeated the Alumni girls, 21 to 13.

FAMOUS TEAM IS RECALLED

Memories of one of the most famous sandlot baseball teams ever developed in the Pittsburgh area are stirred by the above picture of the aggregation, brought to light by a fan. It is of the old Beltzhoover Club, organized in 1900 by J. B. Thomas and Ossie Smythe. Thomas was manager and Smythe was captain and played middle field.

From this club, Otto Knabe and Honus Lobert later went up to the major leagues to star as teammates on the Phillies and on other teams. Knabe played second base and Lobert third base, with Mike Doolan at shortstop and Fred Luderus at first for the Phillies under the management of Billy Murray and Red Dooin.

The picture shows the 1902 Beltzhoover squad, with Knabe missing. All survive except Joe Buckley and Jack Mathews, the latter a catcher and the former a pitcher.

GALLICK NOW A PRIEST

Joe Gallick, first baseman, now is an assistant priest in Baltimore. Charles Kestner's son is a star in the County League. Hugo Swartling starred for years with Zanesville, in the Ohio and Pennsylvania League. William Stamm, pitcher and outfielder, is a civil engineer in Charleroi. The late Joe Buckley, who hailed from Rochester, N. Y., was rated the best amateur catcher in these parts while with the Beltzhoover Club. He played in his time with Bill Klem and the late Silk O'Loughlin, who became famous as major league umpires. Pitcher Mathews hailed from Mt. Washington.

Jack Herron, second baseman, played with Pittsburgh and Washington in the major leagues. Port Verner, pitcher, now is employed by the United States Glass Works on the South Side. Pitcher John Hollis resides in Detroit. John Nillis, outfielder, was forced by a bad arm to quit the game when he appeared to have a bright playing future. Outfielder Fred Dawson played professional baseball for a number of years and was noted as a great leadoff batter.

KNABE, LOBERT ON TEAM

Knabe is a successful business man in Philadelphia and Lobert, who has been baseball coach at West Point since finishing his playing days, now is managing a minor league farm for the New York Giants.

F. E. Friedman resides in Beltzhoover and is employed by the city. Pitcher J. H. Downing lives in Mission Hills and is employed by the Carnegie Steel Company.

W. C. Fownes, Jr., Ties For Sixth Place

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 27.—William C. Fownes, Jr., of Oakmont, qualified in a tie for sixth place in the midwinter tournament here yesterday. He scored 79. The former national amateur champion is the only veteran facing a strong entry of young college stars. Other Pittsburgh scores; First division—W. C. Fownes, Jr., 42-37—79. Second—R. G. Morrison, 40-43—83; Ray Babcock, 44-41—85. Fourth—Lawrence Barr, 52-52—104; A. P. Dysart, 52-52—104. Fifth—Stewart Monroe, 58-58—116.

front of the Buc cage. There were so many men in front of Miller that the local goaler was not able to see the play.

M'CAFFREY WINS PRAISE

Bert McCaffrey, who was traded to Les Canadiens for Gordon Fraser on Monday, made his last appearance as a Pirate and won the admiration and high regard of local fandom by giving his best rather than "loafing on the job." Although checking hard and often at his defense post and frequently leading local attacks, he seldom asked for relief. Bert ever has been a willing worker, and Les Canadiens probably will give him a warm welcome when he joins them tomorrow. Fraser, said to be just as versatile as is McCaffrey, will be in Pirate uniform when the Bucs make their next start against the Americans in New York on Sunday.

Roger Smith, at the other defense post, spilled Cougars by the score, and he, too, was given little relief, for MacKinnon's ankle still is so weak that he has to limit his appearances on the ice to a very few minutes.

CLIMB OUT OF CELLAR

The victory enabled the Pirates to even the season score with the Cougars, and it also made it possible for the Bucs to pass the Americans and climb out of the National League cellar.

The local skaters have been displaying plenty of courage ever since the injury epidemic hit them. When their hospital squad grows to such proportions that they have only a goalie, a defender and a forward remaining in the able-bodied class they should, it seems, be regarded as title favorites. The lineup:

Pirates—3.		Detroit—1.
Miller	G	Beveridge
McCaffrey	D	Hughes
Smith	D	Rockburn
Lowrey	C	Connors
Jarvis	W	Aurie
Darragh	W	Lewis

Pirate spares—Briden, Barton, White, Manners, MacKinnon.

Detroit spares—Noble, Hicks, Hay, Cooper, Goodfellow, Brophy, Bellefeuille.

Referees—Ritchie and Batston.

First period—Manners (from McCaffery), 8:10; MacKinnon (from Lowrey), 10:39. Penalties—Rockburn 2.

Second period—Jarvis (from Lowrey), 3:07; Goodfellow (from Cooper), 8:40. Penalties—Jarvis and White.

Third period—No scoring. Penalties—Lowrey and Goodfellow (majors), Connors.

BRUINS TOP RANGERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Turning in their second victory on successive nights with a rally in the last half, Boston's champion Bruins ran their string of triumphs to nine straight last night by defeating the New York Rangers, 4 to 2. The lineup:

Rangers—2.		Boston—4.
Roach	G	C. Thompson
Borgeault	R. D	Shore
Johnson	L. D	Hitchman
Boucher	C	Barry
W. Cook	R. W	Oliver
F. Cook	L. W	Galbraith

Ranger spares—P. Thompson, Murdoch, Keeling, Foster, Vail, Goldsworthy, Hexiner.

Boston spares—Owen, Clapper, Weiland, Gainor, Mackay, Hutton, Carson.

First period—Rangers: Keeling (Bourgeault), 5:05. Penalties—Galbraith, Shore, P. Thompson, Johnson, Clapper, Bourgeault 2.

Second period—Rangers: Keeling (P. Thompson), 3:27; Boston, Barry, 9:34; Boston, Barry, 5:58. Penalties—P. Thompson, Clapper, Hitchman.

Third period—Boston, Oliver (Hitchman), 2:11; Boston, Weiland, 17:23.

'HAWKS TOP MAROONS

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The Chicago Blackhawks kept the Montreal Maroons from taking first place in the Canadian section of the National Hockey League last night by defeating the locals, 4 to 3. The lineup:

How to Play Basketball

What diet precautions should be taken by the basketball player?

Answered by
DR. JAMES NAISMITH
Inventor of Basketball, University of Kansas

It is not necessary for the basketball player to have a scientifically restricted diet. This becomes more or less monotonous and tends to center the attention on the bodily functions.

Any food that is nutritious, plain and easily digested if it agrees with the individual may form the main part of his diet. Some foods, although they have little nutriment, have some ingredients that maintain the proper balance of the functions, such as fruits and vegetables. These form a necessary part of an athlete's diet.

The main requirement is to regulate the daily program of the three meals.

If the games are played and the practice comes in the evening it is easy to arrange the matter. The morning meal should consist of laxative foods such as cereals, fruits and some vegetables. The midday meal should consist of highly nutritious foods and should be the heavy meal of the day. The evening meal, taken about two hours before playing time, should consist of very digestible foods so that digestion may be completed before work begins.

This should consist of those foods that can be easily converted into sugars to give the greatest amount of energy-producing material. It should be light that it may not interfere with the action of the heart and lungs. A cup of tea with this meal tends to steady the nerves.

The Irene Kaufmann Settlement House passers will be out to strengthen their hold on first place in the Central Pittsburgh League tonight when they meet National Music in one of the two league contests on the schedule. In the other battle Joseph Hornes appear at the Foresters' court. Coach Ziggy Hahn, who has been pointing his players for the important battle with the Cleveland Rosenblums next Monday night, has not been overlooking the remaining contests in the Central Pittsburgh League. The Center avenue passers are eager to win the championship in this circuit and they are just as determined to take the title with as many points to spare as possible. The Settlement quintet got away to a running start in the league, winning six straight games before bowing in a thriller with Coach Jim Black's North Side Community House aggregation. One of the aces of the team is Whitey Siljander, former star at Schenley High.

Whitey Siljander

Next Monday's game with the Rosies, the feature attraction on the program arranged for the old-timers of the Hill District institution is expected to draw one of the largest crowds in the history of the I. K. S. The sponsors of the game have kept in close touch with the veteran members of the institution and quite a number of them are expeced to be on hand to see the Central Leaguers in action against the famous pros.

CHAMPS AT ALLENTOWN

In the Allegheny County League tonight the Allentown Club will entertain the Duquesne Lafayettes, three times winners of the league title. The contest is scheduled on the Allentown floor and should bring out a large crowd as the Lafayettes seldom fail to give a fine exhibition for the fans.

Only one game is carded tonight in the West Penn League, the South Side Falcons appearing at the Penn Five floor in Sharpsburgh.

The Catholic Lyceum League, enjoying one of its best seasons, will resume operations tonight when St. Casimir appears at St. Henry's. Tomorrow night St. John, composed mainly of Red McMahon Club stars, invades the St. Joseph Lyceum to meet the team representing that organization.

Dribbles

One of the reasons for the fine showing of the Lou Gordon Juniors this winter has been the excellent work of Shorty Levine, whose all-round playing has done much to keep the team undefeated. Dr. Lewis A. Singer, advisor of the club, regards Levine as one of his best bets. He seems to go best when the battle is close.

The Vic Hansen's All-Americas, representing Syracuse in the American Professional League and including in their lineup that one and only Nat Holman, will invade this section for a series of exhibition games with Western Pennsylvania quintets, January 4, 5, 6, 18, 20, 26, 27 and 28 are available for clubs desiring this strong attraction. Arrangements for games can be made by calling Lafayette 4297.

Followers of the Merry-Fintex aggregation, leader in the County League, are singing the praises of Harvey White, last year's captain at Carnegie Tech, who has been playing a remarkable game for the league leaders. White, while not used as a regular, nevertheless has played an important role in keeping the Fintex quintet in the spotlight. He and Lippe appear to be the big aces of the club.

Buzz Leisenring, recently signed by the Goldensons for County League competition, has made a decided impression on basketball fans in this section as a result of his fine work. An excellent floor man, a good passer and a fine shot, Leisenring has performed well for the South Siders. He formerly played with Lafayette College and Edgewood in the West Penn League.

The Franchinas have changed their name in the Allegheny County League. The Columbus Temple quintet has been renamed the Sianos for the remainder of the season, according to an announcement today by H. Delmanto, manager of the club.

STOCKS MEET RESISTANCE ON RALLY

Heavy Profit-Taking Cuts Gains and Sends Some Shares for Loss

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Efforts to extend the post-holiday rally on the New York Stock Exchange today met with increased resistance. Scores of issues were marked up 1 to 10 points in the early trading, but heavy profit taking, which started around midday, substantially cut down most of the gains, and sent a sprinkling of issues below last night's final quotations. Trading turned dull on the decline.

Revival of activity and strength in the motor shares, based on reports of trade improvement, was one of the features of the early trading. Several blocks of 5,000 to 16,000 shares changed hands as pool operators tried to attract an outside following.

Indications of organized buying also were seen in a few of the accessory stocks, which are expected to profit through the receipt of orders for the new lines of cars.

TRADE NEWS SPOTTY

Business news of the day was rather spotty. Steel mill operations continue at relatively low ebb, although a brisk upturn is expected after the close of the inventory season. U. S. Steel common, which was marked up 3½ points to 169½ in the first hour, later sagged to 167¼. Republic Steel also ran into some selling after an early gain of 4 points.

Call money renewed at 6 per cent for the first time since mid-November, with only a limited supply of funds available.

Money brokers expected, however, that the official rate would be held at that figure. Time money and commercial paper were unchanged. Neither the New York nor Chicago Federal Reserve Banks made any change in their rediscount rates.

While there is still a sharp divergence of opinion among brokers as to the future trend of the market, some improvement is generally looked for after the turn of the year on the theory that the completion of tax selling and the distribution of more than one billion dollars in dividends and interest next month will stimulate the demand for high-grade stocks. Leading commission houses continue to urge caution in the making of new commitments, and many of them discourage trading for a turn at the present time.

MANY GAINS CUT

Commonwealth Power, which fell 5 points yesterday to a new low for the year, rallied 10¼ points today. International Business Machines jumped 9 points. Safeway Stores 6, Columbian Carbon and J. I. Case 6½ each and Air Reduction, American Water Works, American and Foreign Power, Auburn Auto, Brooklyn Union Gas, General Electric, Johns Manville, National Biscuit and Simmons were among the many issues to sell 4 to 5 points higher, although many of the gains were reduced in the afternoon selling movement.

Oils showed signs of activity and strength in anticipation of further trade improvement early next year, but several of the leading rails were heavy in reflection of the disappointing character of the large majority of the November earnings statements now being published. Union Pacific sold down 4 points below last night's close.

Bank of England.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows these changes in pounds: Total reserve decreased 2,582,000; circulation increased 7,876,000; bullion increased 5,293,000; other securities increased 8,840,000; public deposits decreased 1,030,00; other deposits increased 9,255,000; notes reserve decreased 2,532,000; government securities increased 1,980,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 22.87 per cent, compared with 27.02 last week.

Rate of discount, 5 per cent.

Reichsbank Report.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—The Reichsbank statement as of December 23, shows these changes in reichsmarks; Gold and bullion increased 17,519,000; reserve in foreign currencies increased 14,956,000; bills of exchange and cheques increased 89,708,000; silver and other coins decreased 10,598,000; other assets decreased 61,482,000; notes in circulation decreased 9,878,000; other maturing obligations increased 46,301,000; other liabilities increased 10,522,000.

Total gold holdings, 2,264,664,000.

FRANCE PAYS ANNUITIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The Treasury announced the receipt of $12,067,934 from the government of France, completing payment of annuities due up to this time under the Mellon-Berenger amendment for funding the $4,025,000,000 war debt France owed the United States. The announcement said the payment had been received in treasury notes and First Liberty loan bonds.

The payment was the first made since Congress approved the Mellon-Berenger agreement, which was signed on December 18 by the President. All payments which have been made in the past on account of the principal of the obligation and on account of interest on the obligations given for surplus war material purchased from this government are being credited to the annuities first due under the funding agreement.

Up to the time that the agreement was ratified France had paid $112,932,065 to this government, while the total annuities due up to June 15 on the agreement, which was reached on April 29, 1926, amounted to $125,000,000.

The net annuity to be received from the French government will amount to $35,000,000 and will be payable next June 15.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The post-holiday rally on the Curb market faltered today, after yesterday's gains had been extended during the early hours of the session.

The rally appeared to have been promoted by short covering, and with the covering movement over, long holders of stock apparently began to lighten their accounts at the more attractive levels.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

U. S. Well Organized — New York Bond Market

U. S. PREPARED FOR BUSINESS RECESSION

America Was Never Better Organized to Meet Falling Off in Trade

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—American business never entered a trade recession, better organized than at present to make the best of conditions.

President Hoover's White House conferences, culminating in the formation of a business council which Julius H. Barnes heads, merely brought to a climax the vast post-war growth of trade associations and other agencies for improving the technique of management. Numerous hard-headed executives believe that the improved science of management will tend to make the swings through various phases of the business cycle less violent, and make old-fashioned hard times, with soup kitchens and widespread distress, obsolete.

CHANGES GRADUAL

These changes have come upon the American scene so gradually that we take them for granted. Other countries, however, have not paralleled this development in organization for business coordination.

The editor of the London Times trade supplement regrets that England has not followed the American example, saying with regard to governmental efforts to promote trade: "It is a source of chagrin that this country (England), which led the way in developing a service of commercial intelligence for the benefit of trade, has been hopelessly outstripped by its American rival. A decade ago the Americans were eager to learn all they could of the British system; they adopted part of it and greatly improved and extended it, while the British government was concerned, if not to destroy, or any rate to starve its own efforts for trade promotion."

Referring to the Hoover efforts to stabilize business, this critic adds:

"It would be easy to underestimate the ultimate psychological effect of this campaign of cheerfulness. Uncertainty is the most deadly foe to business activity, and nothing is more calculated to induce uncertainty and a general disposition to 'go slow' than a steady drip of pessimism from high quarters."

O. H. Cheney, of the Irving Trust Company, has sent the subjoined holiday message to his clients and friends: "Some leaves may be blown away, but the tree of business is always living and is rooted deep. May it flourish more abundantly for you during the new year."

CROP VALUE GAINS

In spite of disappointment over cotton prices, R. E. Lee Wilson, scientific cotton grower, of Wilson, Ark., writes me: "The value of the South's crops this year will exceed those of the entire nation in 1900. On view of this, can we, as dirt farmers, doubt that the day of industrialized farmng has come for the cotton growers? Farm production has increased a half more rapidly than farm population since the war. Isn't that proof positive that we must increase yields if we are to make a decent living off our lands?"

Mr. Wilson contends that good seeds are vastly more important to the farmer than political aid.

Since the end of the bull market, a good deal of inflation has been shaken from the chain idea. One of the delusions of the earlier rise was that a chain of stores would necessarily make prodigious profits. The truth is that chains have varied widely in the degree of success attained, depending on the character of the management. Hubert T. Parson, president of the F. W. Woolworth Company, one of the superlatively managed chains, has frequently pointed out that the independent merchants could absorb numerous ideas in systematic management from chain stores. The head of one of the grocery chains, looking into the future, expressed some concern over competition from the voluntary chain, whereby independents band together to get the benefits of quantity buying and expert merchandising counsel.

DEFENDS COPPER PRICE

Consumers of copper, who for several months, have sought to batter down the pegged price of 18 cents for the metal by withholding orders have thus far been unsuccessful.

Defending the existing price policy, Walter Douglas, president of the Phelps Dodge Corporation, said:

"Consumers in this country and abroad have been postponing their purchases for several months. The result is that an obvious vacuum has been built up and this will have to be filled if the copper consuming industrials are to continue in operation. There has been no buying of any consequence since September, although since that period fabricators have been working at a very good rate. If they had any reserve this has practically disappeared by now. It is only a matter of time before it will have to be replenished. As far as I can ascertain from fabricators, an 18-cent price for copper is by no means burdensome and does not encourage the use of substitutes."

Of course, in my opinion, it is not the abstract fairness of the price which has held copper at the 18-cent level, but rather the policy of producers.

Fair Outlook Seen for New Year

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

"THE year will have a slow start but many people expect business to assume a satisfactory volume within a few months." In these words A. C. Robinson, president of the Peoples-Pittsburgh Trust Company, summarized the business outlook.

In speaking of the fundamental conditions underlying commercial activity Mr. Robinson pointed to the fact that the value of this year's crops was somewhat greater than a year ago. "But agricultural conditions are spotty," he said, "while some communities will have a larger purchasing power others will have less than at the end of 1928. I understand that large quantities of wheat are still being held in rural districts. The time required for the conversion of this crop into cash may tend to defer buying in some localities.

"The decline in automobile production at the close of this year would probably have occurred if there had been no break in the stock market. Apparently the population of the country has not been developed to a point at which it can take cars at the rate of 5,500,000 a year without interruption.

Money Easy

"MONEY rates are likely to remain easy," continued Mr. Robinson. "While the part the New York banks played in making up for the sudden withdrawal of corporation money from the call market should not be underestimated, it should not be forgotten that the banks at inland points such as Pittsburgh also met a heavy demand. In fact there is less surplus money in interior banks than in New York.

"A further reduction in the Federal Reserve rediscount rates would not be surprising. Bankers in all parts of the world are desirous of keeping money rates low to stimulate foreign trade. Low interest rates in this country will discourage the concentration of foreign money here and will permit its use for development abroad. This will help our export business."

Foreign Bond Market

WHEN asked if foreign long term financing in this market would be helped by cheaper money, Mr. Robinson expressed the opinion that the increase in new foreign offerings here would be slow. This he attributed to the fact that foreign issues have declined rather sharply from their original prices. He stated, however, that international bankers will keep a close watch on this situation and will make efforts to pave the way for the financing of the new Bank of International Settlements. Bond market conditions will have to be improved before the public will be ready to receive a new issue of such great size.

The financial troubles of some of the countries which have done financing here also offer difficulties to the stabilization of the foreign bond market. The abandonment of the gold standard by Argentina and other problems in Australia and Chile are among these factors. No one knows to what extent Brazil will be involved in the valorization of coffee. Production of coffee has greatly exceeded demand and at some time Brazil will have to liquidate its holdings.

Retail Trade

IN commenting on holiday retail trade in this city, Mr. Robinson stated that the reports he has received have been fairly good. The stores had several very big days. In general the number of purchases were about equal to last year but there was a tendency to buy lower priced articles. This resulted in neglect of some lines while others moved rapidly.

Expected Business Lull Discounted by Drop In Security Values

THERE is a growing belief that most of the business recession which is to follow the break in the stock market about two months ago has been discounted by the lower levels established in leading securities. Of course, there is a possibility that any unexpected development in the coming weeks, indicating still further reactions in activities, will find reflection in the stock market. A few economists have been contending right along that the business recession will be abrupt, but will begin to recover much earlier than similar periods in the past.

Report was going the rounds that strong forces who have arrayed themselves on the side of the declines could be expected to make another drive at the market soon after the turn of the year. But the constructive element does not appear to be fretful on that score. On the contrary those who would like to see the market higher are satisfied that conditions are shaping for a substantial rally. It is contended in such circles that the extreme sluggishness of the trading indicates the market has been sold to a standstill. The inability of forces working on the short side to get anywhere is being taken as supporting this view. More important, it is contended that the short interest is of heavy proportions, and that its ranks include many "small-fry" traders who have had little previous experience in that direction.

SHARES of the leading mail order houses resisted stubbornly fresh effort on the part of the bear element to turn them downward yesterday. That element sought to capitalize the appearance of the new issue catalogues showing prices for a wide list of merchandise cut about 10 per cent. Montgomary Ward, according to G. B. Everitt, president, is going to proceed with its expansion program in 1930. Mr. Everitt stated his company was entering the year with a reasonable degree of confidence, and that while the first half of the period might not be as favorable as many optimistic reports indicate, expects to see a restoration of confidence as the year progresses, with the final quarter particularly good.

With the approach of the next meeting of the directors of Western Union, reports are being revived that the shares of this company will be split up, probably on a four-for-one or a five-for-one basis. Such action on the part of the board is said to be in connection with a contemplated tie-up of telegraph and radio companies. Western Union's earnings have been well in excess of dividend requirements and the stock long has enjoyed a high invstment rating.

THE aviation group of stocks is now considerably below the high prices established in a time when purchasers of these issues were particularly enthused over the prospects facing the industry. Many have receded to levels below their offerings prices, and some students are of the opinion that United Aircraft is now the most attractive in the group. They point to the fact that the stock enjoyed the best sort of banking sponsorship and that large blocks of the stock are understood to be in demand around prevailing market prices.

An outstanding feature in the public utility group in the after-the-holiday session was International Telephone and Telegraph. At current levels the stock is some 80 points under the high established in September and it is thought that the possibilities facing this company in foreign fields have not been fully discounted. Those close to the company estimate that earnings this year will exceed $3 a share on the present stock, compared with an annual dividend requirement of $2 a share. There has been a considerable amount expended in investment in new equipment and the reorganization of new properties and these steps have retarded to some extent the reporting of larger earnings.

Goodyear Co. Sues For Tax Refund

CLEVELAND, Dec. 27.—A suit to recover $1,472,436 from the United States government has been filed in Federal Court by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. The petition alleges that the amount named was collected by the government in income and excess profit taxes in 1917, 1918 and 1919 above the amount actually due.

Banks' Holdings of Discounted Bills Up

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Federal Reserve banks' holdings of discounted bills increased $25,700,000 in the week ended December 24 and bills bought in the open market $45,000,000, while government security holdings decreased $48,200,000.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Firmness of Liberties and United States Treasuries and an increase in the general volume of business were features of today's bond market. Turnover in the earlier part of the session was nearly twice that of yesterday and although price changes were still mixed the ability of the high grade investment issues to maintain a relatively strong position was seen as an indication of the market's favorable basic position.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column. (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

On Broadway

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

THAT there have been 18 wars since the War to End War.

That Clara Bow signs her Harry Richman wires: "Toots."

That the Representative of Texas in Washington, John N. Garner's middle name is Nance. See Who's Who.

That most of the Wall Street help that labored so diligently and faithfully during the crash (remaining up all night and so forth) are being laid off by the thousands.

That an insomnia cure is concentration on green water.

That the park elephant is exercised in the 65th St. Transverse every evening from 7 to 9.

That in England you rarely see a man's shoes laced X-wise because it is considered effeminate.

WON'T WE HAVE FUN?

THAT an amateur movie camera will soon be placed on the market that will sell for $10 and take regular film.

That you often can get $6.60 tickets in Rows A, B, C, or D for the hit shows for half price at Leblang's Cut Rate (upstairs) shop at 8:40 p. m.

That a plant bearing the name "Christmas Tree" is a Bermuda shrub used for hedges.

That there are no swear words in the Arabian language. When they feel overwrought they have to grind their teeth.

That there is a society, worldwide, functioning every year, which is endeavoring to suppress the use of the term, "Xmas."

That Evelyn Laye, New York's biggest individual hit, always succeeded someone in a role, and never created a part.

That New York has a Sabbath Law which makes shops close on Sundays, unless, of course, it is a speakeasy.

THE OLD SHOW-OFF

THAT George M. Cohan was the first actor to own an auto.

That Owen Davis knocked out the critic who panned his first show.

That George Jean Nathan once fought a duel in Italy (it was in 1900) and that he was wounded in the left shoulder.

That Gloria Swanson has a bathtub with golden plumbing.

That 20 years ago the front page of Variety was bought by Joe Cook for $25. Ten years later Irene Franklin paid $2,500 for it and today you cannot buy it for any price.

That readers contend the real reason for buttons on men's sleeves originated in the English Army years ago when the buttons were put on soldiers' sleeves to keep them from wiping their noses that way.

IF YOU STEP ON ONE

THAT every oriental rug has in it somewhere a "charm" in the form of a bead, or a distortion of design, or an odd bit of material.

That business is so bad in the night clubs you could put all the customers in any one of the cafes and there'd still be empty tables.

That the New York dramatic critics, who "use the whip mercilessly" and bulldoze managers, actors and other members of the theater haven't one among them who could put up a good fist fight.

That Ring Lardner, the six-footer, is afraid of mice.

That in some sections of Yurrup it is quite proper to hold the fork upright, instead of placing it on your plate while chewing your food.

ALWAYS ON JOB

THAT every burg, hamlet, village, town and city in the whole world contains one or more camera-fiends who submit movie film of This or That to the news reel firms and get paid by space rates, if used.

That the first 20 years are the oddest.

That of all the stars imported to Hollywood from the Broadway stage, only three have been box office draws, namely, John Barrymore, Al Jolson and the third is a furriner tagged Maurice Chevalier

And that there isn't as much fun in squaring things with your enemies as there is in getting even with them.

MEXICAN SLAIN IN BORDER ROW

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—An unidentified Mexican was killed and another captured in a gun fight between border patrolmen and a band of alleged liquor smugglers here last night in which shots were fired from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. The fight occurred about five blocks from El Paso's business district. Forty gallons of liquor were seized.

The fight occurred on the property of the Rio Grande Oil Company. An earthen fire wall, surrounding one of the oil storage tanks on the lat, was used by the smugglers as a barricade. The The patrolmen used a railroad dump for protection.

The slain man, a Mexican about 25 years old, raised from behind the wall to take a shot at the officers. He fell to the ground, mortally wounded with six shots in his body.

After one of their number had been killed, the other smugglers retreated across the Rio Grande under the protection of rifle fire from the Mexican side of the river.

State Masons Meet Install New Officers

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.—(AP.)—Masons from all parts of Pennsylvania today attended the annual session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania for the installation of officers, observing St. John's Day, an important period on the Masonic calendar.

William S. Snyder, of Harrisburg, was installed as grand master. Benjamin Page, of Pittsburgh, became deputy grand master. The new officers were installed by J. Willison Smith, the retiring grand master, who was also host at luncheon which followed the ceremony.

Inquiry On in Death Of Girl Bank Worker

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—(INS.)—In an effort to determine the cause of the death of Helen E Hempel, comely 20-year-old bank employe whose body was found in the room of a local hotel late yesterday, a chemical analysis of the contents of the girl's stomach was to be made today. The body, fully clothed, was found on a bed. An autopsy revealed no indication of the cause of death, it was said. Miss Hempel, Wednesday night, asked that a "nice, quiet room be reserved for her." She registered as "Elizabeth Lennox."

Holds 13 Hearts At Bridge, Bids Diamonds!

BOSWORTH, Mo., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—In the niche of the Hall of Fame, occupied by Roy Riegels and Fred Merkle, place Wes Stafford, hardware dealer. Stafford drew a perfect bridge hand in hearts—and bid diamonds.

His hand was "all red" so Stafford, the dealer, bid one diamond without inspecting his cards closely—"just to get the game started." The other three players passed. When Stafford looked again at his hand he found 13 hearts. He laid the unplayed hand on the table.

Comment of Mrs. Stafford, his partner, is not of record.

UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES

DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

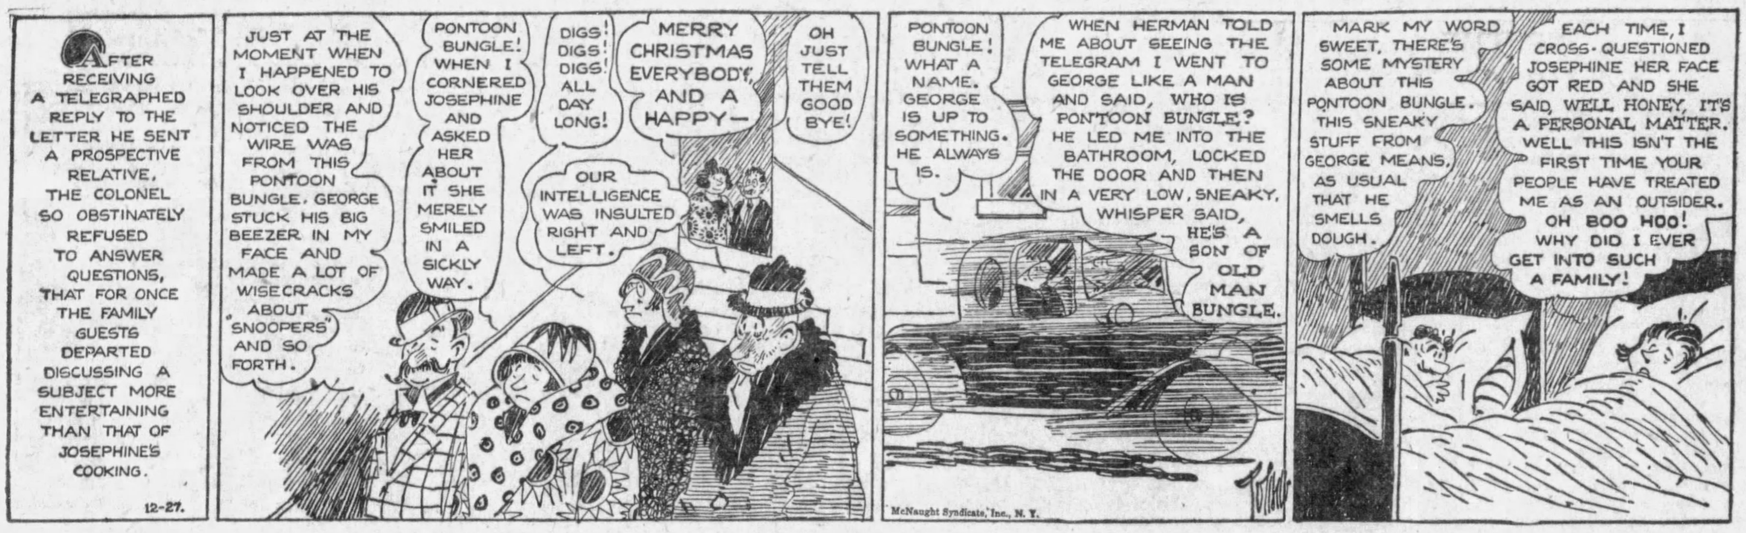
THE BUNGLE FAMILY

A Family Affair

By Tuthill



AFTER RECEIVING A TELEGRAPHED REPLY TO THE LETTER HE SENT A PROSPECTIVE RELATIVE, THE COLONEL SO OBSTINATELY REFUSED TO ANSWER QUESTIONS, THAT FOR ONCE THE FAMILY GUESTS DEPARTED DISCUSSING A SUBJECT MORE ENTERTAINING THAN THAT OF JOSEPHINE'S COOKING.
12-27.
JUST AT THE MOMENT WHEN I HAPPENED TO LOOK OVER HIS SHOULDER AND NOTICED THE WIRE WAS FROM THIS PONTOON BUNGLE. GEORGE STUCK HIS BIG BEEZER IN MY FACE AND MADE A LOT OF WISECRACKS ABOUT "SNOOPERS" AND SO FORTH.
PONTOON BUNGLE! WHEN I CORNERED JOSEPHINE AND ASKED HER ABOUT IT SHE MERELY SMILED IN A SICKLY WAY.
DIGS! DIGS! DIGS! ALL DAY LONG!
MERRY CHRISTMAS EVERYBODY, AND A HAPPY-
OH JUST TELL THEM GOOD BYE!
PONTOON BUNGLE! WHAT A NAME. GEORGE IS UP TO SOMETHING. HE ALWAYS IS.
WHEN HERMAN TOLD ME ABOUT SEEING THE TELEGRAM I WENT TO GEORGE LIKE A MAN AND SAID, WHO IS PONTOON BUNGLE? HE LED ME INTO THE BATHROOM, LOCKED THE DOOR AND THEN IN A VERY LOW, SNEAKY, WHISPER SAID, HE'S A SON OF OLD MAN BUNGLE.
MARK MY WORD SWEET, THERE'S SOME MYSTERY ABOUT THIS PONTOON BUNGLE. THIS SNEAKY STUFF FROM GEORGE MEANS, AS USUAL THAT HE SMELLS DOUGH.
EACH TIME, I CROSS-QUESTIONED JOSEPHINE HER FACE GOT RED AND SHE SAID, WELL HONEY, IT'S A PERSONAL MATTER. WELL THIS ISN'T THE FIRST TIME YOUR PEOPLE HAVE TREATED ME AS AN OUTSIDER. OH BOO HOO! WHY DID I EVER GET INTO SUCH A FAMILY!

Looking Through Herself

If We Only COULD See Ourselves Through and Through.

SEE THROUGH YOURSELF, FEW CAN DO THAT.

Something new in photography.

And, unfortunately, something VERY unusual in human life.

Few of us see through ourselves, much less through each other. Others can hide their thoughts from us. Their motives are unknown, and their real opinions of us are unknown.

It is natural that we should not be able to see through THEM.

But NOTHING IS CONCEALED FROM OURSELVES CONCERNING OURSELVES.

We know what we THINK. We know what we PLAN. We know our many failures and our occasional successes.

We know how often we have made resolutions and broken them. We know how, over and over again, we let opportunity pass by.

We know how much time we devote to criticizing others, and how little to criticizing ourselves.

We OUGHT to be able to see through ourselves as Miss Helm in this photograph sees through herself.

But not one in a hundred can do it.

We go through life DECEIVING ourselves.

More than 2,000 years ago the Greeks wrote above the great temple "gnothi seauton," "know thyself."

That knowledge, most important in life, is knowledge possessed by few of us, and by NO MAN entirely.

If a man has a machine he wants to understand it.

If a man has a business he wants to understand it.

The same with a profession, the same with a book that he reads.

But to all of us the most important machine, the most important business, the most important book is OURSELVES.

We rarely blame ourselves. When an automobile breaks down the owner does not blame ANOTHER automobile across the street. He blames the automobile that breaks down.

But if HE breaks down and fails he looks across the street and blames some other man, some "boss that never gave him a chance," everything BUT himself.

However, there is something worse than not knowing yourself, and that is THINKING OF NOTHING ELSE BUT YOURSELF, wasting time and energy on yourself instead of putting both on work that counts.

William's Mistake

He's Idle, Slavs Are Working.

William Hohenzollern, recently Kaiser, had, it appears, a low opinion of the Slavs. They were "born to serve," he told the Austrian Minister, and "from the King down they can be bought with gold."

He was talking about Serbia just then.

Perhaps the former Kaiser would reconsider that today. He himself is "at leisure," as vaudeville artists say. The Slavs are building their civilization steadily, learning from their own mistakes, as did Peter the Great, Russian Czar, beaten by Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, saying good-naturedly: "My brother Charles is teaching me about war."

The Slavs are not too much given to "visions of grandeur." That is in their favor.

SUN-TELEGRAPH'S PLATFORM

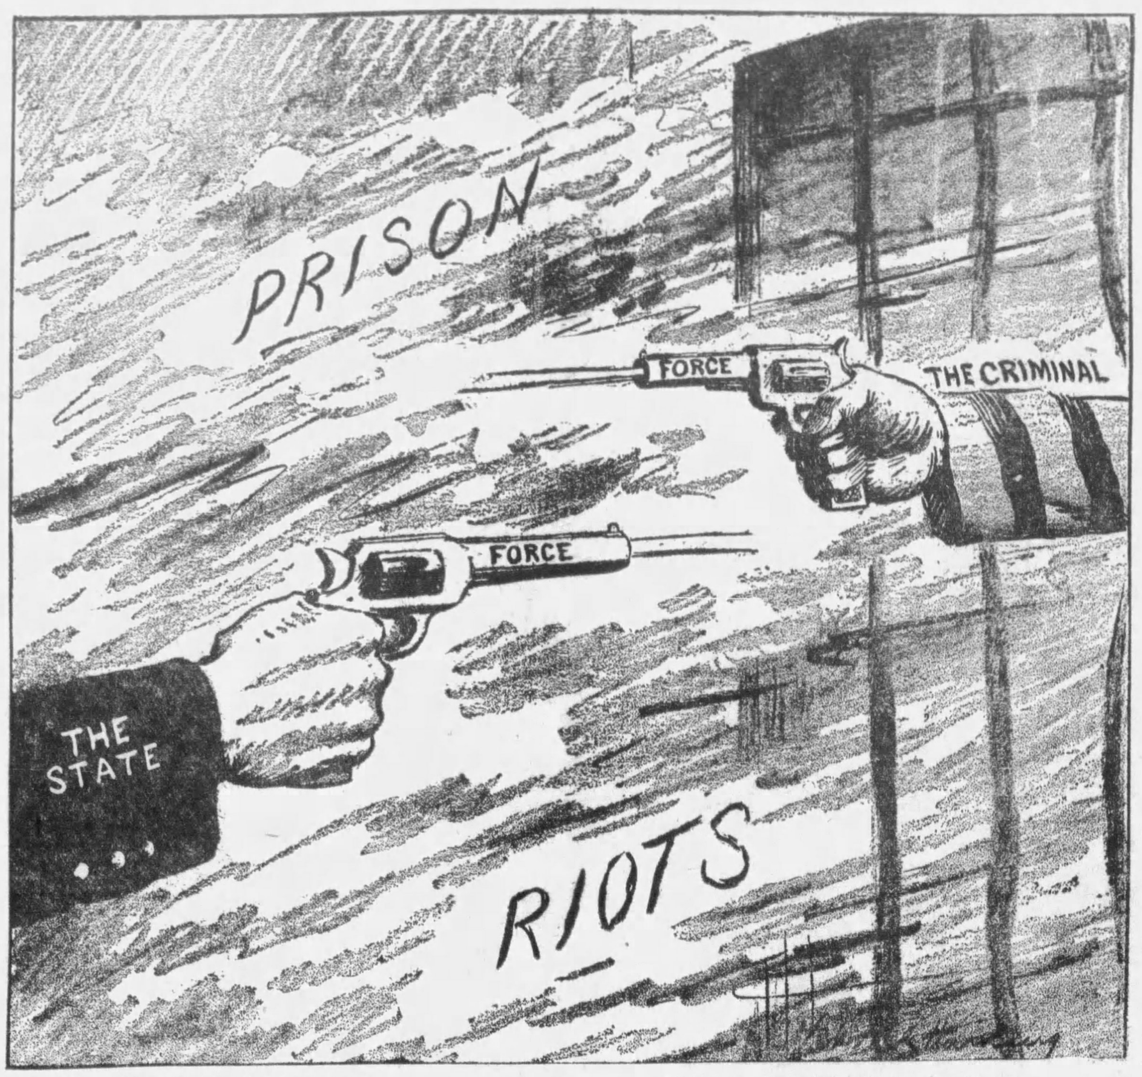
8—Development of river transportation.

IS THIS A PENAL SYSTEM? -:-

Drawn by Nelson Harding



From the prisons of our country,
From the jails of state and nation,
We have heard the crash of volleys,
Seen the smoke of flames and fires,
Rise above the dead and wounded.

Must our crowded jails be shambles?
Must Force versus Desperation
Be our backward Penal System?
Can't we bring Reform by trying Crime Prevention, Education? —N. H.

"Bugs" Baer Says:

The League Tips Its Mitt

FEW, or less, diplomatic infidels seem to realize what has happened to President Hoover's request for food ships.

"Bugs" Baer

Mr. Hoover is anxious to feed women and children during the next series of wars sponsored by the League of Nations.

All he wants is immunity for starving neutrals and non-combatants.

Now, grab a tasty hodful of the League's answer.

The President's charitable and humane synopsis was turned down flatter than a wing collar.

When the next war gallops up with the four jockeys there will be NO neutral nations.

That's all we wanted to know.

The negotiations have finally gotten down to a banquet of brass tacks. So much neutrality has been violated that the League unscrambles the Gordian anagram by doing away with neutrality altogether.

We got our answer in a nutshell. And it's wormy.

That's just one of our simple requests. We don't know what will happen to our important ones, but you can bet that the rest of the apple will not fall far away from the sauce.

America has distributed international groceries all over the argumentative universe. Belgians, French, Chinese, Russians and Serbians have all indulged in our star-spangled delicatessen. And now we get our thanks on a complaint blank.

We admit that the same food that will win a war will also start a fight at breakfast.

But if the League is a philanthropic institution then Simon Legree used a feather duster on Uncle Tom's coat.

Faith, hope and charity dwindle like Alice after she took a snifter of that bottle marked, Drink Me.

Mr. Hoover is a specialist in grub armadas. He fed the world for four years. When Europe kisses the hand that fed it, a bite is a manicure.

The League is at least honest in allowing us to know that everybody with whiskers ain't Santa Claus.

Now we know what to expect, but not how to avoid it.

(Copyright, 1929.)

BIGOTRY MAKES ITS USUAL BULL

By Herbert Kaufman

JUDGE PAUL M'CORMICK is a member of the Hoover Law Observance Commission. Long before that he was a member of the American Bar Association and a graduate in law.

Before he could become a practicing attorney or qualify for the Federal Bench, Judge McCormick was sworn to uphold the Constitution from the first article to the last amendment.

And that Constitution distinctly specified that the home of no American citizen could be forcibly entered or searched without process of warrant.

The Eighteenth Amendment contains no clause empowering any Federal official to suspend or violate that stipulation.

And when State or Federal officers forcibly enter an American home, to seize or search, without FIRST obtaining a warrant, such officers are themselves lawbreakers.

In the opinion of Judge McCormick, his fellow commission-members, Judge Kenyon, and all other competent jurists, such officers transgress the majesty of the Constitution and infract the law of the land.

BECAUSE Judge McCormick has dared to uphold the oath, without which he could not qualify either as a practicing attorney or a Federal magistrate—because he has publicly DENOUNCED the acts of Prohibition agents who DO regularly force their way into American homes and ARREST American citizens WITHOUT proper warrants, Senator Harris, of Georgia, demands his retirement from the Law Observance Commission—claiming that McCormick's denunciation of Federal lawlessness can only be interpreted as a declaration of encouragement to violators of the Eighteenth Amendment.

From which we may deduce that Judge McCormick supports the mathematical contention that the whole Constitution must be greater than any one of its parts, while Senator Harris insists that it is more important to preserve ONE-EIGHTEENTH of our charter of rights than maintain the integrity of the remaining franchises.

IN BRIEF, bigotry and intolerance are willing to smash the ENTIRE structure of our liberties to whittle a rum-stopper out of the wreck.

A fanatic stands ready to cancel every inherent right of the American people and to substitute Volsteadism for Democracy.

With Senator Harris for a spokesman, these bigots now call upon President Hoover to deliver national freedom into their hands. They call upon him to repay the debt of their political support. They claim that he was elected on the issues of religion and prohibition.

They indict the American people of voting a man into the White House because he was a bigot, an exponent of prejudices and the blind tool of a ballot-peddling minority.

They insult the President of the United States and they insult the nation by this defamation.

The issues of the late campaign were set forth in its PLATFORMS, its DEBATES and in the avowals of the CANDIDATES.

HERBERT HOOVER was elected President because of his fitness as an administrator—because of his record as an economist and reorganizer—because of his familiarity with the problems of trade and agriculture and manufacturing—because his party was pledged to maintain adequate tariffs, to secure farm relief—preserve the Constitution and IMPARTIALLY execute the law.

Herbert Hoover would have refused the nomination, if its price had been such a dastardly bargain as Senator Harris insinuates.

If anything is needed further to disgust a country already nauseated by the extremities of enforcement; if anything can wean millions of indecisive folk to revocation or claw-clipping of the Eighteenth Amendment, Senator Harris and his sort are the most likely instruments to produce that sentiment.

Judge McCormick won't resign and won't be unseated. The President won't be intimidated and the Supreme Court can't be stringjerked into a conspiracy against fact.

Georgia's famous moonshine has simply gone to the Senator's head and set him howling. His bark may annoy us—but he's out of BITE-REACH.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

I SAT in a small, shadowy room the other day with a skull in my hands. And, as I talked to the man who owned the skull, the shadows seemed to come alive and draw close.

The man was Dr. David B. Rogers, curator of the Natural History Museum, of Santa Barbara, California. The skull had belonged to another man—a savage who had lived thousands of years ago in that same place. All about me were the tools and possessions which that man, and his fellow savages, had left behind them.

Easy to see how most of these things had happened. Crude things to serve crude needs . . . the need for food . . . the need for safety. But there was something else which wasn't so easy to explain . . . the mark of another, subtler need . . . that seemed to have no place in stupid, savage lives—

ON ALL THOSE CRUDE CREATIONS THERE WAS DECORATION. Sometimes a simple, waving line . . . sometimes an intricate, symbolic pattern. Never necessary, mind you. Never practically serving hunger or hate or fear. Something lovely, that had nothing to do with food or murder . . . WHY WAS IT THERE?

"What made him want beauty, Dr. Rogers?" I asked. "What makes any of us want beauty? If we're just bodies, without souls, as some scientists think, why aren't we satisfied with eating and loving and fighting? Why should a lazy, stupid savage go to the infinite pains of carving that blubber bowl, setting teeth in the jaws and mother-of-pearl in the eyes? Where, in the program of evolution, did the need for beauty arise . . . and how can you explain it in terms of biology?"

"You can't" he said simply. "There are things science can't answer. I suppose that when life comes to a certain point. It isn't enough to be an animal and satisfy the needs of an animal. . . .it begins then, perhaps, to approach God."

AN APPROACH TO GOD . . . A FUMBLING TOWARD GOD . . .was that the meaning of that lovely line that ran along the edge of a cruel knife and the rim of a bowl of clay?

From shapeless slime to a body with a skull. . . .from a helpless hunger to a hunger that had hands and a scheme . . .that's the trail of evolution, a plain trail made by hunger and fear. But then, at a point, something happens. Something more than hunger happens. BEAUTY HAPPENS.

DOES THE TRAIL SWERVE THEN FROM THE DARKNESS OF THE BRUTE AND BEGIN A DELIBERATE APPROACH TO GOD? AND DOES EACH ATTEMPT AT BEAUTY BRING US NEARER TO GOD?

(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

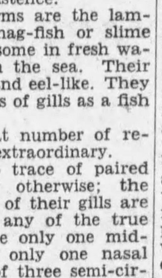
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

OTHERS, curiously flattened, lie on the bottom, snapping with their wry mouths at unsuspicious passers-by, and only occasionally swimming to a new pitch; the plaice and turbot, for example, have an astonishing power of changing color and assuming the pattern of the bottom on which they lie.

Some, like the carp, have small, fastidious mouths and swallow worms and such-like delicatessen; others, like the pike, have enormous jaws and cruel teeth, and destroy fishes nearly as large as themselves.



H. G. Wells.

There are fish with mouths that shoot out like the lattice-work "ticklers" of our fairs and snatch unwary creatures; there are fish with lures to attract their prey within reach of the hungry jaws. The flying-fish have large, broad fins so that they can skim for a considerable distance through the air.

There are cylindrical fish, ribbon-like fish, globular fish; in the abyss there are fish more grotesque, more horrible than any mythological monster. There are fresh-water fish and salt-water fish, and there are some, like the salmon, that travel regularly to and fro between sea and river.

There are also fish that have structures very like lungs and that can, if they choose, breathe air. They are, so to speak, amphibious fish and they are found in tropical rivers subject to summer drought. Then they encase themselves in mud and lie breathing gently until the floods return.

3F. THE CYCLOSTOMES, A CLASS OF ANTIQUES

AND now we come to another group less numerous now than it was in the remote past, the Cyclostomes. Of this class only a few genera now survive. Once they seem to have been the only vertebrata in existence.

The living forms are the lampreys and the hag-fish or slime eels. They live some in fresh water and some in the sea. Their bodies are long and eel-like. They breathe by means of gills as a fish does.

But in a great number of respects they are extraordinary.

They have no trace of paired limbs, finny or otherwise; the skeletel supports of their gills are unlike those of any of the true fishes; they have only one middle nostril and only one nasal cavity; instead of three semi-circular canals in their ears which all other fishes possess they have one or two; in some species the hollow pituitary pouch of the brain opens into the roof of the mouth. But their most striking peculiarities are in the structure of the mouth itself.

They have no jaws and no proper teeth; instead of being a slit that can be open or shut, their mouth is a funnel that can be used as a sucker, and their tongues, armed with horny imitations of teeth, can be moved like a piston in the mouth-funnel.

They nourish themselves by attaching themselves to fishes by means of this sucker and rasping off the flesh with their tongues. They may even bore through to the abdominal cavity of their victim, punching a neat round hole in his body-wall as they do so.

The earliest known fossil vertebrates are certain heavily-armored fish-like forms more like these Cyclostomes than any other creature.

It has been shown that these, too, were jawless, and that they were built in the same sort of way as a lamprey or a hag-fish. Their method of feeding may have been different.

Apparently the lampreys and hag-fish are like the reptiles, the rare survivors of a once dominant aristocracy, but one enormously more ancient than that of the reptile world.

SEMI-VERTEBRATA.

THE animals that we have already considered share a common plan of organization. Their most evident distinctive feature is the possession of a backbone, a column of ring-like blocks of bone or gristle jointed together, running down the back and housing the spinal cord. Because of this vertebral colum the animals are called vertebrates. The group includes ourselves, our domestic animals, and all the largest and most conspicuous wild creatures; it is the most immediately striking and for practical purposes the most important phylum. Since they are less obstrusively important, all the animals that are not vertebrates are often lumped together as the invertebrates, although this negative group, including as it does a number of different phyla, is in reality a much more varied one than the single phylum of vertebrates.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Thoughts while strolling: The carbolic acid odor of a hospital street. Department store boys talking Park avenue. Antoinette Perry, once Warfield's leading lady. Now producing plays. Bishop Manning. A fat lady hails a taxi by whistling shrilly through her teeth.

Dr Menas Gregory, the Bellevue alienist. Bugs Baer is growing stout. The chauffeurs who stand in sullen groups about hotel entrances. W. A. Brady and his big cigar. Haberdashery sign: "We may have a shirt—like the one you lost!" Candy prices drop. Cole Porter who is responsible for the newest musical comedy hit.

Tullio Carminiti who once played with Duse. Those beefy fellows with lobster red necks who take sidewalk race horse bets. Movie banner: "We warn the audience before turning on the light." It costs 5 cents more a dish to eat at the Fifth Avenue automats. Isabel Patterson, the book critic.

That "Sez you, sez I" patter gives me a pain, sez I. The noble old theatrical Roman—Otis Skinner. And his daughter Cordelia. Clare Briggs, a Reedsville (Wis.) boy, who made good in the city. Ernest Glendenning looks something like Herbert Hoover.

What's become of the boy who used to call his father Pop? And his mother Mom? It takes an actor, somehow, to wear a dressing gown. Most of us look like something or other in an Old Mother Hubbard in them. The reporter who made Winsted Ct. famous exploiting faked stories.

Why are butchers usually so ruddy-cheeked? The Klaw Theater is now the Avon. A fresh water pearl in its shell in a jewelry shop window. Whatever happened to Jack Rose, the hairless gambler? The theatrical ticket speculators are not doing so well.

Frank V. Storrs, the play program millionaire. Who has a box at the opera and villas at Palm Beach and Cannes. Impossible to keep up with the new breed of dogs. All the bloods seem to be wearing brown. That sickly yellow haze of a wintry New York morning.

A hatless, shoeless and bewhiskered John the Baptist with flowing hair to his shoulders roams the Times Square district. He ventures into office buildings and accosts pedestrians along the street to inquire about their spiritual status. He departs with the throaty injunction: "Pray, brother, pray. The millenium is near!"

In a restaurant today I saw a young girl not more than 20, smoke, by actual count, 14 cigarets during the progress of her meal. She would stop after almost every bite to inhale a puff or so. My head spun just looking on.

The head waiter in the same cafe upset a familiar Scotch tradition. He pointed to a Scotsman who is one of the oldest customers of the place. "He is the most liberal spender and the most extravagant tipper who comes here," he said.

What is classed as Scotch miserliness is often a mere caprice, expressing itself in hoarding strings, rubber bands and letter clips and removing uncanceled stamps from letters.

My own streak of Scotch thrift is in seeing how many shaves I can squeeze out of a tube of shaving cream. In actual financial saving that would probably mount up to about 10 cents a year. And probably wastes $10 worth of time.

Every day or so another cherished illusion curls up. One of the toughest free-for-all scrappers among the dock wallopers of West street is known as "Cuth." His name is Cuthbert.

They were talking of proud moments. Mine was in Paris several years ago. The only French I knew was the address of the apartment where I was living: 21 Avenue Henri Martin. Walking along the Champs Elysees a lady motioned me to her carriage and asked in English if I would direct her French driver to 21 Avenue Henri Martin. I did and walked on—stepping from cloud to cloud.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

AS ONE of the older persons in your establishment you may ridicule the younger workers who are particular about their dress.

You think they pay too much attention to what they wear.

But the fact that you have become careless in dress may be reacting just now in a downward course for you.

You have less interest in yourself, what others think of you, and what you accomplish in your work, than you had formerly.

Naturally you have not the incentive to variety and excellence of your production if you have lost interest.

Each year you are more prone to ridicule youth, its forms of amusement, manner of dress and methods of work.

Youth of today is the product of present demands.

If you would make an effort to adopt some of these modern methods you might improve your work as well as your viewpoint.

Have pride in yourself and your work, increasing pride, not less of it.

Dress neatly and in good taste and become a part of today.

Constantly thinking of bygone days and ways of doing things is bound to react unfavorably by you.
